

WILSON AGAIN MAKES ATTACK ON J. A. REED

Former President Refers to U. S. Senator From Missouri as "Marplot"

WANTS ENEMY DEFEATED

Calls on Democrats to "Redeem Reputation of Party" at Primary

By Associated Press

St. Louis.—Referring to United States Senator James A. Reed as a "marplot" former President Wilson in a letter to former Governor L. V. Stephens asked the defeat of Missouri's senior senator to "redeem the reputation" of the democratic party.

It was Mr. Wilson's third letter on the race for the democratic nomination for U. S. Senator between Mr. Reed and Breckenridge Long, former third assistant secretary of state in the Wilson administration.

The letter was in reply to one by Mr. Stephens in which the former governor referred to a letter the former President recently wrote the St. Louis Globe Democrat attacking Reed. Mr. Reed replied to this letter in which he questioned Mr. Wilson's memory.

The letter, under date of April 27 to Mr. Stephens follows:

"My Dear Governor Stephens: Your letter of April 22 has gratified me. I am glad to be sustained in my own judgment of Reed by your own closer knowledge of him and I shall hope and confidently expect to see him repudiated by the democrats at the primaries. Certainly Missouri cannot afford to be represented by such a marplot and it might cheerfully see the enthusiasm of democrats throughout the country if their comrades in Missouri should not redeem the reputation of the party by substituting for Reed a man of the true breed of democratic principles. I am sure your own great influence will contribute to the desired and expected redemption.

Please accept assurances of my entire confidence in the Missouri democrats and believe, me, with best wishes.

"Sincerely Yours,

"Woodrow Wilson."

CHARGE ATTEMPT IS MADE TO DRIVE MAN FROM U. S.

Veteran Says He Is Persecuted
Because of Love for Senator's Daughter

Newark, N. J.—Alexander E. Robertson, British war veteran, was preparing Monday to gather evidence that private detectives had attempted to drive him from the United States because of his affection for the daughter of a United States Senator. This evidence he said, will be submitted before the British embassy officials Tuesday when he will seek the arrest of the men through federal warrants. He described how he had been forced to go to Boston by the men under threat of arrest on a charge of stealing valuables from the British-American war veterans association rooms and how he had returned to Bloomfield and caused the arrest of one of the detectives named Ellis.

"He didn't say anything about a senator until after Ellis was arraigned in court," Judge W. H. Rawson of Bloomfield said. "I knew about such connections with the case when Ellis told at Bloomfield police headquarters that a United States Senator was behind him and that Robertson and the senator's daughter were friends."

Detective Sergeant J. J. Huddy, who accompanied Robertson to the hotel where Ellis was arrested, described how Ellis called up the secretary of the senator in Washington.

After Ellis talked with this man in Washington, according to Huddy, James Nugent, New Jersey's democratic leader, who is practicing law here, got into touch with Ellis, told him to plead not guilty and give bail for grand jury action. Court records show that Ellis did this and was held in $3,000 bail which was furnished.

PRISONERS SHOT TO QUELL MUTINY

Columbia, S. C.—Several convicts in the South Carolina state penitentiary were shot Monday by prison guards in putting down a mutiny, according to Chief May of the city fire department who was called upon to aid the prison authorities. Chief May said that "between 10 and 12" prisoners were shot. The fire chief said the disorder started when a group of prisoners returning from lunch in the main dining room attacked the guards who were escorting them. The mutiny was put down in short order, he said. Later information confirmed the reports that a number of convicts had been wounded but it was said that none were fatally hurt. Between 300 and 400 prisoners were involved in the attempted uprising, it was said.

Madison High Students Open Purity Drive

By Associated Press

Madison.—A crusade against smoking, drinking and gambling is to be put under way this week by Madison high school girls, who are expected to emulate the example of the boys of the school starting a clean up of certain practices said to exist among a portion of the student body.

The girls Tuesday will vote on a resolution, the context of which has not been published, calling for a halt in the vices which they believe to be developing. Dean Catherine Mosely, is directing the crusade along the girls. Boys of the school Monday are deciding whether they will accept a form of self government, under which they plan to regulate conduct.

BOGAN ARRESTS 9 SPEEDERS; JUDGE MAY RAISE ANTE

Spencer Says He Will Double Fine if Reckless Driving is Continued

If reckless driving and speeding on public highways continues at the present rate, the fine for the first offense will be raised from $10 to $20, Judge A. M. Spencer threatened in municipal court Monday.

"If doubling the fine doesn't help," he said, "then I'll double it again."

"If that man can take my car and make 50 miles with it," cried Bert Van Abel of Little Chute, protesting the charge in municipal court Monday morning by Wilbur Bogan, county motorcycle officer, that he was speeding at the rate of 50 miles an hour.

Judge A. M. Spencer took the dare and directed Officer Bogan to make the test. Mr. Bogan said it was agreeable to him and started out in the prize. By this time Van Abel's nerve gave out, evidently, for he decided to pay the fine of $10 and costs rather than lose the automobile.

The limit for the first offense is $100, but the fine for the second offense is double that.

Nine persons were hauled in municipal court Monday charged with breaking the speed laws. All were the arrests of Wilbur Bogan, new county motorcycle officer. Six of the arrests were made Sunday two Saturday and one Friday. All were fined $10 and costs amounting to $20.

Those fined and the places where arrest was made are: Louis Dietz, Grand Chute; Milton Tausen, Grand Chute; George Eggleston, Grand Chute; Gilbert Brooks, Kaukauna; Elmer Krueger, Center; B. M. Lollich, Little Chute; Henry Chudacoff, Little Chute; Henry Van Hiden, Little Chute; Bert Van Abel, Little Chute.

MILLIONS SAVED FOR GOVERNMENT

Economy Results From Transfer of Surplus Material Between Departments

By Associated Press
Washington.—Ships and shoes and sealing wax—as well as muscigale, binding twine and miscellaneous groceries—figure in the $1,600,000,000 saving which Director Dawes of the budget bureau expects to pare from the gross expenditures of the government during 1922 as compared with those of 1921.

The detailed report was sent by President Harding to congress Monday.

In computing the economy resulting from the transfer of surplus material from one department to the other, Director Dawes is credited as saving only the difference between the market price and the forced sale price. Thus a quantity of steel washers and oil, transferred from the shipping board to the public printer, resulted in net estimated savings of exactly 14 cents. One army saddle sent from the ship board to the interior department saved $5.60 and a quantity of salt to the marine corps was credited with $11.97.

Several millions of dollars in ships transferred, figured in the report, ranging from launch number 4498, valued at $900, to others of the Ramapo and Sapelo types entered at $835,000 each. The replacement value of the others was estimated at $1,099,000 but Director Dawes held that they would only bring $464,000 at forced sale.

NEARLY 70,000 PERSONS HOMELESS IN FLOOD AREA

By Associated Press
New Orleans.—Approximately 70,000 men, women and children are homeless in Mississippi and Louisiana as a result of the Mississippi River flood and of this number 40,000 are being fed, sheltered and clothed by the Red Cross and other organizations. It was officially announced by various relief bodies. No provisions have been made to aid the 30,000 persons who have not reached the refugee camps, the statement said.

COURT RULING NOT BLOW AT LABOR BOARD

Government Will Not Appeal Decision of Judge to Higher Tribunal

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright, 1922, by Post Pub. Co.)

Washington.—Careful study of the decision of Judge Page in the federal courts of Chicago awarding a victory to the Pennsylvania railroad in its controversy with the United States Railroad Labor board has brought government lawyers to the conclusion that first impressions of the decision as circulated in the press were erroneous and that the verdict was by no means a blow at the railroad labor board.

In fact, it now is doubtful whether the government will appeal the case to a higher court. The reason is that close inspection of the decision reveals that the point decided is relatively not essential to the successful operation of the railway labor board in the future. On the other hand, the statement of Judge Page that the law creating the labor board is unconstitutional and that decisions of the board must be respected is considered of far more significance.

ROAD WINS POINT

The Pennsylvania railroad, incidentally won from its viewpoint an important point. The controversy arose over the attempt of the railroad labor board to prescribe rules and regulations whereby employees of the Pennsylvania would select their spokesmen or representatives for the so-called regional railway adjustment boards which have been provided for by law to settle disputes over wages, working hours and conditions. The Pennsylvania railroad argued successfully that the United States Railroad Board didn't have any right to tell any railroad or any workmen for a railroad how their respective spokesmen shall be selected.

There have been charges by railroad workers that when provision is made for the settlement of a dispute between "representatives of employers and employees," there is no way to make sure that the companies do not select friendly representatives or see to it that the hollering brings out spokesmen favorable to a company's cause. The United States Railroad Labor Board tried to overcome this difficulty by laying down an explicit set of instructions governing a secret ballot in the election of employees' representatives. The courts found that the Railroad Labor board wasn't granted any such right by the transportation act.

LAW PROVIDES CHECK

But it is a fact that the law does enable the railroad labor board to take jurisdiction over any dispute which is likely to interrupt the nation's commerce and there is a specific provision permitting the railroad labor board to decide a dispute if no conference between employees and employers has been held or if the conference disagrees. Indeed, even if so-called representatives of the workmen did agree to something which a large body of their fellow workmen who were organized in a union or unorganized didn't like, the United States Railroad Labor Board can take cognizance of the controversy on petition from any 100 workmen and thus get the case into its hands for decision. So, after all, even though the Pennsylvania railroad or any other carrier retains the right to prevent the United States Labor Board from interfering in the manner in which the employees pick their spokesmen, the law provides a check against misrepresentation. And that's why Judge Page's verdict on that point isn't considered essential.

Of much more importance to government lawyers continue the remarks of Judge Page on the general powers of the Railroad Labor Board. He said in part:

"I have reached the conclusion that it was the belief of congress that the results desired by the legislation could be attained through the force of public opinion and that that public opinion would follow the publication made . . . and would support the decisions of the board composed of men each of whom would have special knowledge of the difficulties within and the necessities of the group that he was chosen to represent."

HURL THREAT AT U. S. LEGATION

Bulgaria "Reds" Demand Release of Sacco and Vanzetti in Massachusetts

By Associated Press
Sofia, Bulgaria.—A threat to blow up the American legation here unless the United States brings about the release of Sacco and Vanzetti, communists under conviction for murder in Massachusetts has been received at the legation.

The threat is contained in an article in a clandestinely published anarchist newspaper which, encased in a red wrapper, was sent to the American minister, Charles S. Wilson. "The second bomb will not fail!" the article says, referring to the explosion of an infernal machine at the legation on March 11. The building is being watched day and night by special agents.

FIRST PICTURE ENTIRE RUSSIAN DELEGATION

First picture of the entire Russian delegation to the Genoa conference to reach the United States. Tchitcherin, chairman, is on the first step, center of photo.

FREEDOM MAN IS SAVED FROM DEATH BY APPLETON TRIO

George Randerson Plunged Into Swift Current When Bank Suddenly Gives Way

But for the valiant rescue efforts of three Appleton men, George Randerson, town of Freedom, would have drowned in Duck Creek Sunday. He was taken from a seemingly bottomless swirl unconscious and was confined to his bed until Monday morning. He appears to have suffered no ill effects from the escapade.

The rescuers were Joseph, Patrick J. and Celestine Garvey, 476 Cherry street. Joseph and Patrick Garvey were making with Mr. Randerson "aboard" the bank of Duck Creek in the town of Freedom Sunday afternoon, pointing out to each other some of the swimming holes they frequented as boys.

Mr. Randerson was just a trifle ahead of the others, who saw the soft earth suddenly given way beneath the man and he was drawn into a swift undercurrent. Reaching his helplessness, Joseph and Patrick Garvey, both good swimmers, attempted to reach Randerson, but were unsuccessful after each had gone down twice.

Celestine Garvey happened to arrive at the critical moment. He hastily obtained a pole and helped Joseph Garvey to safety. Patrick Garvey grasped the pole and placed one arm around the body of Randerson. The two men on the bank then succeeded in dragging the pair to safety. First aid treatment and medical aid was given Randerson and he regained consciousness in about 15 minutes.

IRON MINES BEGIN FULL TIME SHIFTS

Pits in Upper Michigan on Same Basis as Before Depression Period

By Associated Press
Ironwood, Mich.—An air of optimism prevailed in the iron mining districts of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan today when the mining properties of the Oliver Mining company on the Gogebic and Menominee ranges resumed operations on full time basis. The Davis and Furman mines in the Gogebic range also started operations this morning on a similar basis.

Approximately 5,000 men went to work this morning in the mines on the two ranges on a six day work basis. Heretofore they had been working on a part time basis. In the Gogebic range mines the men worked in two shifts, one shift working one week and the other the next week. In the Menominee range the men were working on a three day a week schedule. Resumption of these mines leaves but two iron mines, the Colby and the Ironton—on the inactive list. These mines are owned by the McKinney Steel company of Bessemer.

SEND RANGERS TO LYNCHING SCENE

By Associated Press
Austin, Texas.—Governor Neff Monday ordered two detachments of state rangers to be sent immediately to Fairfield, county seat of Freestone county, to prevent an uprising of negroes which Sheriff W. M. Mayo of Freestone county said was imminent. The sheriff requested the rangers in a message Monday morning. He said the negroes of the county are threatening to avenge the death of the three negroes who were burned at Kirvin Saturday morning.

Ellsworth Refuses To Give Records To New City Physician

Dr. H. E. Ellsworth and Dr. W. C. Felton Both Claim to be City's Health Officer—Mayor is Holding Ellsworth's Salary for April.

Who is Appleton's city physician? Friends of both Dr. H. E. Ellsworth, who held that office last year, and Dr. William C. Felton, who was elected by the common council last month, would like to know.

Dr. Ellsworth maintains that he is still the city health officer and has refused to turn over the records of his office to Dr. Felton, who, the mayor and members of the city council say is his legal successor. Dr. Ellsworth contests the election of Dr. Felton on the ground that the latter has not been a resident of Wisconsin for one year and cannot qualify for office.

Dr. Felton, on the other hand, declares he has an opinion of a prominent lawyer in Appleton to the effect that he has never changed his residence in all the years that he has lived in Wisconsin. Dr. Felton once left the state temporarily, but maintains that in so doing he still considered himself a resident of Wisconsin.

Dr. Ellsworth cannot qualify for the office of health officer," Dr. Ellsworth said Monday, "because he has not lived in the state a year. He has never been elected to that office. I am still the health officer by virtue of my appointment by the board of health May 2, 1921. I was elected for two years and my term does not expire until May 2, 1923. I received a legal opinion from the state board of health three days ago confirming my appointment. I expect another legal opinion from the attorney general in a few days. I don't know who the city physician is, but I do know that I am the city's health officer."

Mayor Henry Reuter was firm in his decision to withhold Dr. Ellsworth's salary for April pending his surrender of the public health records to Dr. Felton.

"If the common council wanted Dr. Ellsworth for the office, they would have elected him. Dr. Felton was the choice of the council and he has already received his commission, and is now functioning as the city physician. Dr. Ellsworth has no authority to withhold the records. That is a matter for the courts."

NO RECOGNITION OF MEXICO NEAR

By Associated Press
Washington.—The American government is standing unalterably for the guarantees requested of the Oregon regime in Mexico nearly a year ago and so far General Oregon and his advisers have given no definite assurances that the guarantees will be given in order to make formal recognition of their government possible.

Many intimations that the Mexican authorities might be favorably disposed toward the American request have reached the state department but officials here will not be satisfied with anything less than a formal pledge by the Oregon government itself. It was said at the state department that consequently the situation remained just where it was when the terms of recognition were submitted to Mexico City in June 1921.

PROMINENT JOLIET MAN KILLS FORMER SECRETARY

By Associated Press
Joliet, Ill.—Robert S. McRoberts, prominent citizen and owner of the Woodruff Inn, Joliet's largest hotel, shot and killed Miss Mabel Kerwin, formerly his secretary, and then killed himself Monday.

Genoa Conclave On Verge Of Break As Fifth Week Opens

PARK CAMPAIGN GETS OFF TO BIG START ON MONDAY

Workers Report 77 Subscriptions Aggregating $1,270
at First Luncheon

Seventy seven subscriptions amounting to $1,270 were turned in at the first of four report luncheons of the Northern Lakes park drive in the Venetian room of the Sherman house Monday noon. The workers declared they hardly had gotten a start over the weekend and expected the figures to swell considerably Tuesday. H. L. Bowlby gave the "pep" talk following the completion of reports. He urged every worker to do his best to obtain for Appleton its goal of $15,000 toward the $300,000 fund to be raised in the state for the park purchase. Dr. J. A. Holmes is to speak at the luncheon Tuesday noon. Workers who make up the soliciting teams to date include:

DIVISION A
Team No. 1—F. F. Wetengel, captain. C. W. Stribley, John Coppes, William Harwood.
No. 2—William Van Nortwick, captain. A. K. Ellis, C. L. Wiggins, D. O. Kinsman.
No. 3—H. H. Pelke, captain. B. J. Whalen, Walter Pannmann, C. E. Foreman, Ray E. Wain.
No. 4—E. W. Shannon, captain. William T. Lazar, William Timm, C. J. Prim.
No. 5—William Harrison, captain. Walter K. Miller, Henry Babcock.

DIVISION B
Team No. 6—M. A. Schaub, captain. E. A. Krause, J. E. McCabe, F. F. Koch, R. H. Pfund, H. C. Gelschov and W. C. Fish.
No. 7—H. L. Bowlby, captain. I. J. Cameron, E. E. Waltham, W. F. McGowan, Buy Marston.
No. 8—Frank Catlin, captain. F. P. Young, Lee C. Rasey, W. D. Schlafer.
No. 9—A. L. Wolf, captain. A. R. Eads, George R. Wetengel, David Bretschneider, Albert Ness, R. C. Sykes.

DIVISION C
Team No. 10—A. Jacobson, captain. Emil Court, W. H. Dean, Oscar Kunitz, Theodore Berg, J. A. DeBauer.
No. 11—High C. Connett, captain. H. L. Dawson, H. L. Davis, John H. Neller.
No. 12—William Fountain, captain. C. W. Zelle, Reuben Wallace.
No. 13—W. H. Zuehlke, captain. W. S. Ford, Dr. J. S. Reeve, Louis Freude, C. D. Thompson, Dr. H. K. Pratt.
No. 14—J. M. Balliet, captain. Grant Phillips.
No. 15—L. H. Keller, captain.

Those who predict a break up think it will take the form of adjournment. If the soviet republic which is expected within two days is unsatisfactory to the powers, these predict another note will be sent to the Russians embodying the powers minimum terms and giving the bolshevik a stated period for consideration and final reply.

ACCEPTANCE IMPOSSIBLE

The Russians may spring a surprise by returning a favorable answer to the present memorandum, but complete acceptance is improbable, and the bolshevik would hardly agree to amendment by France and Belgium. They already regard as one of the most drastic conditions laid down by the powers, as it compromises their political principal that all property be owned by the state.

France has announced through her spokesman M. Barthou, that she will not go on with the negotiations until the Russians give a categorical answer to the memorandum. A dilatory reply, one which means merely "play me for time" said M. Barthou, would bring the instant withdrawal of France. This would include refusal to consider the non-aggression pact proposed by Mr. Lloyd George as such a pact would be impossible unless there was an arrangement with Russia.

Meanwhile the Italian leaders continue their role of peacemakers and Foreign Minister Schanzer is devoting all of his attention to the problem of finding some formula which will satisfy the French and Belgians. Little hope is held out however, that this is possible, and Czechoslovakia is said to be leading the way in negotiating a separate economic accord with the bolshevik in lieu of the collective agreement which seems improbable of attainment.

INSTRUCTIONS FROM LENIN

Lenin's instructions to the Russian soviet government are reported to embody an emphatic order not to accept clause 1 of the allied memorandum which forbids bolshevistic propaganda abroad, virtually restricts Russia to her present boundaries and asks Russian neutrality between the Turks and the Greeks.

Lenin's contention is reported to be that this clause is an attempt upon Russian sovereignty, attempts to prevent Bessarabia from effecting a reunion with the Ukraine and seeks to interfere with the friendly relations with the Turkish nationalist government of Mustapha Kemal Pasha established by the Ankara treaty.

By Associated Press
Chicago.—The Standard Oil company of Indiana Monday announced a one cent a gallon increase in the price of gasoline, making the average price 22 to 24 cents. The increase followed a similar one made Saturday by the Sinclair Oil company. Standard Oil officials here said they believed that every company would make a one cent increase.

The Standard Oil company of New Jersey and the Sinclair Oil and Refining company Monday announced an increase of 10 cents a barrel in the price of bunker oil. The new price is $1.28 1/2 a barrel.

40,000
READERS
DAILY

INTEREST GROWS IN CAMPAIGN TO BUY NORTH PARK

Dangerous to Postpone Campaign, Director Says—Park Has Big Appeal

Every prospective subscriber to the campaign to raise $15,000 in Appleton as its share in the movement to purchase Northern Lakes park has received an automobile windshield label bearing the word, "Save a bit of old Wisconsin." Automobiles displaying these labels are being seen on the streets in ever increasing numbers. It is expected that in a few days more there will be few cars that are not advertising the project. Reports being received at campaign headquarters are that a number of people who once were indifferent to the park idea have now promised to support it with liberal contributions. An impression that prevails in some quarters that it might be advisable to delay the campaign and approach the legislature again for an appropriation, which it was unsuccessful in granting, was corrected by a director of the campaign Saturday. It was pointed out first that delay meant certain disposal of the park site to private lumbering interests, and secondly that the two states that have the best park system, California and New York, raised most of the money for their state parks by popular subscription. New York acquired its park system entirely by voluntary subscriptions. It was said. Accumulation of rentals on camp and cottage sites have been enough to buy 200,000 additional acres of park area. New York has already 2,000,000 acres of state parks. Although Wisconsin already has several state parks, most of these are valuable only for their historic and scenic interest or for their beautiful geological formations. It was brought out by the same director. A pressing reason for the purchase of the Northern Lakes park, he said, is that none of Wisconsin's present state parks are in the forest-lake regions. Northern Lakes park, with its rare combinations of lakes, rivers and forests, makes an especially strong appeal.

Wife's "Summer Diets" Don't Please Husbands

Restaurant Owners Report Increase in "Heavy" Lunches in Warm Weather

So you men really never have learned to like salads and be satisfied with summer diet of vegetables, and cold food even though the weather be blistering hot? It is a shame, too, that you have kept your terrible hunger secret from your wives all these years only to have a mere reporter get to asking questions of restaurant men and have it all come out.

"It's a queer thing," said Claude Snider as he sat at the desk in his new restaurant on College-ave., "but the warmer the weather, the bigger business we do in steaks and heavy meals. I have tried to figure it out for several years. This is my conclusion although it may not be a correct one: Women believe that summer time is no time for heavy meals and so they put this husbands on a summer diet. But the men get hungry and so order heavy food for their lunches to make up for what they miss at dinner at night."

TOO EARLY FOR ICES
The real thing that the reporter was after was the fact that as soon as warm weather sets in, iced tea, salads and ice cream become the general order rather than heavy food. Restaurant owners claim that most women take to this diet readily but not so early as the latter part of April or the first of May.

"It's a bit early for iced tea, although we do have a few like yourself who have it made to order," said a waitress at the Sherman office shop. In the summer, we have to keep a big jar of iced tea all the time. The first change in diet that we notice about this time of year is the increase in club sandwich orders. A little later people begin to eat sandwiches, salads and ice cream. We continue to have many regular lunches, however."

"As soon as we put fresh vegetables, strawberry short cake and such things on our counters," said a waiter at the Baltimore lunch, "people begin to eat them and not so many of their old winter standbys. Vegetable salads and fruits go big as early in the season as we can get them."

The consensus of opinion in other restaurants was that women eat more "summery" foods and like dainty things. That the average man thinks little about his diet except when he is under doctor's orders is evident from the amount and kind of food which he orders at all times—and, horrid thought, the men seem to be healthier too, according to the waitresses.

HAVE CHANGE READY FOR RURAL CARRIERS

The suggestion that rural patrons applying for money orders have the proper change is the rural mail carriers' supplement to the many suggestions offered during postal improvement week, now closed, in the way of improving the postal service. The carriers do not carry a large amount of change, they said, and the failure to make correct change cause delay and trouble.

Furniture in Ditch
Appleton people who visited Fond du Lac Sunday observed a motor truck load of furniture in the ditch where it had been dumped when the driver lost control of the machine. The motor truck was on its side.

ELITE-Today DUSTIN FARNUM — IN — IRON TO GOLD

AND BUSTER KEATON in "HARD LUCK"

25c

25c

ELITE 3 DAYS STARTING TOMORROW

Remember the joy of these Penrod-pepisodes!

"The Pageant of the Table Round," "The Evil of Drink," "School," "Soaring," "The Cottillion," "The Big Show," "The New Star," "Tar," "The Circus" and all the others you roared over in Booth Tarkington's stories. Now see them all in one big feature.

PRESENTS
"PENROD"

WITH

8 REELS Freckles Barry

MATINEE
25c

First National Attraction

EVENINGS
30c

THE STAGE

"Ten Nights in a Bar Room"

Majestic Theatre

This is the old-time theatre of a great play and of a great novel, but it is modern in treatment—so modern that you might think it to have been produced to promote the cause of prohibition. The action might have occurred has no more to do with the inception of the screen production than the on-footing of a newly wedded man to his mother-in-law, or the laws of gravitation. The action might have occurred within the past few years, and probably did occur, for it is certainly true to recent life.

The picture is filled with action. The scenes are of great beauty and splendor. John Lowell plays the part of Joe Morgan and does it for all he is worth. He is one of the most robust actors on the screen. Fanny his wife, is played by Neil Clark Keller.

NEW MACHINE COMPANY IS INCORPORATED HERE

Articles of organization have been filed by Kools Manufacturing company in the office of the secretary of state and recorded in the register. The company was organized for the purpose of manufacture of machine and appliances. The capital stock is listed at $25,000. Incorporators are Edward Kools, Frank Kools and M. Kools, all of Appleton.

Move This Month
Meyer-Seeger Music Co. expects to occupy their new quarters at 816 College-ave. about the middle of May. The new front and entrance are completed and the finishing touches are being put on the interior.

End Devotional Service
The Rt. Rev. Mgr. P. J. Lochman of Kaukauna was celebrant at the closing of the forty hours devotional service at St. Mary church on Sunday evening. The speaker of the evening was Father Gross of Oshkosh.

Discuss Building Plans
The board meeting of the Methodist church will take place Monday evening to discuss plans for the new church. William J. Smith of Chicago will be present at the meeting to exhibit drawings and to tell the board what it will be able to do.

The Weather

FORECAST FOR APPLETON

(By Schläfer Cycle-Stereograph)

Cloudy and warmer followed by unsettled.

FORECAST FOR WISCONSIN

(Official)

Showers tonight and Tuesday. Not much change in temperature.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

Mostly cloudy weather prevails over country this morning. Temperature changes have not been important.

TEMPERATURES

	Yesterday's	Highest.	Lowest.
Chicago	56	54	42
Duluth	52	42	30
Galveston	82	74	60
Kansas City	56	50	34
St. Louis	72	58	44
St. Paul	48	34	20
Seattle	48	34	20
Washington	82	68	54
Winnipeg	68	54	40

MAJESTIC NOW SHOWING

The Greatest Heart Interest Drama the World Has Ever Known

"TEN NIGHTS IN A BAR ROOM"

THE MOST SENSATIONAL SUCCESS EVER SEEN IN APPLETON

The Play
Has Lived
Sixty Years

See

The Great Log Jam
The Fight for Life in the Rapids
The Burning of the Inn

The Picture
Will Live Forever

NOW SHOWING

Matinee 2 o'clock, full show up to 3:15 10c TAX INC. 25c EVENING SHOWS 7:00 and 8:30 15c TAX INC. 30c

Mats.
2 to 5
Eves.
6:45 to 11

FISCHER'S
APPLETON

Main Floor
33c
Balcony
25c
Children
10c

BACK AGAIN BY SPECIAL DEMAND The Pennant Winning Battery Of Song Land SCOTT & WOODS

Remember their big hit in a recent Sunday vaudeville show? Here they are with new songs and voices that charm.

They Bat 1,000 In The League Of Melody

THE CIRCUS IS HERE IN ALL ITS SCREEN GLORY—COME SEE

"LOVE'S BOOMERANG"

WITH ANN FORREST
AND DAVID POWELL
A John S. Robertson Production

a Paramount Picture

THE joyful blare of a circus. The tender appeal of a vagabond love tale. Staged in a rat-a-tat-tat of thrills and rising into one of the greatest heart-dramas that ever won your smiles and tears.

A picture that sweeps past the view like a shining parade of all of life's romance! Come and be happy while it goes by!

OTHER FEATURES

APPLETON

THURS-FRI.
SAT.
MAY 11-12-13

America's Sweetheart in a Charming Tale of Youth and Mother Love—

MARY PICKFORD

As "Dearest" and "Cedric" in

"Little Lord Fauntleroy"

From the Story By FRANCES HOGSDON BURNETT

3 TIMES DAILY
2:30-6:45-8:45

PRICES
MAT. 33c-28c
EVE. 44c-33c
CHILDREN 15c

SEATS NOT RESERVED

FARMERS PLEASED WITH SUGGESTION FOR FARM COURSE

State Expert's Recommendation for Farming Studies Approved in Country

Farmers of Outagamie co are highly pleased over the suggestion of Thomas Lloyd Jones, chairman of the committee on coordination of high schools relation of the University of Wisconsin, urging a course of agriculture in the Appleton high school.

Mr. Lloyd is a member of the state survey committee that made its report on the school situation in Appleton last Monday. If the city accepts the school program as proposed by the committee, favoring erection of two junior high schools and remodeling the present high school, will be perfectly satisfactory to the farmers they say.

The course advocated by Mr. Lloyd would be placed on a scientific practical basis, and science combined with practice in agriculture is what the farmers desire to have their sons acquire, it was said. They feel that this branch has been too long neglected.

NAME HACKWORTHY RELIANCE TRUSTEE

Creditors of the bankrupt Reliance Motor Truck company named Charles Hackworthy trustee at a meeting in the office of F. S. Bradford referee Saturday afternoon. A brief examination of A. G. Brusewitz, president of the company, was conducted by David Pogue, Portage, attorney for one of the creditors. There was a large attendance of stockholders and others.

TWO AUTOS DAMAGED IN COLLISION SATURDAY

An automobile collision on the corner of Second and Locust streets Saturday afternoon resulted in considerable damages to both machines. William Koslitzke driver of the parcel post truck was driving on Locust street and was about to make a right turn onto Second street when he collided with the fender and axle and breaking a headlight on M. L. Lave's car, and bending the fenders on the parcel post truck.

Both men escaped without injury to themselves.

PAIR ARRESTED SATURDAY FINED FOR DRUNKENNESS

Two persons were fined by Judge A. M. Spencer in municipal court Monday morning for drunkenness. They were Max Fisch of Indiana and Olive Kern of this city, who were arrested on College avenue Saturday night by Mrs. Mildred H. Gardner, policeman and Detective John Duvall. Fisch was fined $4 and costs, or 72 hours in jail, and Olive Kern was fined $5 and costs, amounting in all to $9.45.

Want Bridge Plans

The Wisconsin highway commission in a letter directed to Oscar F. Wiesengraber, city engineer, has asked again for the plans and profiles on two proposed crossings over the Fox river. It asks this information in connection with the new bridge hearing that has been set here for May 19.

Hail at Hilbert

Hailstones of enormous size fell in the vicinity of Hilbert Saturday afternoon. In some places the ice particles were nearly half as large as hens' eggs and were as thick on the ground that they could be shoveled up.

Auto on Rampage

A touring car owned by Dr. A. Baker of Antigo, was caught in the wind in front of the Gloudeemann Gage Co. store and was swept east on College avenue Saturday afternoon. It mounted the sidewalk in front of Hofensperger Bros' meat market and was headed for one of the windows when observed by Frank Slatery who set the emergency brake.

Collides With Pole

Due either to carelessness on the part of the driver or to defective steering apparatus, a touring car said to be from Green Bay collided with a telephone pole near Joseph Duett's residence on trunk line 15 at Kimberly Sunday afternoon and buried itself in the mud. It was filled with passengers none of whom was injured. A motortruck pulled it back on the concrete pavement.

BIRTHS

A son was born Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. William Mueller, 1078 Richmond st.

KEEP APPLETON CLEAN

There are some mighty fine suggestions on Pages 12 and 13.

Wm. Meltz will open his Parking Grounds to the public May 10th. Admission 25 cents.

Rummage Sale in basement at City Hall, 9 A. M. Tuesday. Mu Phi Epsilon Sorority.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

MATHILDE AND HER WHITE HORSE

Mathilde McCormick deserts her so real mount at Hot Springs, Va., for a white charger. Love of horses is a strong bond between her and her fiancé, Max Osei, the middle-aged Swiss riding master.

Fire Pension Fund Enriched By $2,594.12

Fred Bachman, city treasurer, received the 1922 check for the firemen's pension fund from the office of the state commissioner of insurance Saturday. This year's check amounted to $2,594.12 as compared with $2,267.93 of last year. This is an indication that the insurance premiums paid in Appleton last year exceeded those of the preceding year. The pension fund receives 3 per cent of all premiums paid.

FORESTERS WILL HOLD MEETING TUESDAY NIGHT

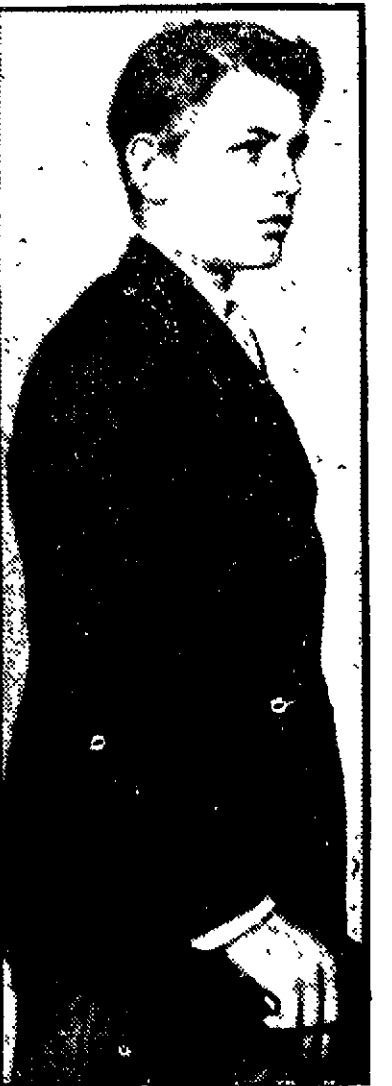

The Appleton court No. 132 Catholic Order of the Foresters will hold its regular meeting in Forester home Tuesday night.

The Foresters' Schafkopf tournament which began April 22 and was to close Sunday, May 7, has been extended two weeks in response to the requests of many of the members. This to give the members additional time in which to give their home card parties. The tournament will close May 21 when the 25 highest scores will be given prizes.

REALTY TRANSFERS

Charles A. Pader, Jr. to L. O. Hansen, lot in the First ward, Appleton, consideration private.

Manley Stigum to Emil A. Walther, part of block 19, Third ward Appleton; consideration private.

VICTOR JANCULOVICH, 16, was arraigned in court at Jamaica, Long Island, on a charge of killing Jacob Kabitz, 16, in a rifle duel. Police are investigating charges that the affair was over a girl. The boys got behind barricades and shot at each other until Kabitz was killed.

MOSCOW CITY OF SLUSH AND SLIME

Sanitary Condition of Place Almost Unimaginable to Strangers

By Associated Press

Moscow—The shielding blanket of snow has left Moscow and revealed a city of mud and slush and unrepaired, crattered pavements like a battlefield pockmarked by shell holes and the city stands out in all its revolting ugliness.

Droshkies, or Russian cabs drawn by disconsolate looking horses, career from melting ole billock to slushy streets, joggling their passengers like a bumping device in an amusement park. Here and there is a sleigh, a hopeless relic from the more charitable days of winter, drags painfully from bare pavement to slushy canvas with a load of wood.

Automobiles which seem recklessly driven by hard faced chauffeurs, splutter chug and whir and throw muddy water over pedestrians and droshky passengers alike.

To the stranger Moscow seems to be the place designed as the Jades where all had automobiles go when they die. There are a few good, new models but for the most part, the touring cars, runabouts and lorries generally laden with roughly dressed Soviet officials or Red Army officers, are of pre-1914 vintage, one judders like a scaphopod, coughing had gasoline and pouring out smoke barges of oil fumes.

The sanitary condition of the city is almost unimaginable to western strangers. As report of the Moscow Soviet recently said there were millions of barrels of refuse and sewage in the dump yards, unable to be moved because of the transport shortage.

Less than 30 percent of Moscow's houses have complete sewage and running water facilities and many drain pipes are so blocked with the refuse of years that they are useless.

Some efforts are to be made this coming summer toward sewage repair and here and there, the city's dirtiness is being relieved by a bit of paint as private shopkeepers touch up their new establishments.

ROTARY DIRECTORS TO HOLD MEETING TONIGHT

Directors of the Rotary club will hold their monthly business meeting and dinner in the Sherman house Monday evening. Matters concerning the new constitution will be discussed and lists of standing committees completed.

The music committee, of which W. S. Ford is chairman, will have charge of the program at the weekly luncheon Tuesday noon in the Sherman house.

PERSONALS

Among the relatives who attended the funeral of Joseph Spitz Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ohlman, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Spitz and M. Spitz of Chicago. They returned home Friday night and while in Appleton were guests in the family of L. E. Sugerman, 647 Drew st.

Frank Tesch of Chilton, spent Friday with his brother, William Tesch.

There's a Timely Message on Cleanliness and Home Appearance on Pages 12 and 13. Read it.

BAD WEATHER SPOILS FORESTRY BOYS TRIP

Youngsters Get as Far as Green Bay When Threatening Clouds Force Halt

Inclement weather prevented the Lincoln school Forestry club from taking its scheduled trip to the state park near Sturgeon Bay Saturday. The party got as far as Green Bay when the threatening clouds caused them to stop. A telephone call to the park resulted in the information that continued rain in that section had made the grounds quite wet and that it would be difficult to do much in the way of observation.

A visit of a few hours at the reformatory was interesting and profitable to the younger members of the group. The Superintendent of the institution emphasized that most of the boys confined there lacked education. He also said that 85 per cent of the boys who left the place made good because they had been taught the things that make them good citizens. The fair grounds at DePue furnished a place for the outdoor breakfast. The party returned to Appleton about 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon and camped at Alcona park where dinner was prepared. The group included E. A. Schmalz, Ben J. Rohan, Guy Barlow, Arthur Muenster, Wilder and Sterling Schmalz, Robert Mitchell, Robert Moore, Lawrence Christen.

DELINQUENT TAX LIST IS LARGE

Madison—Properties valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars will be sold in Wisconsin this year to meet delinquent tax payments, the tax commission estimates. Great amounts of real estate particularly in the northern section of Wisconsin will be auctioned by taxing authorities to provide for the assessment against it.

The real estate taking situation is said to be more serious than at any time in the history of the state. Non-resident owners in some parts of Wisconsin are reported by T. E. Lyons, chairman of the commission to be particularly hard hit by the heavy burdens imposed upon land. Some districts are reported to have discontinued against the non-resident property holders.

No remedy to meet the present problem was provided by the last legislature according to the commission. Only by reassessment a costly and involved process bound to create antagonism can the state give relief. Even then the commission says, much of the property would have to be disposed of to meet the tax payments.

Where fifty years ago large lumber companies were cutting timber and permitting their holdings to revert to the state rather than meet assessments on the cut over pioneer small farmers are now being forced in some instances to allow their same land now divided into small farms to be disposed of from the auction block in order to provide tax funds.

It is pointed out by the commission that the owners are given three years to redeem their property by paying interest on the tax certificates issued against it, when disposed of by tax authorities. Large amounts of property are expected to be recovered through this process, providing the next legislature extends some means of relief to property holders.

The state tax commission has no authority over the real estate fixing situation, unless appeal is made to it by local property holders calling for reassessment. Recently Douglas county made such an appeal, and a rearrangement of property values is undertaken by the commission. This relief is said to be afforded by reassessment to only a few hard owners while the great number can be affected only by a reduction in property taxes, which at the present time are at their highest point. The general tightness of money is also given as a cause since property owners have often been unable to borrow to meet their taxes.

The tax problem is expected to receive serious consideration by the 1923 legislature which will be asked to provide some sort of relief of real estate owners of Wisconsin.

Says Appleton Has Been Raised From The Dead

Appleton was paid a compliment when Dan Weigle, Green Bay, former secretary of the chamber of commerce of St. Paul, Minn. informed Secretary Hugh G. Corbett of the local chamber that he was amazed at the wonderful change the city has experienced.

"I came here when the city first was thinking of organizing a chamber of commerce," said Mr. Weigle, "and I want to say I am impressed with the new life shown here. The spirit of enterprise is here. The town has been raised from the dead."

Mr. and Mrs. Weigle spent Sunday with friends here.

TREVER IS THIRD IN SPEAKING CONTEST

Karl Trever of Lawrence college was awarded third place in the inter-state oratorical contest which took place at Northwestern university Friday evening. The first place was a tie between the representatives of Indiana and Ohio, while second place went to the representative of South Dakota. Mr. Trever was awarded first place at the sectional contest in won first in the final contest. The Indiana over the Indiana man who judges of which there were seven included five men from the oratory department of Northwestern university, four of whom ranked the Lawrence man as fourth.

WELLER CONFIRMS CLASS HERE SUNDAY

"Now is Christ risen from the dead" was the text of the sermon given by the Rt. Rev. Bishop R. J. Weller of Fond du Lac at All Saints' Episcopal church on Sunday evening. Bishop Weller confirmed a class of candidates Sunday evening. Before his formal sermon he talked to the class on the necessity and help of the sacraments. No reception was held for the bishop and the class since the new dining hall of the church is not yet completed. The confirmation class will make its first communion on May 21 after which breakfast will be served in the new hall.

New Department

A department in upholstery has been established in Appleton vocational school in connection with the work in cabinet making. One day a week will be devoted to the work. Students in the cabinet making department will be eligible.

AIDS POLICE

Miss Helen Boyd McFee helped Los Angeles authorities recover considerable money after her father, William McFee, aged watchman, was charged with taking $80,000 from the Farmers and Merchants National Bank in order that he might lavish her with clothes and jewels. McFee is accused of having also turned over large amounts to other women.

Mother's Day Sunday May 14th

Roses, Carnations, Sweet Peas, Peonies, Snap-dragon. Special Gift Boxes $2.00 and up.

We are bonded members of the Flourists' Telegraph Association and can telegraph your orders anywhere in a few hours' time.

QUALITY AND SERVICE OUR MOTTO

Junction Green House

PHONE 39R

75 RETAILERS TO BE HERE TUESDAY

Approximately 75 retail dry goods merchants will be here Tuesday to attend a conference of the Fox river valley district of Wisconsin Retail Dry Goods association. There will be a round table discussion in the afternoon in the French room of the Sherman house, and a banquet in the evening, with a special speaker, J. D. Steele, president of Pettibone Peabody company, will be toastmaster.

SECOND BAND CONCERT TO BE HELD TONIGHT

Large numbers of Appleton Appleton people are planning to attend the second band concert of the 121st Artillery band at Lawrence Memorial chapel 8:20 Monday evening. The program will begin promptly and the band will be opened early for those who wish to procure good seats.

MISS MARGUERITE K. O'LEARY, of Reading, Pa., who says she has gained eight pounds and can hardly find words to express her praise for Tanlac for the good the medicine did her.

"I am so happy over what Tanlac has done for me I can hardly find words to express my praise," said Miss Marguerite K. O'Leary, who lives with her parents at 1221 Chestnut St. Reading, Pa. "I wasn't exactly what would be called sick but for a year I had been all run down and sometimes felt so weak and miserable I could hardly hold up my head. I was so nervous the telephone bell or a door closing would startle me so I would tremble like a leaf."

I needed something to build me up and give me strength and energy and that is exactly what Tanlac did. It gave me a fine appetite and improved my digestion. I gained eight pounds the color came back to my face, my nerves became normal and I soon felt as well as I ever did in my life. It is simply wonderful that medicine could make such a big change in my one. My friends and neighbors are surprised when they see me a different person. Tanlac is grand and I never intend to miss a chance to say a good word about it."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

LEGAL NOTICES

STATE OF WISCONSIN, County of Outagamie.

In the matter of the estate of John P. Rowe, deceased—IN PROBATE.

Notice is hereby given that in this matter by the county court for Outagamie County on the 23rd day of April, 1922.

Notice is hereby given that it is a regular term of said court to be held at the court house in the city of Appleton in said county on the 1st Tuesday being the 6th day of June 1922 at the opening of the court on that day, in as soon thereafter as the same can be, will be heard and considered the petition of Louise R. Conkey for proof and probate of the alleged will and testament of John P. Rowe late of said county deceased and for letters testamentary to be issued to P. M. Conkey, and.

Notice is hereby also given that all claims for allowance against said decedent or on before the 31st day of August, 1922, must be presented to said court 1922, which is the time limited therefor, or be forever barred and.

Notice is hereby also given that at a regular term of said court to be held at the court house aforesaid, on the first Tuesday, being the 5th day of September 1922 at the opening of the court on that day, or as soon thereafter as the same can be, will be heard, examined and adjusted all claims against said deceased then presented to the court.

Provided that all claims for necessary funeral expenses, expenses for the last sickness of said deceased and for debts having a preference under the laws of the United States, which shall have been presented to said court within sixty days from the date of said order, will be heard, examined and adjusted at a special term of said court to be held at the court house aforesaid on the 1st Tuesday, being the 4th day of July 1922, at the opening of the court on that day or as soon thereafter as the same can be heard.

Dated April 29th 1922.

By order of the Court,

JOHN BOTTENSK, County Judge.

C. G. CANNON, Attorney for Executor.

May 13 1922

WIS. ST. PATENTS

SOME DAY You may have occasion to ask your Banker for a LOAN. This is what he will ask: "How Much Life Insurance Do You Carry?" MCGOWAN & BAKER will tell you how to establish your credit thru: THE NEW YORK LIFE

PHILADELPHIA DIAMOND GRID BATTERY Langstadt-Meyer Co.

Good Evening! GLOUDEMANS -GAGE CO.

On Sale 8 to 11 A. M. TUESDAY ONLY

"Sunrise Specials" are sold at reduced prices, to encourage early morning shopping, therefore, No Phone or Mail Orders Filled

35c Garden Rakes Straight brace Shank 5 foot handle, 1 foot blade value Tuesday 8 to 11 a. m. only. —Basement— 19c

$1 Oil Mops O'Leary Mops for cleaning and polishing hard wood floors. Can be washed and renewed. 54 inch handle. —Basement— 69c

50c Furniture Polish Removes dirt and grease, polish as well as it cleans, to beautiful lustre for pianos and furniture, a quart. —Basement— 39c

50c Floor Wax Melba brand used on floors, autos, woodwork, high grade furniture, and in all cases, 16 oz. can, 50c value. —Basement— 39c

Sherbet Glasses Colonial paneled style highly polished glass, 3 in. tall and priced at a saving Tuesday, 8 to 11 a. m., each. —Basement— 10c

Can of Pumpkin White Lily brand, the kind you know and like, makes fine pies, yum, yum, great big can Tuesday morning. —Main Floor— 9c

Can of Hominy This is also the famous White Lily brand, packed in clean, sanitary factory. Tuesday 8 to 11 a. m. only, can. —Main Floor— 8c

3.39 Ruffled Curtains Made of sheer, fine voile with pivot edge. A good value at the regular price— 3.39 a pair, Special a pair. —Second Floor— 2.25

75c Drapery Cretonne Special lot of pretty Cretonnes, all colors, various good patterns, 50c, 60c, and 75c values, special per yard. —Second Floor— 39c

2.98 Curtains, Pair Fine Marquisette Curtains, with lace insertion and lace edge. Regular 2.98 values, special per pair at. —Second Floor— 1.25

85c Silk Hosiery Women's True Shape fine Silk Hose, Black, Cream, and Seal. Brown first quality, not seconds per pair. —Main Floor— 59c

95c Bloomer Satine Fine mercerized quality, with narrow stripes 36 in. lightweight, satin finish. Fresh, Orchid, Navy, Green, Purple, per yard at. —Main Floor— 69c

98c Ivory Combs Women's Dressing Combs, Ivory, Dressing, and fine teeth. Special at. —Main Floor— 69c

Shopping Bags Size 17 by 18 inches, made of imitation leather, black only, on sale Tuesday morning reduced to. —Main Floor— 27c

Unbleached Sheeting A yard wide soft muslin free from dressing, made of regular low price 12 1/2c a yard Tuesday morning, 3 yd. —Main Floor— 10c

Bleached Sheeting Yard wide with special combed finish, our regular price is 12 1/2c a yard Tuesday morning, 3 yd. —Main Floor— 12c

95c Kimono Silks Yard wide Oriental design, all popular colors, our own good 95c quality. Tuesday morning 3 yd. —Main Floor— 69c

1.79 Vesting, Yard Tropic Vesting, yard wide, in flesh only, drop stitch tubular style, so desirable for fine lingerie, per yard. —Main Floor— 1.29

Infants' 4.50 Capes with Bonnets, daintily embroidered in silk and scalloped all around special. —Second Floor— 3.19

1.25 Rompers Children's Peggy Rompers, plain or checked gingham, cuffs, and Minnie Line collar trimmed in contrast 1 to 5 years. —Second Floor— 88c

4.75 Bed Spreads Hemmed and scalloped wonderful designs, size 77 by 88 inches, on sale Tuesday morning only at. —Second Floor— 3.37

9.75 Auto Robes Plaid and brown or gray mixtures, 3 yd. fringe 12 x 18 heavy quality, and made of purest wool, special at. —Second Floor— 7.35

98c Work Shirts Plain blue, also a few dark stripes full cut and 100% cotton, on sale Tuesday morning only at. —Main Floor— 69c

Men's 1.19 Dress Shirts With collars attached and percales, our own good 1.19 seller on sale Tuesday morning only each. —Main Floor— 89c

APPLETON POST-CRESCENT

VOL. 38, No. 282.
PUBLISHED DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY, BY THE POST PUBLISHING COMPANY,
APPLETON, WIS.

JOHN K. KLINE President
A. B. TURNBULL Secretary-Treasurer
H. L. DAVIS Business Manager
ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT APPLETON, WIS., AS SECOND CLASS MATTER

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
THE APPLETON POST-CRESCENT is delivered by carrier to city and suburban subscribers for fifteen cents a week, or $7.50 a year in advance. By mail, one month, 65c; three months $1.95; six months $2.50; one year $4.00 in advance.

FOREIGN ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVES
G. LOGAN PAYNE CO.
Chicago Detroit
PAYNE, BURNS & SMITH, INC.
NEW YORK BOSTON

MEMBERS OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The A. P. is exclusively entitled to the use of reproduction of all news credited to it or not other wise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

Circulation Guaranteed
Audit Bureau of Circulation

COAL FUNDAMENTALS

With the government taking up the fundamental problems of the coal industry, there is a chance that something of public value may come out of the coal strike, after all. Plans are said to be under way for the stabilization of the coal business, providing for continuous operation of the mines and regular employment of the miners instead of the present feast-or-famine arrangement into which the industry has drifted.

The suggestions made by Representative Bland the other day, in a speech in congress, sound promising. He would have a scientific study of the industry made, to provide data for congress to act on. He would attack one of the main problems, that of seasonal production, by making the railroads, which use one-third of the coal produced, store their year's supply in the summer, and encouraging the public to do likewise by making a lower summer freight rate on coal.

There would still remain the problem of one-third too many miners. Could that be taken care of by exporting more coal? Or must mines be shut down to order and miners systematically shifted to other work?

FEDERAL BLUE SKY LAW

Uncle Sam is now helping with blue sky legislation. The Denison bill, intended to help the states enforce their own laws against fraudulent securities, passed the house the other day and is expected to pass the senate soon. Heretofore the state governments have been hampered by the fact that investment crooks operated largely through the mails, over which the states have no control. The new law will forbid the use by stock fakery of the mails and other agencies of interstate commerce.

Even this will not completely stop the flood of worthless securities nor protect the public from the sharks. There is only one final and complete remedy, and that is the refusal of the public to "bite." Some over-credulous investors never seem to learn the elementary principles of caution. Some deliberately take a chance. And there is always a new crop of "suckers" growing up. If present educational work continues, however, the percentage of suckers in the next generation will be smaller.

FATALITIES ON THE RAILROADS

There were 192 accidental mortalities on railroads in 1920, and the safety section of the American Railway association, which issues the statistics, says that 128 of the total, or seventy per cent, were the fault, in whole or part, of the passengers themselves. Sixty-four persons were struck or run over, twenty-eight killed in falls from coach steps, eighteen by falls from moving trains, and ten jumping from trains.

Carelessness is the cause of most accidents. People take risks everywhere. To save a minute, or to hurry when hurry is unnecessary, or to do some foolhardy thing, they risk their lives. Carefulness is the best preventive of accidental injury or death. Carelessness used to be more chargeable to the railways. Today it is the public. Considering the millions of passengers carried the number of accidents in which the carrier is to blame is infinitesimal.

FORESTS FOR FRUIT BOXES

The government has just sold a billion feet of timber, in the Lassen National forest, to the California Fruit Growers' exchange. This is a striking evidence of the importance of the fruit industry in California. Nearly all of the lumber is to be used for boxes to ship citrus fruits.

Here is an eye-opener for eastern fruit growers.

The fact will not be overlooked that the citrus fruit industry has grown to its present scope and prosperity because it is organized. The people in it pool their knowledge, standardize their products and methods of cultivation and buy and sell together.

No less significant is the way the big timber tract is to be handled. Only 70 per cent of the standing timber will be cut. The rest, consisting of young and thrifty trees, will be carefully saved and guarded to form the forests of the future. Brush and debris will be piled and burned to reduce the fire danger. The terms of sale provide a definite plan whereby there will be a perpetual yield of lumber for the marketing of California's oranges and lemons.

Eventually, perhaps, all our agricultural industries and all our forests will be handled likewise.

THE "POLITICAL PRISONERS"

The president did the dignified and sensible thing in refusing to pay any attention to the children brought to Washington to plead for the pardoning of men imprisoned for war-time offenses. There was a general feeling, all along, that those children ought to have been left at home. It was a rather silly imitation of the medieval "children crusade," which did the agitator's cause no good, and benefited the children themselves still less.

The problem back of the whole business is a different matter. The president, rightly ignoring the publicity trick, cannot altogether ignore the question of keeping those prisoners in jail at a time when the whole situation is changed. It was a necessary thing to imprison them, when they were interfering with a great national purpose. It is hardly possible that they would interfere with any national purpose now if they were free.

Eugene Debs is proving less of a menace at large than he was in jail. Nobody hears anything about him now, when he has no more chance to play the role of martyr. It may be the same with a good many other federal prisoners, whether radical or simply foolish. The public evidently would approve the liberation of any prisoner whose offense would not constitute a crime at the present time.

LENINE AND HUERTA

The problem of Lenine in Russia, with which all civilized governments are now face to face, is in some ways much like the problem of Huerta in Mexico that was faced by the United States a few years ago. Lenine, like Huerta, gained his power by the betrayal of a beneficent revolution. Like Huerta, he has established his power by violence and crime. Like Huerta, he has been feared, hated, proscribed and fought because of his black record.

There the similarity ends. In the case of Huerta, foreign opposition was successful. The United States was able to line up all the powers against him and eliminate him by a process of moral, political and financial ostracism.

Such methods, applied to the Russian soviet government on a far greater scale, by nearly all the civilized powers, have accomplished little. Counter revolutions, backed by allied money and men with American approval, have failed. Commercial and financial embargoes have failed. Lenine has consolidated his power. He has steadily yielded in his policies, as experience proved the unworkableness of communism, until now his system is almost "bourgeois," but politically he is so strong that the "capitalist powers" have given up hope of ousting him. So they are driven to compromise with the soviet, as the easiest way out of a bad situation.

Question for the Experts

Does real life influence the ads we read or do the ads influence the currents of real life? If some of the old magazines filed away in the library are hauled out for inspection, it will very likely be found that, while clothes are advertised in quantity, there is an absence of legs, arms and back in the natural state. The manufacturers of various articles showed pictures of the goods, but they did not show a picture of the lady putting them on. The advertising section of the said magazines were not then the liberal education they are now.

How did the change begin? A survey of the fashion currents shows that little by little the ladies in the magazines began appearing with less and less in the way of apparel. They did their dressing for all to see. So much for the magazine end of the story. It appears also, that little by little the women and girls in real life began appearing in scantier and scantier raiment, until there came the day of the one-piece bathing suit, the short skirt and all that goes with the modern order.

Now this is the question for the expert. Did the lady in the ads influence the lady in real life, or was it the other way about? If that question is properly answered, a whole lot of light will be shed upon many an advertising problem. Such an inquiry is worth while. The flapper flapper in the magazines long before we began flapping in real life.—JOHNSTOWN, PA., DEMOCRAT (Dem.)

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author
Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual case cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

PLEURISY AND TUBERCULOSIS

A young, as I deduce, woman—at any rate she uses pink writing paper—asks whether cod liver oil is more nourishing or fattening than eggs and milk, whether pleurisy pains usually come back every little while after one has had pleurisy, and whether 128 pounds is the right weight for a person 66½ inches tall in stocking feet. And what am I thinking about while I scan these questions in my lightning calculator fashion? I am no pessimist. I am thinking about TB.

Every doctor is thinking about TB when he is talking about pleurisy. Pleurisy has a way of associating itself with lung tuberculosis, and perhaps a majority of cases. When a young person suffers moderate attacks of pleurisy and the general health remains somewhat below standard and the body weight remains several pounds below the average for age and height and there is now and then a "return" of pleurisy pains, that young person will make no mistake in considering himself tuberculous until a good doctor decides otherwise.

One of the familiar modes of onset of pulmonary (lung) tuberculosis is with a moderate pleurisy. Pleurisy is inflammation of the lining of the chest wall and covering of the lungs. More or less pleurisy almost invariably accompanies pneumonia—the sharp pain the pneumonia patient feels with each inspiration and which often makes each expiration a grunt, is the pain of pleurisy. Pneumonia is indeed sometimes called pleuro-pneumonia. But the pleurisy which a doctor associates in his mind with lung tuberculosis is a less severe process, often not severe enough to put the patient in bed. This pleurisy may be a "dry" pleurisy or it may be a "wet" pleurisy; that is, there may be just inflammation and roughening of the chest lining and lung covering, or there may be an outpouring of serum from the inflamed surfaces into the chest cavity, in some cases so much as to interfere with the expansion of the lung on that side and call for tapping to remove the fluid.

Of course eggs or milk would be more nourishing and more fattening than cod liver oil, altho pure cod liver oil is sometimes a useful remedy—that is a matter to be left to the physician's judgement in the individual case.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Craving Raw Tea
Is it a sign of anemia to crave raw tea? Is it injurious to eat it?—(Mrs. A. C.)
Answer—No. It is no more injurious than to drink tea. Excessive tea eating or drinking is a cause of anemia—moderate tea drinking.

One physician some time ago that I had womb trouble. I asked him what caused it and he said running and jumping when I was a child. Is an operation absolutely necessary?
Answer—Well, one certainly should be done. The old fossil should have his license cut off. Try another doctor.

Saturated Solution
I am anxious to know what you meant by "saturated solution of boric acid in water" and "saturated solution of boric acid in alcohol."—(M. H.)
Answer—A solution is called "saturated" when all the substance it will dissolve has been dissolved.

Don't Monkey With the Buzz Saw
Kindly give me your advice about taking potassium iodine tablets for nervousness and a general run-down condition. How many and when should they be taken?—(Miss B. T.)
Answer—Don't.

Perspiration in the Armpits
What is good to check perspiration in the armpits? One lady says great harm might come from checking perspiration. What do you think?—(Miss S. J.)
Answer—Not being another lady I won't enter the symposium, but a solution of half an ounce of aluminum chloride in three ounces of rain water or distilled water is satisfactory. Moisten the dry surface with it once daily for three or four days. Allow it to dry well each time before dressing.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Monday, May 10, 1897

C. O. Baer was in Grand Rapids on business.

Chester A. Murphy of Hortonville called on Appleton friends.

The Rev. Father Salsbach of Freedom spent the day with friends here.

Miss Blanche Chilson entertained in honor of her birthday anniversary.

P. J. Devlin and family left for Chicago on a several days' visit.

M. J. Woodward of Watertown was visiting his brother, D. J. Woodward, and sister, Mrs. C. H. Ferry.

Joseph Spitz and M. H. Crosswell left for Janesville to attend the meeting of the Grand Lodge of the Knights of Pythias.

Architect W. W. DeLong completed plans for B. C. Delano's new residence at New London.

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Chilson entertained the German Whist club the previous Saturday evening.

Dr. J. R. Reilly had been in a very critical condition since the Saturday previous.

A meeting was to be held at the council rooms on May 12 to discuss the project of a free public library.

While bass were running in Wolf river and immediate catches were reported from Hortonville and New London.

Miss Clara Stansbury, a member of the senior class at Lawrence university, entertained her classmates at tea the previous Saturday evening.

At the services of the Young Men's Sunday evening club Sunday evening, Dr. John Faville preached a sermon on "Good Roads."

A meeting of the City Relief Society was to be held at the home of Mrs. James Ryan the following Wednesday afternoon.

American London

Americans of today who cross the Atlantic do it for one or two reasons. Either they go to get a drink, or they go in search of the old world atmosphere. According to recent reports, the former are the more likely to get what they are after. Paris, it is said, is completely converted to the American jazz idea, and if London goes the same way the only benefit to be derived from a trip abroad will be the sea air and the hotel label on one's baggage.

Daily Editorial Digest

(Title Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)
Resume of American and Foreign Newspaper Opinion

AN OLD FRIEND PASSES ON.

A shadowy figure again passes across the page—the silent, Nick Carter has gone west. Memories of that past when virtue, always triphur vividly are recalled. Memories umphed vividly are recalled. Then virtue was, indeed, its own reward. The shadow of a stable fragrant with the scent of fresh cut hay, the upturned bucket, the printed page, the thrill of combat and of villainy chafed, carry the elders back into years that were real. Today the newspapers of the country are filled with editorial comment that tells a story all its own.

The various editors admit that nobody ever heard of Frederick Van Rensselaer Dey. They, themselves, were for the most part ignorant of his identity. But when they were told that he was the originator, and creator, of the greatest of all modern detective—Nick Carter the hand-to-hand combats Sherlock Holmes scorned—they voiced deep personal sorrow and regret in an unmistakable manner. And by the same token, the younger generation has failed to weigh the man and his work with the reminiscent vision of their elders. He represented to them an incongruous character similar to that they knew during the early days of the movies. And so they judge Nick without personal intimate knowledge of his lovable qualities and his hypnotic powers.

It is unfortunate that Dey's talent was expended in such a medium," recites the Haribus. ocmfvyppmfwf cites the Harrisburg, Pa., PATRIOT. "It might have been turned into nobler channels, into real boy's literature instead of a stimulant to excess, vice and crime." The Haribus finds no echo in the Albany, N. Y., TIMES UNION, which boldly recalls that "he created an officer of the law with the power of deduction—of unravelling the mystifying; of clearing up the baffling crimes and bringing the guilty to justice. His hero character appealed more to the imagination than anything else the mind in quest of thrills of adventure had yet had." After all, as the Newark, N. J., NEWS points out, "his place is, or rather used to be, in the cache out back of the barn or under the ticking of the mattress in a fellow's bed. But if his fiction was not too high, and if it is, it is at least had the merit of always being clean and always of painting the hideous mien of vice. It scorned to give the criminal a romantic gloss." And then, Nick Carter "lived on adventure," as the Baltimore NEWS very carefully points out, "bold, brave, clean adventure. He saw the reading public turn to other things and two years ago his old story-telling ceased because it no longer paid. Then came his own fatal act. There was a double tragedy here. To the older generation it was a real one."

It is to be said for Mr. Dey's contributions to the literature of boyhood, the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to read than the Nick Carter series." Likewise, "it is a pity," the Manchester, N. H., UNION points out, "that his own story could not have ended more happily. In letters addressed to friends he left word that 'everything has gone to smash and himself with it.' There should have been before him a good many years of continued story writing, but even though his labors were thus cut short, he left a record of volume of output, and the New York WORLD recalls, "that his stories were clean. The crime in them was crime. Vice was not embellished and virtue received its proper regard. Boys have had worse things to

No Room For Gathering Of Club Women

Womans Club Room Too Crowded To Accommodate Last Meeting of Season

"No rooms, no room. Meet some place else." is the situation which faced Appletons Womans club program committee after it has arranged the last regular meeting of the season for the clubroom at 7:15 Tuesday evening. It just happened (and it happens that way very often) that there are three meetings scheduled at the clubroom for Tuesday evening already and the regular meeting would mean four.

Arrangements have been made, however, to have the meeting in the Vocational school. A very short business discussion will take place when the women will talk over the work of the club for the year and talk of what the club should do next year. Each woman is asked to bring with her a suggestion for the departments or the club as a whole. The program committee has suggested that ways and means of attaining a building and larger quarters would be proposed at this time when the founders of the club cannot meet in the clubroom because there is no room. A social hour will follow the discussion.

FOR CONGRESS

Mrs. T. T. Cotman, of Little Rock, is the first woman in Arkansas to run for congress. She has delivered suffrage lectures in 35 states of the union.

Arens Students To Appear In Piano Recital

Students from the Ludolph Arens studio of Lawrence Conservatory of Music will present a program at Peabody hall at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. Several numbers will be for two pianos. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The program follows:
Two Pianos—Fantasia and Fugue, G minor for Organ, Bach-Burnmeister
Marguerite Schuelke, Beatrice Kort
PastoraleScarlatti
Rose Ryan
The Meadow LarkGoldmark
Dorothy Seidl
Concerto, G minor (Last Movement) Mendelssohn
Catherine Russell

(Irma Sherman at the second piano)
Troika (Slavonic)Tschakowsky
Gopak (Russian Dance) Moussorgsky
Helen Blahnik
Two Pianos—Espana Rhapsody Chabrier
Lucille Meusel, Margaret Engler
Gavotte and MusetteD'Albert
Marion Hutchinson
Scotch PoonMac Dowell
Rigaudon
Viola Zimmerman
Valse, C sharp minorChopin
Katherine Kern
NocturneGrieg
PapillonGrieg
Marian Peabody

Nocturne, G MajorChopin
Invitation au Tchapak, Tschakowsky
Genevieve Washburn
Valse, F MajorChopin
Dorothy Murphy
March MilitaireSchubert-Taubert
Mrs. Eric Lundberg, Irma Sherman

CLUB MEETINGS

Nineteen members of the Hustlers club took examinations in the Y. M. C. A. Saturday on two Bible study courses which were concluded recently. The standings are to be announced soon together with rank of members of the club as hustlers.

Eight members of the Employed Boys Brotherhood took part in the nature study hike along the river Sunday. The boys prepared their dinner and supper enroute and spent part of the time fishing. They were accompanied by J. B. Dennison, boys' work secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

The regular monthly supper of the scout council will take place at Appletons Womans clubroom at 5:45 Tuesday. Patrol 4 of the Shamrock Troop of girl scouts will serve the supper.

The meeting of the board of directors of the Appleton Business and Professional Womans club will take place at the Y. M. C. A. at 5:30 Tuesday evening. The board will make special plans for the business which is to be transacted at the final meeting of the year.

Officers of the Olive Branch society will meet at Mount Olive church at 8 o'clock Monday evening. They will plan the business for the regular meeting of the society which will take place in the church parlors at 7:30 Wednesday evening.

The dramatic club of the Olive Branch society will meet in the church parlors at 7:30 Monday evening. Important business will be transacted.

Miss Hester Harper will be hostess at the regular meeting of alumnae chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta at 7:45 Tuesday evening. Miss Harper makes her home at 670 Drew-st.

The May party to be given by Columbia club at Columbia hall on Wednesday, May 17 was planned at the large meeting of the club at Columbia hall Sunday afternoon. The Valley Country Club orchestra management has promised the club special music for this party which is to be the last of the season.

Tuesday club will meet at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. H. Cole, 719 Drew-st. The program will be social for this is the last meeting of the club year.

At the regular meeting of English club of Lawrence college on Monday there will be election of officers. The meeting will take place at 415 in the Russell Sage parlors.

Press club of Lawrence college will meet in the Lawrentian room at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. A practical program has been arranged.

Members of the Matinee Bridge club will be entertained Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Alex Strange in Menasha. Bridge will be played and prizes awarded.

PARTIES

Miss Fannie Golden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Golden, was surprised at her home at Kaukauna by nearly 100 friends Sunday night in honor of her engagement to Mr. Shover of Racine. The evening was spent dancing about 30 friends were present from Appleton.

More than 35 couples attended the formal dancing party given by Delta Gamma sorority at Elk hall on Saturday evening. The hall was decorated in oriental effects with gold stars hung from the ceiling. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Bonnell Little were the chaperones.

William Nottage was host to a party of friends at a dinner at the Sherman house on Saturday evening. The guests included 18 friends who motored here from Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Knoll entertained a number of friends and relatives at their home on Sunday in honor of Mr. Knoll's seventy-sixth birthday anniversary. Music and games furnished the entertainment. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Carl Knoll and family, Mr. and Mrs. August Knoll and family, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Cotton and family, Mrs. Anna Brockhaus and family and Miss Emma Knoll of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Knoll and family of Menasha.

Members of H. T. G. club enjoyed an outing to Oshkosh Sunday. They will meet for their regular meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Ruth Lacey, 836 North Division-st.

The regular weekly card party of the St. Joseph Ladies Aid society will take place at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon at the parish hall. Sheephead and plumpack will be played.

LODGE NEWS

Pythian Sisters will hold their regular business meeting at 7:30 Monday evening in Castle hall.

150 ARE EXPECTED AT RELIGIOUS SCHOOL MEET

Reservations have been made for more than 150 Sunday school workers of the various churches for the supper and meeting at the Methodist church at 6:15 Monday evening. The problems of religious education as taken up by the Religious Day school, by the Sunday school and by the Training School for Religious and Social workers will be discussed by speakers from the various activities.

POSTAL WORKERS PLAN FOR SUMMER OUTING

Dr. W. J. Frawley could not deliver his lecture on the care of the eyes at the meeting of the Appleton Post-office association Saturday evening, due to another engagement. It is expected that he will address the association at some future date. Plans were discussed at the meeting to hold a family outing in late summer. It will be a basket picnic for all employees and their families. Other matters pertaining to the efficiency of the service and the welfare of the workers also were discussed. A supper preceded the meeting which is the last to be held this season.

HOPFENSBERGER BUILDS ADDITION TO MARKET

Hopfensberger Bros. commenced work Monday on a new addition to the rear of their meat market at 940-942 College-ave., the contract for which was awarded to Hoffman Construction Co. The addition will include two new smoke houses equipped with the patent smoking process of C. F. Junske of Chicago, who is here to superintend the construction of that part of the work. The firm is at present using three smoke houses.

"Y" Leader Here
J. S. Hutton, business manager of the Y. M. C. A. college, Chicago, spent the weekend in Appleton on matters of interest to the college. He also is visiting the local Y. M. C. A. and members of its staff.

KEEP APPLETON CLEAN
There are some mighty fine suggestions on Pages 12 and 13.

Arrange For Dance To Aid Hospital

Committee of 22 is Arranging Details for St. Elizabeth Club Party

Twenty-two people have been named by St. Elizabeth club to make arrangements for the open dancing party to be given in the armory May 12 to obtain funds for a free bed in the new St. Elizabeth hospital. Details are being worked out on an elaborate scale with expectation that the moderate admission will draw a large attendance.

The couples having the arrangements in charge are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Long, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Peeters, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Plank, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Grizmacher, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Scheil, Mr. and Mrs. Fred F. Wetengel, Mr. and Mrs. John Conway, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel P. Steinberg, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Balliet and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Sensenbrenner.

Approximately $750 is to be raised to maintain one bed all through the year for less fortunate people who are unable to pay for hospital care.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Mary Smejkal, who has been visiting her son, E. J. Smejkal, for several weeks, returned to her home at Sturgeon Bay Sunday.

Miss Dorothy Toonan, who submitted to an operation at St. Elizabeth hospital a few weeks ago, is slightly improved.

Mr. and Mrs. George Grimmer and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Zoerb motored to Manitowoc and Two Rivers Sunday.

Florian Harriman, Appleton mail carrier, is enjoying a two week's vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clifford spent the weekend with Mrs. Clifford's parents at Mattoon, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Ruck returned to their home at Eau Claire, after having spent the winter with H. P. Buck, scout executive.

Leonard M. Witt attended the funeral of a relative in Marshfield Saturday.

John Milbow of Kimberly, who has been employed in Appleton for several months, has leased the residence on State-st. formerly occupied by Ervin Rohloff and took possession Monday. The former tenant has moved to another part of the city.

Gustave Henke of the Town of Cran, has received a carload of deer tiles which he will use in draining his farm. A machine is being used in laying the tiles.

Charles A. Stauffer, general manager of The Arizona Republic, Phoenix, Ariz., visited J. H. Melhorn and Thomas B. Reid here the last few days.

John Conway is spending several days in Chicago on business.

Herman Rohm of Bondell, visited Sunday with his daughter Roselia, and with Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Kilpatrick, 772 Hancock st.

Thomas O'Hanlon, 1115 Fifth st., was removed Sunday morning to St. Elizabeth hospital in Kunitz ambulance to submit to an operation.

Mrs. Braeger, 1107 Lawrence-st., was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital Saturday night in Kunitz ambulance.

J. T. McCann has sold his residence at 754 Clark-st. to John Harth, who will take possession June 15. Mr. McCann plans to reside at Lake Winnebago for the summer.

Mrs. Amber Stiles and Mrs. Amy Patterson of Los Angeles, Calif., spent the weekend with their brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. H. Baker.

Walter C. Hansen visited friends at Winnebago Sunday.

E. M. Tollich of Williams Port, Pa., was a visitor in Appleton Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Pierce of Manitowoc, were guests of friends in this city Sunday.

Wayne Clark and family of Kenosha and Miss Margaret Clark of Plymouth spent Sunday at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Clark, Second-ave.

Paul Cary who is attending Lawrence college was recently pledged to Phi Kappa Tau fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Hildebrandt and family and Mrs. J. Sigl visited friends at New London Sunday.

Miss Dorothy Erdman and William Bauerflend were the guests of friends at Shawano Sunday.

James Deming of Chicago spent the weekend with Sigma Phi Epsilon brothers at Lawrence college.

Walter Eller has returned from Montana where he has been working since he left Lawrence college and is spending a few days with Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity brothers.

Benjamin L. Vander Zanden of De Pere, is receiving treatment at Sacred Heart sanitarium in Milwaukee after having suffered from ill health for some time. Mrs. Vander Zanden returned from Milwaukee on Sunday.

RECENT DISCOVERIES DESCRIBED TO STUDENTS

Prof. R. M. Bagg of Lawrence college spoke to the Lawrence students during the chapel hour on Monday on recent scientific discoveries. He told them of many instances where the knowledge of science has made a great deal of money for men in mining and oil business.

Equity Men Here
Frank C. Tilly, organizer for Wisconsin union of the American Society of Equity, and E. C. Pommerening, Oshkosh, state equity president, were in the city on business Saturday. They conducted an Equity rally at Sugar Bush, Friday evening.

It's House Cleaning and Paint-up Time. Read the clean up helps on Pages 12 and 13.

HAVE A LOOK!

Opera glasses without glasses. But you need a glass when you pour out the contents. And if the contents are right you don't need glasses to see the show, anyway.

All Kinds Of Last Meetings Are Held Now

The season of "last meetings of the year" is upon us. Practically all the clubs which meet regularly during the year are closing up their year and having their last meetings of the season. For most of these organizations the year runs from October to the middle of May, and for others, it may be either longer or shorter than that. Because of the varying length of the club year, we will have the last meeting with us way into the early part in June.

With the last meetings and the closed Saturday afternoons and the picnics scheduled and many of the lodges having their meetings only half as often as in the winter time summer seems to have followed fast on the heels of the spring which we have only begun to talk about. When the college commencement is over and the boys and girls who are going to school away off somewhere are home, it will be summer indeed.

BIG WELCOME FOR KIMBERLY PRIEST

Village Turns Out to Greet F. X. Van Nistelroy on His Return from Europe

All Kimberly turned out Sunday evening to welcome the Rev. F. X. Van Nistelroy who has just returned from a trip to Europe. A procession composed of the band, the school children and men and women of Kimberly met the car on which the pastor returned and accompanied him to Lavender-decker hall where a program had been arranged for 7:30.

The reception committee included the Revs. T. Keisten and A. Bookman, Henry Langenberg and August Beatz. Addresses of welcome were made for the parish, for the village for the school children, for the band Father Van Nistelroy responded with a short speech. He returned to Appleton on the morning train from Chicago and spent the day with friends here before returning to his pastorate.

Social Calendar

Tuesday, May 9, 1922
12:15—Rotary club luncheon at the Sherman house.
2:30—Ladies Aid Card party at St Joseph hall.
3:30—Womans Foreign Missionary society at Methodist church.
3:30—Matinee Bridge club meeting.
5:30—Board of Directors meeting of Business and Professional Womans club.
5:45—Scout Council Supper at Appleton Womans clubroom.
6:15—Retail Dry Goods Association banquet at the Sherman house.
7:30—Womans club meeting at the Vocational school.
7:45—Kappa Alpha Theta Alumnae meet with Miss Hester Harper.
8:00—Pupils of Ludolph Arens in recital at Peabody hall.

BOYLES WILL SPEAK IN Y. M. C. A. TUESDAY NIGHT

The Rev. J. R. Boyles, a former missionary who is studying at Lawrence college will give an illustrated lecture on Burma at the Y. M. C. A. at 7:45 Tuesday evening. The lecture is being given at the request of the Sunday school class of Ernest Sicker of the Evangelical association. The lecture will be followed by a social time. The public is invited. The Rev. Mr. Boyles also lectured on Burma at the Methodist church on Sunday evening.

Rowl at DePere
The Postoffice bowling team will go to DePere Monday night to meet the postoffice bowlers of that city. The teams now stand with one game each to their credit. The third and deciding match Monday evening is expected to be a lively one.

DANCE
at the Greenville Park Pavilion, Wed., May 10. Music by Park's orchestra. Bus leaves Pettibone's at 8:15 and 9 P. M.

PEOPLE FAIL TO REALIZE BLESSING OF PROHIBITION

Anti-saloon League Leader Urges Vigorous Program of Law Enforcement

"People do not realize yet what a blessing they have in the gift of prohibition," declared the Rev. J. I. Seder, Milwaukee, associate state superintendent of the Wisconsin Anti-saloon league in an address in Emanuel Evangelical church Sunday evening. Mr. Seder spoke on "Supremacy of Law."

"It is an error to think or say 'you cannot make men moral or better by law.' History affirms it can be done, because it has been done in the past," he said.

"Laws establish the conditions of social life, make that life and social morality possible," Mr. Seder said.

"Laws are the foundations of the great fundamental institutions of civilization. Laws are the bulwark of the family and the home.

"Laws are necessary in the material and spiritual world. It was law that abolished slavery and made such a marvelous change for millions. Educationally men are made better by law. How much popular education would there be without law to enforce it? Generally the ignorant and illiterate are the worst citizens. Compulsory universal education, established by laws, made accessible the Bible which intelligent people everywhere acknowledge as an uplifting force. Penal and reform laws make people better. They have remarkable value as moral educators.

"People do not realize yet what a blessing they have in prohibition. Yet some of our citizens—no, they are mostly aliens—would break down that most beneficial law by allowing the return of so-called 'light wine and beer.' This would mean the return of the old time brewery and saloon, only seven times worse. Even now the wets are employing all the agents whom they can induce to canvass from house to house to secure members for the Wisconsin Anti-Prohibition league.

"The answer to this 'wetness' is a vigorous program of the drys with emphasis on enforcement of the law. Public officers are more willing than ever to enforce the law if they are backed up by local sentiment and aid."

Mr. Seder told about the state and district law enforcement convention in Milwaukee May 23 and 24. He said hundreds of pastors, writers, and leaders in every walk of life will be in attendance.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

The junior department of the Junior church of the Methodist Sunday school presented W. S. Ford with a gold pencil on Sunday in appreciation of his work as superintendent. Mr. Ford has taken charge of the High School department for boys of the Methodist church which meets at the Y. M. C. A.

The Womans Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church will meet at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon to be followed by the regular missionary tea. Mrs. Edith Wright has charge of the program.

A H. Kellogg, who has been at St. Elizabeth hospital for the last three weeks, left for Atlanta, Ga. Monday accompanied by his son with whom he will make his home.

Keep Your Skin-Pores Active and Healthy With Cuticura Soap

Scalp, Ointment, Talcum, 25c. everywhere. For sample address: Cuticura Soap Co., Boston, Mass.

JUST PHONE 200

For Fancy Garden Seeds

Tomato Plants, Cauliflower, Root Celery, Stalk Celery, Early Cabbage, Fennels and Geraniums.

Scheil Bros.

You will always be satisfied with the

VICTROLA

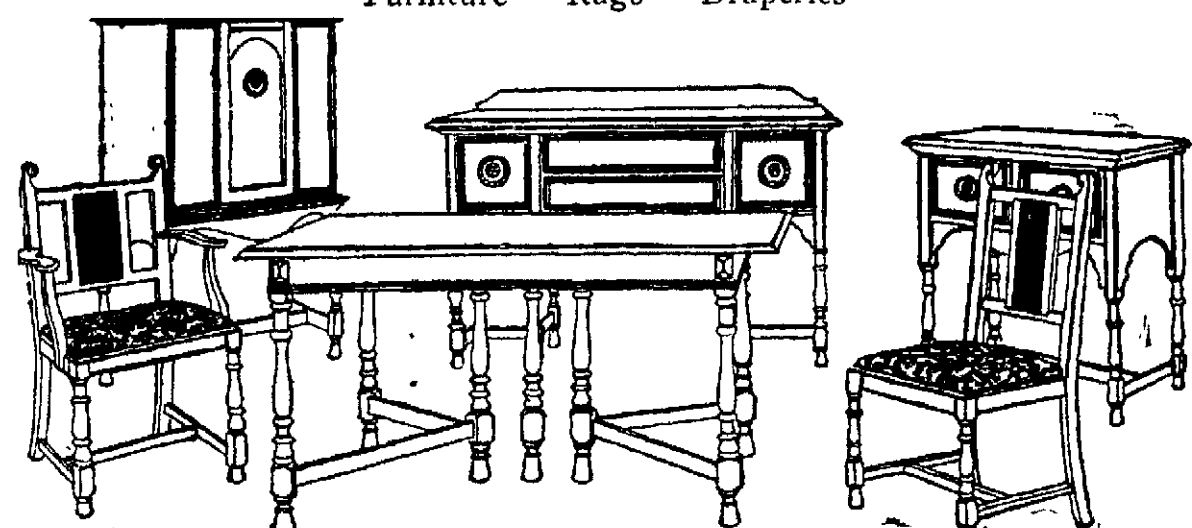

Endorsed by the world's greatest artists because of its unerring register of voice or instrument.

We have genuine Victrolas. All styles—all prices. Select yours here at

CARROLL'S MUSIC SHOP
615-17 Oneida Street

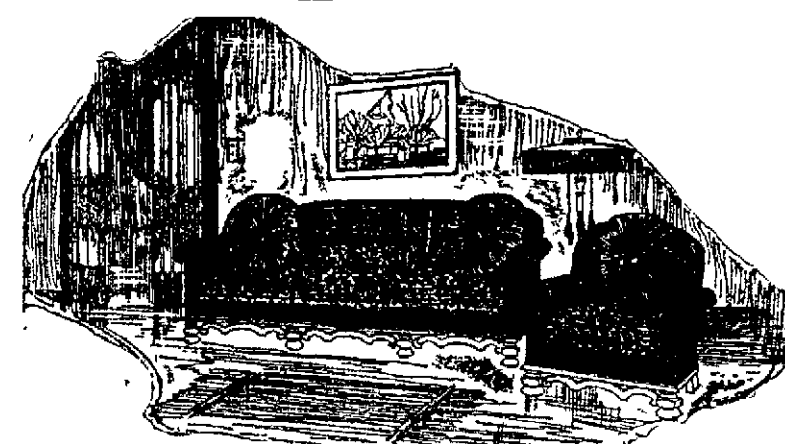

Saecker-Diderrich Co.

INTERIOR DECORATIONS
Furniture—Rugs—Draperies

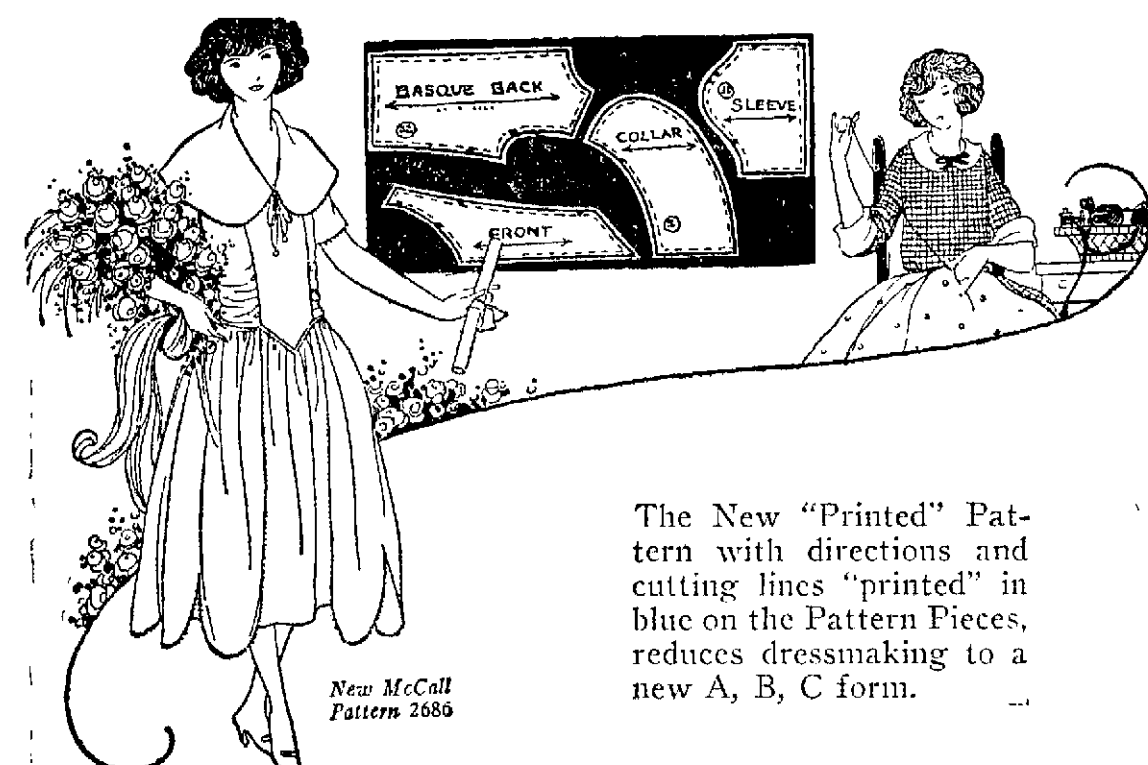

Quiet and Luxurious Dining Room Furniture

Fitting attributes indeed and those which most people want symbolized in their Dining Room Furniture. A Tudor Period design modified for modern interiors. Simple sturdy lines and not too ornate decorations, give it a distinction and quiet luxuriousness that never grows tiresome. In two-toned walnut, one of the very nicest styles produced by furniture manufacturers.

Furniture Makes the Room

It is the good taste of furniture rather than its cost which adds livable qualities to the room. In the past it has not always been an easy matter to find Upholstered Furniture both reliable in quality and reasonable in price. This season we are able to offer you a genuinely attractive value—a two piece set as above with beautiful walnut base and frame; cane back and down-filled cushion seat covered in mulberry sateen—at $169.50. This sateen covering allow you to make your own selection of an outer cover yet may be serviceably used for a number of years if desired.

The New "Printed" Pattern with directions and cutting lines "printed" in blue on the Pattern Pieces, reduces dressmaking to a new A, B, C form.

The Sweet Girl Graduate's Commencement Day Frock

Can be one of her own making if she wishes

In any case selecting of pattern, style and materials should not be delayed. If chosen from this group of Graduation Dress Materials it will add interest to a day that already promises to be full of wonderful experiences. These Fabrics were most thoughtfully arranged and are of crisp Organdie, sheer Voile, quaint dotted Swiss, colored Pongee, Crepe de Chine, Taffeta, and Canton Crepe, precisely as they should be to grace so important occasion.

Imported Swiss Organdie, 50 shades, 45 inches wide, a yard $1.00.
Embroidered Dot, Swiss Organdie, 45 inches wide, a yard $1.59.
Dotted Swiss, light and dark shades, 30 inches wide, a yard $1.59.
Voiles, extra fine quality, wide range of dainty shades, 40 inches wide, a yard 50c and 75c.

Colored Pongee, pink, jade, rose, natural and oyster white, 30 inches wide, a yard $1.59.
Crepe de Chine, pink, orchid, periwinkle, coral, Nile, pale blue and white, 40 inches, a yard $1.39, $1.75, $2.50.
Taffeta, in every wanted dainty shade, 36 inches wide, a yard $2.00.

Canton Crepe, pink, Venice, jade, orchid, periwinkle and white, 40 inch, a yard $3.25.

GEENEN'S
APPLETON, WISCONSIN

Day's News of Wisconsin and Outagamie County

NEW LONDON CITY VOTES PURCHASE OF ATHLETIC PARK

Civic League Will Provide Fences and Grandstand—May Build Bridge Span

Special to The Post-Crescent
New London.—At the city council meeting last week it was voted upon recommendation of the committee appointed to investigate the matter, to purchase the property in the western part of the Fourth ward now used as a ball park. The city will pay Charles Calwitz $2,500 for the property. The Civic Improvement League has voted to buy the fence and stands on the park and turn them over to the city.

The board of public works made its report on the question of a bridge span along Shawano to lessen the danger of flood from the Embarras river in the future. The board recommends the construction of a 200-foot span to be built south of the present large span. Engineers from the county highway board of Waupaca, and from the Green Bay and Western railway company are studying the new project.

The city has rented a motor truck for the use of the fire department during the summer. The truck is rented from the Hanes garage and is the same one that the city used last summer.

LET VENEER CONTRACT

The American Plywood corporation has arranged to have the Wisconsin Cabinet and Panel company cut veneer for the former plant. The logs are being unloaded in the Edison yard and the machines will start cutting Monday morning. After the cutting and drying up has been done in the Edison factory, the Plywood will transfer the work to its own plant and finish the panels. Some of the machines at the Plywood factory will be operated on a 24-hour shift to take care of the increasing business.

BUILD GARAGE

The land on the northwest corner of North Pearl and Milwaukee was purchased last week by Victor Thomas from Ed. Freilburger. Mr. Thomas will build a garage on the property for the Siegel and Son dry line. The building will be of cement blocks and will be completed about the first of August.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Dahlis, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Froelich, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Fuerst, Mrs. Anna Remmel and Arthur Remmel of this city went to Clintonville Wednesday to attend the funeral of little Esther Froelich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Froelich of Clintonville. The little girl was killed when a heavy auto truck struck her while she was on her way to school last Monday morning.

Miss Amanda Smith returned to Clintonville Tuesday after spending several days at her home in this city. Miss Dorothy Traverser arrived home Thursday evening to attend the junior prom.

BUYS HOME

The Cassin house now occupied by K. B. Hanson, on West Conkist, has been purchased by Louis Gerndt. Mr. Gerndt will move into his new home next fall.

Mrs. E. H. Ramm, Mrs. E. F. Ramm, Mrs. F. L. Patchen, Mrs. H. S. Ritchie and Mrs. L. A. Brown spent Tuesday in Appleton.

Mrs. Ren Freeman and children returned Wednesday to their home at Lilly, after having spent two weeks with relatives in New London.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Reiger and daughter Dorothy of Clintonville, called on New London friends Friday afternoon while enroute to Clintonville from Appleton when Miss Rohrer is attending Lawrence college.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Fritz of Clintonville drove to New London Friday afternoon.

SUNNYSLOPE SCHOOL HAS SUBSTITUTE TEACHER

Special to The Post-Crescent
Greenville.—About 30 friends surprised Miss Laura Schroeder in honor of her birthday at her home Tuesday evening May 2. Games and music provided the entertainment. Those who attended from out of town were Roy Sauberich and Howard Gillespie of Appleton, Mr. and Mrs. William Uhlenbruch, Alice and Hazel Holtz, and Edwin Tiedt of Center.

Miss Helen Bliss of Kaukauna is substituting at the Sunnyslope school this month for Nic Wiesler, the former teacher who is unable to finish the term on account of his help being needed on his farm.

Louis Dau of Appleton spent Friday at the Lucius Collar home.

Will Baebman sold his farm last week to Mr. Loos of Ellington, and will move to Hilbert in the near future.

Henry Thiel and son Lester were Appleton visitors Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Perkins and son Clarence and Miss Viola Wenzlaff of Appleton called at the home of Henry Thiel Sunday.

Edwin Schroeder was a Hortonville caller Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Sauberich of Appleton were Sunday guests of Henry Thiel and family.

KAUKAUNA PERSONALS

Kaukauna.—Mrs. William Radder and Miss Martha Buslow were visitors in Appleton Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Grogan and family autted to Hartford Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Lefevre were weekend visitors in Green Bay.

Mrs. Charles Winge is confined to her home with a sprained ankle as a result of a fall last week.

KAUKAUNA NEWS

Melvin Trams Telephone 329-J
Kaukauna Representative

LARGE CROWDS AT OPENING SERVICE OF JUBILEE WEEK

Christian Endeavor Society to Have Charge of Program Monday Evening

Kaukauna.—Large attendance at all services featured the opening of the jubilee in honor of the thirty-fifth anniversary of Reformed church in Kaukauna Sunday morning and Sunday evening. The Rev. F. Grether of Reformed Mission house, spoke at all meetings. Mr. Grether was present 33 years ago when the local Reformed church was dedicated.

Services in the German language were held Sunday morning while English services were held in the evening. The Christian Endeavor meeting at 6:45 was attended by a large group of young people who heard a talk on "Amiable Taken" by the Rev. F. Grether in which he characterized the church as the spiritual home of the individual. He showed how similar are the conditions which make up both a real home and a real progressive church. A duet was sung by Misses Lorinda Hinkel and Wilma Klumb.

The various departments of the Christian Endeavor society will have charge of the program Monday evening. Matthew Weorhman will give the address on "The Safeguard of Youth." Elmer Grimmer, president of the senior department of the society, also will give an address. Vocal selections will be given by the mens quartet.

VETERANS MEET FOR MEMORIAL DAY PLANS

Kaukauna.—A special meeting of Kaukauna Post, No. 41, American Legion, will be held at 7:30 Monday evening in Elk hall with the Ladies Auxiliary to the post, the Women's Relief corps and other patriotic organizations in this city to formulate plans for the observance of Memorial day. The newly organized World War Veterans association has been asked to send representatives.

At the meeting a program will be mapped out and arrangements for the day will be started. The Kaukauna band of 15 pieces will play.

Social Items

Kaukauna.—A small crowd attended the annual dancing party of the Lady Marches Friday evening in Elk hall. Music was furnished by the Electric City orchestra.

The last meeting of the Eta Beta Pi club of this season held Friday evening in the club rooms was a farewell gathering in honor of Mrs. Constand Brueman who leaves soon to live in Iowa. Eight ladies were present. Lunch was served at the Coffee Cup.

Kaukauna Fox club will hold its annual informal dance next Friday evening, May 12 in Elk hall. Music will be furnished by Westphal's orchestra of Fond du Lac.

NICHOLS ORGANIZES FOR SUMMER BALL SEASON

Special to The Post-Crescent
Nichols.—A. L. Nichols transacted business in Chicago the first of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson of Leoman were callers here on Tuesday.

August Larson and Frank Brightman transacted business in Appleton on Tuesday.

Jacob Hahn and Al. Vande Halle were business callers in Leoman Wednesday.

Mrs. Oscar Loper and daughter, Emilee are visiting relatives at Merrill.

Five new pupils were enrolled in the school here last week, making an attendance of 52.

Mrs. Herbert Frank has returned from Green Bay after submitting to an operation.

The ladies of the Community Aid society have been busy making articles for the spring sale which will be held Wednesday, May 10 at Fraser auditorium.

A. W. Loutschlaeger of Appleton was a caller here on Tuesday.

Herbert Baymer of Shawano called here one day last week.

A. Wilton of Appleton was a business caller here on Tuesday.

F. J. Richardson of Appleton called here Wednesday.

F. H. Brooks of Shawano transacted business here Wednesday.

Mr. Hoeshagel of Leoman was a caller here on Thursday.

Miss Lena Barndt called at Appleton on Thursday.

Oscar Wilson transacted business in Appleton Thursday.

Nichols will be represented in the county baseball league that was formed at Appleton. The local team has organized by electing Hugh Prager manager and Emil Palmkrantz captain. On May 7 the election of directors of the league and drafting of a lineup of the players occurred.

Harold Ponzel and Miss Irene Turner of Appleton were callers here on Sunday.

KAUKAUNA EASILY WHIPS MENOMINEE

Northern Team Uses Three Pitchers in Effort to Stop Brautigan Sluggers

Kaukauna.—Manager Breenaham, of the Menominee baseball team, used up three pitchers Sunday afternoon in the local ball park in an attempt to stop the heavy hitting Kaukauna aggregation which trampled the visiting team underfoot to the tune of 20 to 7. Local clouters busted the pill all over the lot, making 20 safe drives.

Manager Brautigan handled the local squad in fine shape. The invaders changed hurlers in the fifth inning and the local players obeyed the manager's orders to "stand still" with the result that the new moundman walked five men in one inning.

"Chet" Murphy proved somewhat of a disappointment to the fans. He started wild as a hawk and walked three men the first round and allowed two hits. The invaders crossed the plate three times. A double play ended one or two more runs for the visitors. In all the Menominee team garnered nine hits, four of which were doubles. After the fourth inning, however, safeties were scattered and did no harm.

Manager Brautigan belted the horseshoe over the left garden wall in the first inning with two men on the bags. The score ran close for the first five innings. In the fifth and sixth innings ten men crossed the plate and four more were added in the seventh.

Smith, Kaukauna third sacker, headed the batting list with a big 1000 per cent. He clouted out two doubles and four singles in six times at bat. Ted Lamers is second with four hits in five chances while Johnson also takes a place among the leaders. He garnered three safeties, walked three times, stole a base and crossed the platter for three tallies.

WEEK'S SOCIAL EVENTS AT CITY OF NEW LONDON

New London.—Mrs. J. F. Seering was hostess to the Study club at her home on East Cookst, Monday afternoon, May 8. The members responded to roll call with original spring verses. The topic of the afternoon's program was "Opera in the United States." Mrs. Charles Abrams presented a paper on "Italian Opera" and Mrs. M. Boland one on "German Opera." Mrs. E. N. Calef discussed "Grand Opera in Recent Years," and Mrs. Perry Cornelius told of "Opera in England."

The G. S. F. club will hold its next meeting at the home of Mrs. Ed. Boleff at 713 Main-st. Wednesday evening, May 10.

Mrs. Andrew Rumenoff entertained the Ten Pin club at her home on Wyman-st. on Friday afternoon.

The Tuesday Bridge club held its regular meeting last week at the home of C. M. Jelloff, Washington-st.

The Schafkopf club gathered at the home of Mrs. Jack Jeffers Tuesday afternoon to surprise her on the occasion of her birthday anniversary. The afternoon was spent playing cards. Mrs. Milo Smith and Mrs. Otto Fischer won honors.

Mrs. E. F. Ramin was hostess to the Neighborhood club Friday afternoon.

Mrs. J. H. Breumler entertained the Schafkopf club Monday afternoon, May 1. Mrs. E. F. Poole and Mrs. George White won honors at cards.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McLaughlin were guests of honor at a farewell party given by the Alva club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Doming Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin will reside in Milwaukee where Mr. McLaughlin is sales manager for the O'Neil Oil and Paint company.

The N. Y. B. club met at the home of Mrs. Fred Lehman last Tuesday evening. Favors at cards were won by Mrs. Fred Vohs and Emil Gorges.

John Dickenson entertained a group of friends at a dinner party at his home Wednesday evening. The guests were G. J. Harlander, Herman Becker, Leo Hilsen and Mr. Stewart.

Mrs. George Jilson was hostess to the Thursday club last week.

The members of the Ladies Aid society of Emanuel Lutheran church held their regular monthly business meeting in the club rooms of the church Thursday afternoon. A social hour followed during which refreshments were served by a committee composed of Mr. William F. Krueger, Mrs. W. J. Krueger, Mrs. Fred Holtz, Mrs. Otto Heger, Mrs. G. Hanke, Mrs. F. W. Krueger and Mrs. Charles Haese.

Mrs. F. J. Pfeiffer and Mrs. E. C. Jost entertained at three tables of bridge at the Jost home Monday evening, May 1 in honor of Mrs. J. M. McLaughlin.

Members of the local telephone force and a number of friends autted to Poppe's pork Wednesday evening for a women's rag. There were 18 young people in the party.

CHILDREN IN SPRING TIME

Mrs. C. Osborn, 7812 Hillside Rd., Cleveland, O., writes: "My granddaughter was troubled with a cough for nearly two years. She took Foley's Honey and Tar and her cough is now gone. It loosened the phlegm so she could raise it easily." Foley's Honey and Tar is just what children should have for feverish colds, coughs, "snuffles" and tonight, whoozy breathing. Be sure to get Foley's. It cures croup and whooping cough, too.—Lowell Drug Store, adv.

CIVIC LEAGUE TO PROVIDE HOSPITAL FOR NEW LONDON

Consider Leasing of Speckmen Homestead—Garbage System is Inaugurated

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New London.—No definite action on a hospital was taken at the meeting of the hospital committee of the Civic Improvement league at the library Thursday afternoon. The league is considering a plan to lease the large brick house, owned by Mrs. Thora Speckman, and located directly across from the Congregational church on Hancock-st., to be used for hospital purposes.

The committee decided to investigate gate thoroughly and ascertain the extent and probable cost of necessary improvements and alterations, before taking definite action. Another meeting will be held this week.

The executive board of the Civic Improvement league and the members of the hospital committee include Mrs. F. H. Kink, Mrs. E. C. Jost, Mrs. E. F. Ramin, Mrs. F. L. Zaug, Mrs. D. B. Egan, Mrs. C. D. Feathers, Mrs. A. C. Borchardt, Mrs. F. G. Pfeiffer, Mrs. E. W. Wendlandt, Mrs. W. E. Gheske, Mrs. C. W. Pomering and Mrs. J. W. Monsted.

TO COLLECT GARBAGE

The league is proving itself worthy of its name in another way. It has inaugurated a system for the collection of garbage and refuse in the city. The league has secured the services of a man with a team and wagon to collect the accumulated garbage twice a week for the entire season. All residents of the city who wish this service may have it by paying the subscription fee of 80 cents a month.

H. S. STUDENTS HONOR VICTORY WITH PARADE

(Special to Post-Crescent)
New London.—New London high school students were elated over this year's victory in the regional oratorical and declamatory contest at Hortonville Thursday, because the contest a year also was won by the local school. The winners were Chester Macklin in oratory, with the subject, "The Playgroup and the Spoilers," and Miss Josephine Kische in the declamatory section with the reading, "The Aspiring Dishwasher." Students demonstrated their enthusiasm over the victory by a parade through the business district Friday afternoon, with the accompaniment of abundance of school yells.

LOOK HERE!

Fishermen
Hunters
Auto Owners

Hip
Boots
— AT — Half Price

2.95
ALL SIZES
— AT — WOLF'S

FINISH CAMPAIGN WITH STILL HUNT

Retirement Fund Drive of Y. M. C. A. Nets Total of $19,-205 in State

George F. Werner, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. has returned from Milwaukee where he attended a meeting of the Wisconsin committee in charge of the association's retirement fund drive for $4,000,000. Mr. Werner is state campaign director.

With $19,205 raised in the state up to April 30 and $3,700,000 in the United States, the campaign has closed officially, but still a hunt is to be kept up until the remainder of the fund is obtained.

Wisconsin adopted $22,500 as its goal but this has been raised to $25,000. The Badger committee will center its efforts now on associations that have not subscribed, respecting to raise the required amount soon.

Appleton's quota of $3,000 was raised some time ago. Other cities have contributed as follows up to April 30: Milwaukee, $6,905; Beloit, $1,500; Madison, $3,000; Racine, $2,000; Janesville, $1,000; University Y. M. C. A., $1,000; Lake Geneva, $300; Walworth-co., $500.

NEW EXAMINATION TO OBTAIN TEACHERS

Herman J. French, secretary of the local civil service board, has received notice from the United States civil service commission that in an examination held recently in Appleton and other cities for domestic science teachers in the Indian service, applicants were not secured in the number desired, and that this examination again will be held at the postoffice on June 7.

Any persons interested in this or other examinations are asked to apply to Mr. French at the postoffice for detailed information and application blanks.

COMMISSION HOLDING UP BUILDING PLANS

Work upon the new building to be erected at the corner of College-ave. and Superior-st. by Gibson Automobile Exchange of Oshkosh has been temporarily delayed by submission of the plans to Wisconsin industrial commission at Madison for acceptance. Investigation by a member of the firm who visited the office of the commission in an effort to hasten matters revealed the fact that the plans are dealt with in rotation and that those of the Appleton building have not yet been reached.

Spring Suits

of Striking Desirability
$30 $35 $45

Suits of enduring quality produced by America's most reputable clothing makers. The quality of the fabrics, the skillful workmanship and youthful styles place these spring Suits far above the commonplace. They are Suits of striking desirability, guaranteed to give thorough and lasting satisfaction. The man who desires the utmost value should visit this store.

Open a People's Charge Account
You Need Not Pay All in 30 Days

People's CLOTHING CO.
779 COLLEGE AVE.

ASSESSORS START THEIR ANNUAL JOB OF FIXING VALUES

A. C. Rule Will be in His Office Only Three Evenings Next Week

The work of 1922 assessments in Appleton and all cities, villages and towns of Outagamie-co. started last week. City, village and town assessors received their final instructions at a meeting of assessors from Outagamie, Winnebago and Waupaca counties here two weeks ago.

A. C. Rule, city assessor, is engaged in field work every day of the week, being in his office at the city hall only on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings. Special telephone connections have been made for his office for the convenience of the public.

"The public should make it a point to see the assessor," John A. Lonsdorf, assessor of incomes, said, "before the boards of review meet, in order that they may know just what the assessment against them is. The boards of review in towns and villages meet the last Monday in June.

"Give the assessors courteous treatment," he said. "Their work is very difficult and the public should cooperate toward getting fair and equitable assessments. A point to be remembered is that the budget is raised by taxation. The assessor has nothing to do with the size of the budget or the amount of the taxes. But if one property owner succeeds in escaping assessment, the others must pay that much more in order to raise the budget."

MUCH ACTIVITY IN REAL ESTATE LATELY

There has been more activity in real estate in the last two weeks than all during the fall and winter, according to A. G. Koch, register of deeds. There have been an unusually large number of realty transfers since the middle of April.

Transfers of farm property and city property about balance each other. There have been a large number of trades of farm property for city buildings and businesses recently, it was said.

Dance at Twelve Corners, Wed., May 10th. Adm. 85c.

WANTED: Laborers at St. Elizabeth Hospital job, 30c per hour, 10 hours work. Steady employment.—C. R. Meyer & Sons.

RADIO PROGRAM

The following artists will take part in the radio program to be broadcast from the Westinghouse station in Pittsburg Monday evening:

The Ernest Gamble Concert party: Miss Clara Stadelman, soprano; Miss Verna Page, violinist; Ernest Gamble, basso.

Kiss Me Again (Mile. Modiste) Herbert As recorded by Frank Banta, on the Steinway Duo-Art Reproducing Piano.

Fiddle and I Goodeve

Concert Party

Mad Scene from "Lucia di Lammermoor" Donizetti

Miss Clara Stadelman

Romance and Rondo Wieniawski

Miss Verna Page

The Bandolero Stuart

Ernest Gamble

Bohemian Girl Balfe

As recorded by Erno Rapee, on the Steinway Duo-Art Reproducing Piano.

a. I've been Romancing Horne

b. I Passed by Your Window, Brahe

Miss Clara Stadelman

a. Adagio Leonard

b. Moto Perpetuo Bohm

Miss Verna Page

a. Air from "Julius Caesar" Handel

b. Floral Dance Old Cornish Air

Ernest Gamble

O Moment that I Bless Dennee

Miss Stadelman and Mr. Gamble

Night Song Cadman

As recorded by Charles Wakefield Cadman, on the Steinway Duo-Art Reproducing Piano.

NEED SERVICES OF TWO MEN TO OPERATE DAM

Two dam tenders, S. S. Cox and Charles Fuerst, are on duty at the middle dam, the work during high water period being more than one could handle. The men work on shifts of 12 hours each, from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m., and from 7 p. m. to 7 a. m.

Cox narrowly escaped being knocked into the swift current at the head of Patten canal by one of the heavy needles on Thursday. He was saved from going in by Fuerst, who rushed to his aid.

Mrs. John Madler of Hilbert, spent the weekend with friends here.

Remember—

SUNDAY, MAY 14th is MOTHERS' Day and you must remember to get something nice for Mother. Gmeiner Chocolates make an acceptable gift for any occasion, especially so for this one.

We have something special in the way of boxes. Look over our display. Don't wait—only five days more.

Gmeiner's
WHERE CANDY MAKING IS A FINE ART

Do You Own A Convenient Garage?

You will save a lot of trouble if your garage is made convenient. You will save a lot of worry if it is made fire-proof.

Put in a cement floor in your garage and connect it up with a drain, so that the car can be washed at any time.

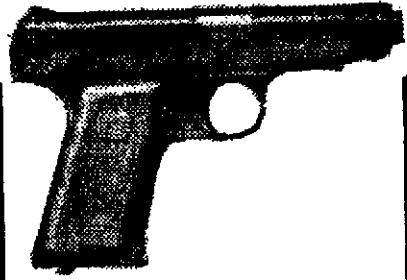

Get Our Book About Modern Garages.

Marston Bros. Co.

DEPENDABILITY COUNTS
Phone 68-83 782 Oneida Street

Miss Gladys DuFrame of Fond du Lac is the guest of Appleton relatives.

FRESH
STRAWBERRIES
Full Quarts
28c
SCHEIL BROS.
PHONE 200

Automatic Pistol

(32 Cal.)
For Home Protection

Buy one now at the low price of $8.75. Just a few at this price.

Groths

875 COLLEGE AVE.
Phone 772

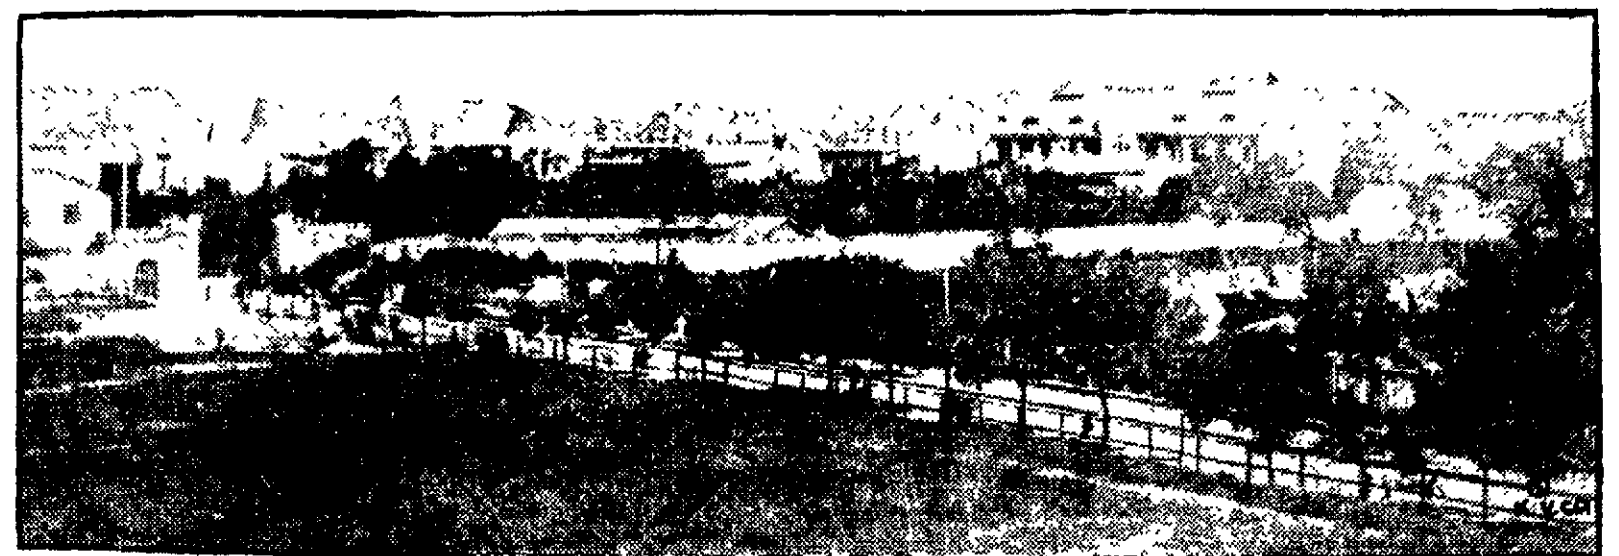

FLOOD REFUGEES--CHINESE LEGATIONS UNDER GUARD

A REPORTER in the Louisiana flood district working under difficulties. He reached the house pictured here by wading through water five feet deep.

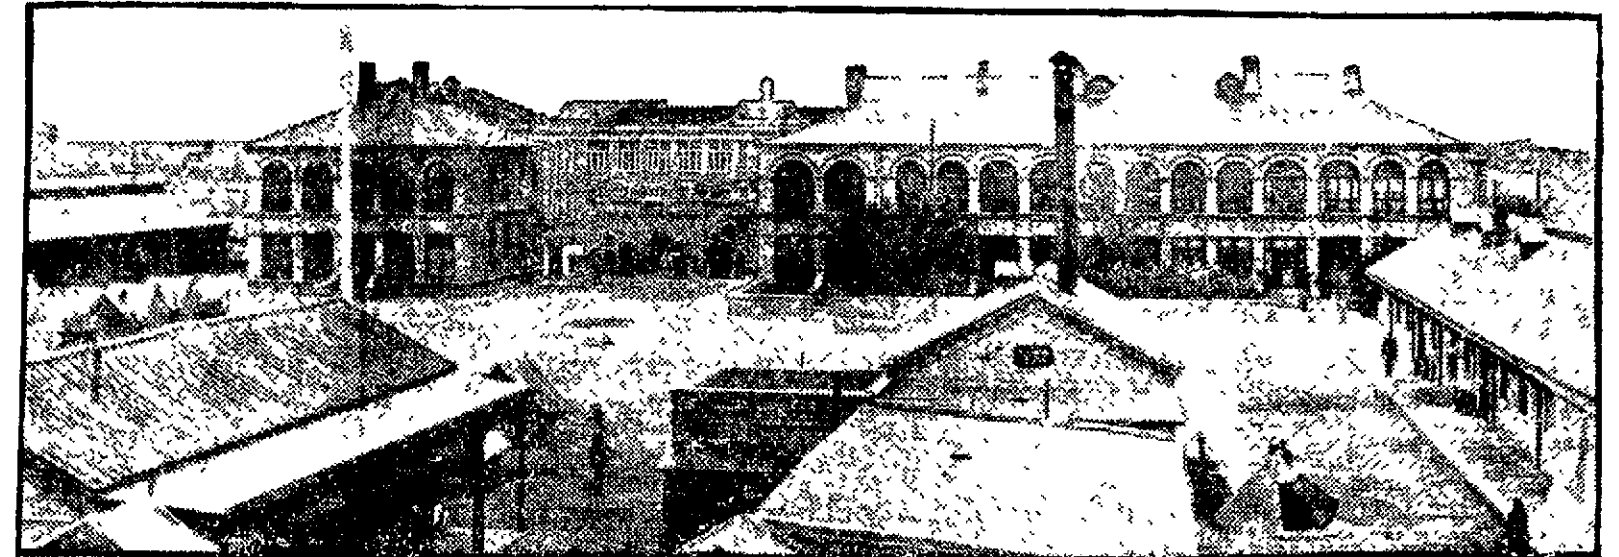

LEANING ON A CANE and aided by an attendant, former President Wilson appeared before his Washington home to acknowledge his role of 1990 delegates to the Pan American conference of Women.

FOREIGN LEGATION headquarters in Peking, pictured here while assailed as they can be made by strong guards of soldiers, are in some danger from airplane bombs and long range artillery.

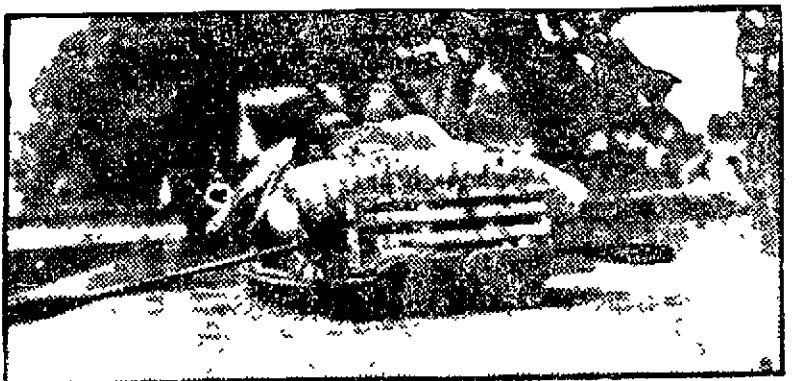

LEFT--RESCUES SHOWING a boat across the levee to go to the aid of families isolated by the flood who retreated to high ground as waters rose. Right--A dog, exhausted by long run to escape water, permitted photographer to come within 10 feet.

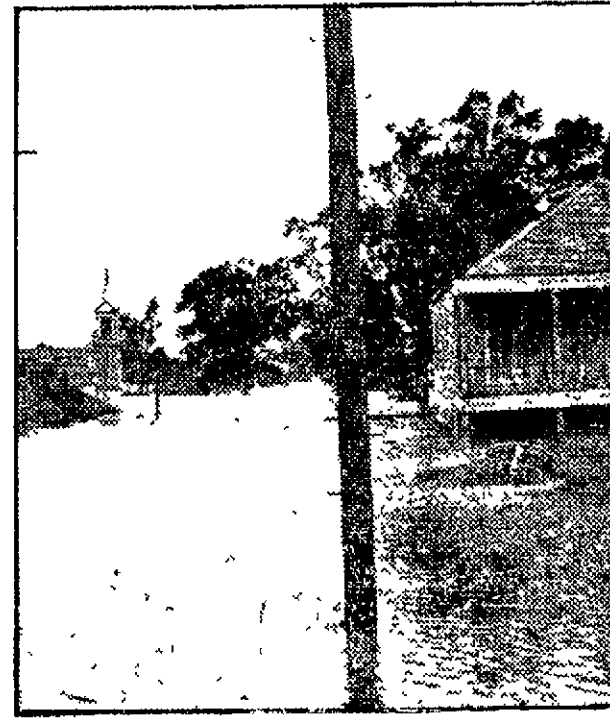

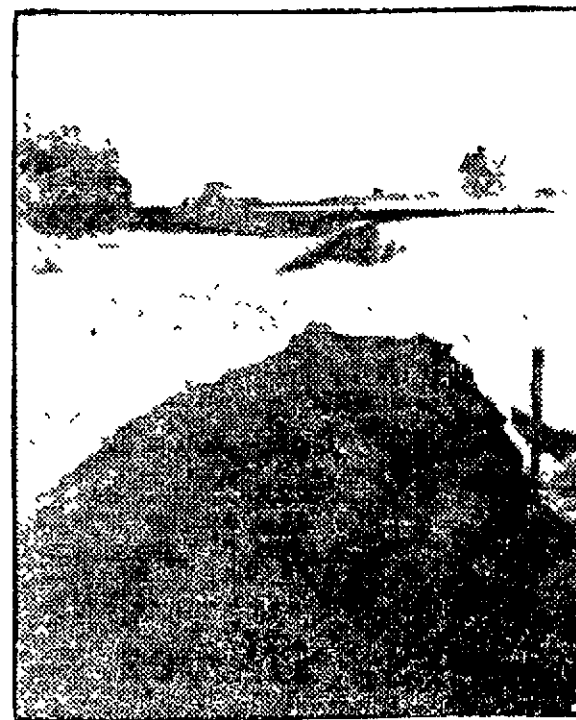

AT THE AMERICAN legation in Peking, shown here, United States Marines have the situation well in hand.

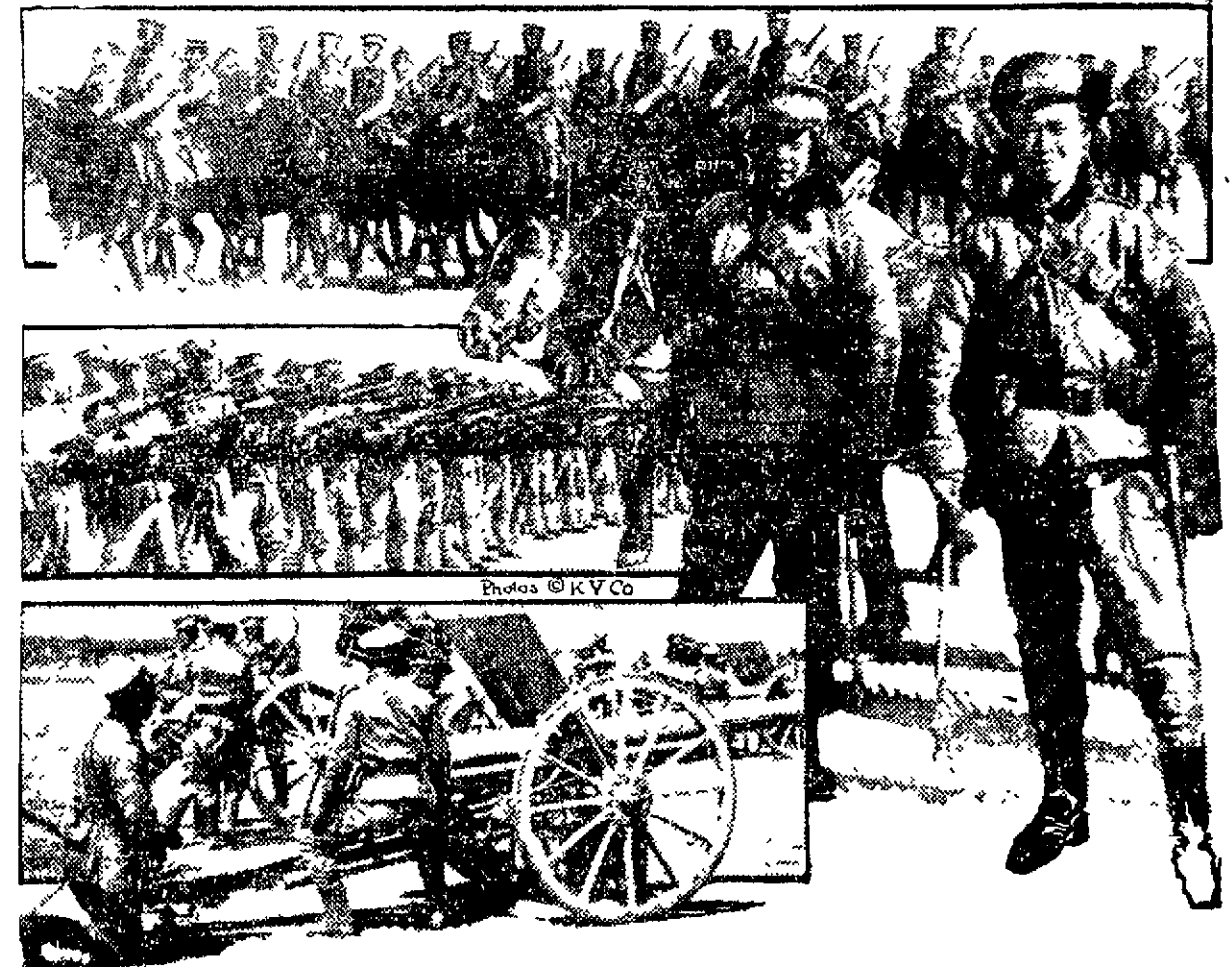

A BOAT LOAD OF refugees being taken from highlands where they were isolated by high water in Louisiana, to safety.

A REFUGEE SAVING the family bedding, a crate of chickens and their dog.

THOUSAND OF ACRES OF land were flooded under swelling waters and hundreds of people were compelled to rush to their lives to the highlands when levees, along the lower Mississippi gave out. At the left, water pouring through the rapidly crumbling wall of the levee. At the right, a church submerged to the roof, and other buildings on higher ground partly submerged.

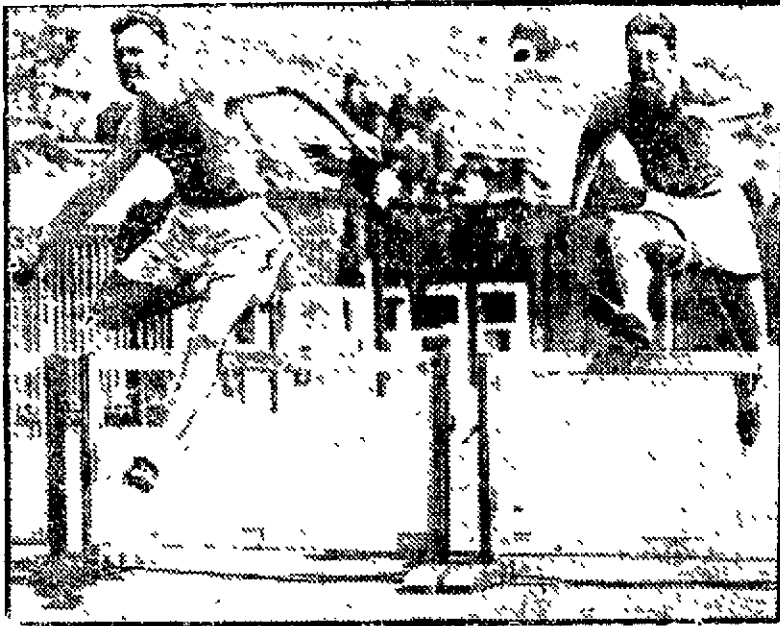

HERE ARE SOME Chinese troops and remnants of cavalry, infantry and artillery, ready for action.

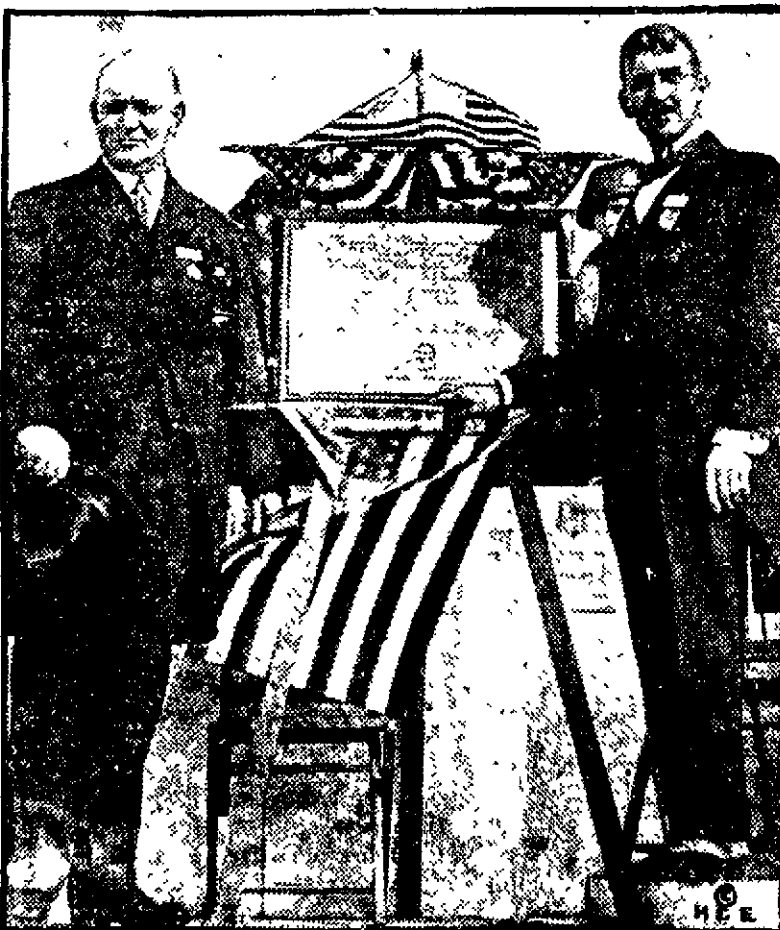

JACK DEMPSEY, world's heavyweight champion (center) promenading at the Elson Downs race with Joe Beckett, British heavyweight, (right) Carpentier knocked out Beckett before Jack trimmed George.

MORE THAN 1,000 delegates to the Pan-American conference gathered before the home of former President Wilson to acclaim the League of Nations. Wilson acknowledged the greeting.

W. G. HARNIER, University of Delaware, (left) winning the 440 yard hurdles in the sport carnival at Philadelphia. K. M. McCreary, Ohio State, was second.

CRAWFORD C. McCULLOUGH, Rotary President, and Secretary of the Navy Denby, member of the Detroit Rotary Club, unveil the Rotary tablet to the Unknown American Soldier in Arlington National cemetery. Rotarians from all sections of the country attended.

MISS MARY MCCORMICK, young prima donna of the Chicago opera and protégée of Mary Garden, is off to Europe for further training for which Miss Garden is paying.

GERTRUDE HANNA, above, was found dead in a vacant parsonage at Hoopeston, Ill. John C. Wyman, farmer, told authorities investigating the mystery of her death that he had been the girl's sweetheart. Police now are trying to find the murderer.

BRIGADIER GENERAL Charles D. Sawyer, the president's physician and Mrs. Sawyer, bound for the White House at 5:30 a. m. after fire routed them out of the New Willard hotel. Note that Mrs. Sawyer salvaged the general's two prize possessions, his bathrobe and his riding crop. The general looks all dressed up for so early in the day.

General Sawyer was one of a large number of prominent people who were forced to flee from the hotel when the fire broke out. It was one of the most spectacular events in the national capital in many months. Vice President and Mrs. Collidge also were routed out of bed by the blaze.

GOOD EVENING

THE WEATHER: Fair and warmer.

GLOUDEMANS-GAGE CO.

PICTORIAL REVIEW PATTERNS

Glorious Frocks and Accessories

Frocks For Confirmation

—and sweet girl graduates. Modes irresistible; fabrics exquisite.

Perfectly adorable Frocks—as though spun from winsoneness, into fabrics of utter joy.

Of georgette, organdy or crepe de chine—and mystery.

Simple as they can be, or ruffled and frilled, and tucked almost into a superlative magnificence.

A wisp of a tiny tuck here, where it couldn't be anywhere else, really it couldn't—but how did it ever happen to be so happily here, just where it is?

And this pretty sash—isn't it huge? But it couldn't be a bit less and nearly as wonderful in personality—could it?

And, it is all of these little things together that make GlouDEMANS-GAGE Co. Confirmation Frocks so radiant with charm — so entirely different—so smart and unusual. 2.75 to 16.50.

The Bride's Hat

There's a certain definite charm about these pretty Hats for Brides. For one thing, they're very becoming. They achieve the Parisian touch by new and clever innovations in styling. Fairest prices.

Veils For Brides

Veils of fairylike delicacy, ethereal in texture, and when draped artistically, will prove very becoming. Our Veils for Brides cast a halo of loveliness over the Bride and the occasion. Made to order, if desired.

—Second Floor—

The Bride's Trousseau

Imagine, if you please, festoons, of flowers—just a breath of them—and the wedding bell and the bower; imagine the bride's gown of white georgette, crepe de chine, Canton crepe or satin, beaded or embroidered, and trimmed with trills and trills of lace ("simplicity touched by the finger tips of genius"), with bodice caught into a corsage of orange blossoms. Imagine quaint, lacy sleeves, and tiny shirrings, and little rosebuds grouped like "Cupid wings"; imagine the bridesmaids' Frocks of daintiest materials—and you will have a picture that should bring you to GlouDEMANS-GAGE Co., to see the picture itself—to see the exquisite Frocks in this glorious showing for brides.

The thought is, that everyone should make preparations here and now. Certainly you will not fail to remember that the smartest Bridal Frocks are at GlouDEMANS-GAGE Co., priced at 19.75 to $35.

Traveling Suits

Traveling Suits that are notable for correct originality, taste and refinement of design as well as for quality of workmanship and material.

Blouses

Blouses of georgette or crepe de chine, materials so fine they might have been woven on a spider's loom—and the delicate shades, the styles, of such appeal in their refined, distinctive fashions—you'll love them at sight.

Silken Underwear

Silken Underwear, fresh and lovely, soft frilled or tucked, with sweet little ribbon bows—or delicate laces. Teddies, Knickers, Vests, Camisoles, Bloomers, Gowns—everything so beautiful.

—Second Floor—

White Goods Exquisitely Dainty; Fairest Prices

27 in. Dimity, bleached for Infant's Dresses, etc. fancy checks and stripes, 15c and 25c yard.

36 in. Organdy in bleached, 50c yard.

40 in. Organdy, bleached, 60c yard.

45 in. Imported Organdy, bleached, 75c yard.

45 in. Imported Organdy, bleached in a fine quality of exceptional sheerness, 85c yard.

45 in. Imported Organdy, bleached, in a cloth of exceptional beauty, for 1.00 yard.

27 in. Mercerized Poplin, bleached, 45c yard.

36 in. Mercerized Poplin in a fine quality, 55c yard.

36 in. Madras Shirting, bleached, with white fancy stripes, splendid for Men's fine shirts and Boys' blouses, 45c, 50c and 60c yard.

36 in. Linweaves in fancy checks and bars, all white for Ladies' waists, etc., 35c yard.

Indian Head Suitings—

36 in.—25c yard

45 in.—37c yard

54 in.—45c yard

36 in. Pongee bleached, a soft finish material to make up with the Peter Pan suitings 45c yard.

36 in. Clonigan Suiting bleached for nurses' uniforms, 35c yard.

36 in. Airplane Suiting, a splendid wearing material, 60c yard.

36 in. Ottoman, bleached, another popular suiting, 48c yard.

36 in. Middy Twill, bleached, a mercerized finish, 27c yard.

36 in. Middy Twill, heavy weight, 29c yard.

36 in. Duretta Twill, a soft finish, fine quality, mercerized cloth, 25c yard.

27 in. India Linen in pure white, priced at 15c, 18c, 25c yard.

27 in. Infant's wear cloth, bleached for Infant's Fine Dresses, 35c yd.

36 in. Percale, bleached, in a medium weight, 23c yard.

36 in. Percale bleached in a fine quality, soft finish, 25c yard.

36 in. Ratine in white, a popular fabric for Skirts, Dresses, etc., 75c yard.

—Main Floor—

White Silk Gloves 1.48

The stylish 16 button length. White Silk Gloves. Double tipped fingers; fancy stitched backs, only 1.48 a pair.

—Main Floor—

White Silks

36 in. White Wash Satin in a smooth finish Satin with high lustre, 1.95 yard.

40 in. White Crepe de Chine, medium light weight, $1.48 yard.

40 in. White Crepe de Chine in a heavy weight two thread crepe, 1.85 yard.

40 in. Georgette Crepe, good quality, $1.69 yard.

36 in. Tricolette in white, a heavy weight Tricolette. Our best quality, 1.69 yard.

40 in. Fairy Sun, a very splendid material for fine dresses, 1.98 yard.

36 in. Krepe Knit, in white. The original Krepe Knit, heavy weight. A very popular fabric, 2.89.

—Main Floor—

White Silk Gloves 95c

Short Silk Gloves, all white, with fancy stitching in white. Double finger tips. A handsome, durable Glove, 95c a pair.

—Main Floor—

Fine Linens And Domestic; Unusual Values

68 in. Table Damask, in a mercerized finish, a nice assortment of patterns, 75c yard.

68 in. Mercerized Table Damask in a medium weight cloth with fancy borders, 85c yard.

72 in. Table Damask in a fine quality mercerized, heavy weight, beautiful assortment of patterns, 95c yard.

72 in. part linen Table Damask, in a medium heavy weight, wide range of patterns, 1.50 yard.

72 in. Table Damask, 60% linen. This is a heavy weight cloth and we have a splendid selection of patterns at this price, 1.75 yard.

8-4 Bleached Sheeting, medium weight, 30c yard.

8-4 Bleached Sheeting, medium weight, no dressing, Saxony quality, 55c yard.

9-4 Bleached Sheeting, medium weight, no dressing, taped edge 57c yard.

42 in. Pillow Tubing, Pepperal quality, 39c yard.

42 in. Pillow Tubing, linen finish, 45c yard.

45 in. Pillow Tubing, medium, heavy weight 45c yard.

45 in. Pillow Tubing, linen finish, 49c yard.

36 in. Sheeting, bleached, Ivanhoe quality, 15c yard.

36 in. Bridal Sheeting, bleached, a fine quality at 25c yard.

36 in. Longcloth, bleached, a lightweight, soft finish cloth, 15c yard.

36 in. Longcloth, 10 yard bolts, 1.75 bolt.

36 in. Longcloth, medium weight soft finish, 29c yard.

36 in. Longcloth, a cloth of fine quality for fine lingerie, 30c yard.

Cambric and Nainsook

36 in. Cambric, fine quality, bleached, 25c a yard.

36 in. Lustré Cambric, medium weight, bleached, 25c a yard.

36 in. Lustré Cambric, best quality, 35c a yard.

36 in. Nainsook, quality for fine lingerie, 35c a yard.

—Main Floor—

May Economies in Dainty Muslin Underwear

While prices are very low, Quality is the big feature of this event. The materials are all good quality, the trimmings are very pretty and very dainty laces and embroideries; the needlework is as good as if the garments had been made under your own careful supervision.

Infants' Bonnets:
Fancy lace and embroidery trimmed. Organdy Bonnets, 1.35, 75c and 59c

Infants' Dresses: Soft nainsook or batiste. Dresses, round or square yokes of fine turks lace trimmed. Sizes 0, 1, 2, at 2.50, 1.25 and 75c

Women's Corset Covers: Fine nainsook, lace and embroidery trimming, sizes 36 to 44; at 2.50 to 85c

Step-in Bloomers: Crepe or batiste, lace and narrow edging trimming, 27 and 29 length; at 1.19, 60c and 45c

Princess Slips: Lace and insertion trimmed one style trimmed with embroidery ruffle and edging. Sizes: 6, 8, 10, 12, 16, and 18 years; 1.95 and 1.50

Marcella Drawers: Look like a skirt. No gathers at waist. lace and embroidery trimming, sizes: 26, 28, 30, 32 waist; 1.59, 1.25 and 95c

Petticoats: White sateen, double panel front and back, hem-stitched hem. Length: 34, 36 only 1.25

Extra Large Petticoats: Fine muslin, for stout figures, embroidered ruffle, 38, 40 length; only 1.25

Marcella Chemise: Finest nainsook, lace and insertion trimming, extra sizes: 46 to 52, at 2.25; regular sizes: 36 to 44, at 2.25, 2.50, 1.75 and 1.59

Muslin Petticoats: With embroidered ruffle, length: 34, 36, 38; only 75c

Muslin Gowns: Long sleeves, fancy trimmed yoke extra sizes, 1.25; regular sizes at $1

Misses' Gowns: Good quality muslin, with embroidered front an extra good value at 59c

Infants' Sweaters:
Fine white wool, with pink or blue stripes, front closing, only 1.75

Nainsook Gowns 1.95

Very dainty and pretty, lace trimmed yokes, with narrow ribbon rosettes, sizes 16, 17, 3.50, 2.50 and 1.95.

—Second Floor—

"Boyish Form" Bandeaus $1

Popular with school girls, as well as stout figures. Plain materials and brocades. Sizes: 32 to 50; at 59c, $1., 1.25, $2., 3.95.

Corsetette 1.50

For the slender or stout figure. Six styles to select from. Strong coutil or mercerized brocade or silk brocade. Elastic gussets, inserts, lacings and bands. Sizes: 32 to 44. Flesh only; $1., $2., $2. and 1.50.

Infants' Capes 4.50

Infants' Cashmere Cape and Bonnet, silk lined and silk embroidered edge, a feature value at 4.50.

—Second Floor—

CONCERT BY CHOIR TO OPEN LAWRENCE GRADUATION WEEK

Preliminary Arrangements Are Made for Seventy-fifth Anniversary Jubilee

A big concert by the Lawrence choir and a Chicago soloist will be the first event in the celebration of the seventy-fifth anniversary jubilee celebration at Lawrence college on June 5. The baccalaureate address for the graduating class will be given in Lawrence Memorial chapel by Dr. Samuel Blatz, president of the college, on Sunday, June 4. While the Rev. S. H. Anderson of Milwaukee will deliver the annual commencement sermon at the Methodist church on Sunday morning.

Tuesday, June 6, is alumni day, which is really to be the big day of the jubilee celebration. The program starts early in the morning with a series of addresses. President Silas Evans, Ripon college will give a congratulatory speech in behalf of the Wisconsin Colleges Association. Dr. E. W. Blakeman of Madison will speak on the founding and founder of Lawrence. The Rev. A. W. Triggs of Fort Atkinson will speak on "Lawrence, its Service to State and Church." Jessica North MacDonald has written a jubilee poem which she will read at the morning session. Bishop Homer C. Stuntz of Omaha will be the principal speaker on Tuesday morning.

ENTERTAIN VISITORS
Resident alumni of the college will be hosts to the visiting "old grads" at a luncheon at noon, the details of which have not been arranged. There will also be a meeting after lunch of the Lawrence Alumni association at which the graduating class will be received into the association.

The history of Lawrence in pageantry will be put on in the afternoon under the direction of Prof. F. W. Orr and Miss Anita Goehner. The program in which several hundred people will take part was written by Laura Loomis Schutz. Immediately after the pageant the May queen will be crowned on the campus with appropriate ceremony.

ALUMNI BANQUET
Dr. James Reeve will be toastmaster at the annual alumni banquet which will take place at Russell Sage dormitory on Tuesday evening. There will be several speakers whose subjects will relate to the diamond jubilee and plans are underway for several other features to be added to alumni program.

The commencement exercises for the graduating class will be somewhat different since the students themselves will give orations rather than have a speaker from outside. Members of the class who will give orations are the Misses Esther Baldwin, Escanaba, Mich.; and Lillian Schlafke, Appleton and Alfred Root, Appleton; Charles L. Richter, Appleton and Ralph Holm, Appleton. There will be 54 in the graduating class, this class being the first that was affected by the war enthusiasm. Next year's class probably will be something over 100.

MAY FORM LEGION POST AT SHIOCTON

Veterans living in the towns of Elington, Maine, Bovina and Greenville are considering organization of an American legion post at Shiocton. It is quite probable a meeting soon will be held to discuss the matter.

Veterans in those towns, and there are quite a number of them, either are not members of any post or are obliged to go quite long distances to attend meetings. It is believed that a thriving organization can be formed at Shiocton, drawing its membership from the four towns.

UNIQUE PROGRAM FOR LINCOLN COMMENCEMENT

A "hobby commencement" will mark the closing of the Lincoln school this year. Plans for the event now are under way. Members of the graduating class who will take part will talk or act subjects which particularly interest them. Some will give talks on forestry, others on teaching, and others who are gifted in writing will read original stories. Pupils who are interested in music will give solos and duets. Commencement exercises probably will be held Wednesday evening, May 31.

VETERAN PAINTER ILL MORE THAN A YEAR

Lew Cole, veteran painter of the Fourth ward, who has been confined to his home for several months, was downtown last week for the first time in a year. He visited a few of his old friends.

During the fifty years he was engaged in his trade in Appleton, he painted practically all the churches, many of the school buildings, court-house, county asylum and a large number of store buildings.

PREPARE FOR CENSUS IN TOWN OF BUCHANAN

I. Huzo Keller, member of the Ninth district executive committee, American legion, who is in charge of the service census in Outagamie co., will go to Darboy Monday to attend a meeting of the Darboy post. Arrangements will be made for conducting the survey of the needs of former service men in town of Buchanan. A big dinner will precede the meeting.

May Ball at Twelve Cor. Wed., May 10th. Featuring high class music. Busses leave Pettibone's 8:15 and 9 P. M.

76 VETERANS GET AID FROM RED CROSS

One New Claim for Compensation for Disability is Filed in April

Seventy-six former service men applied to the Red Cross center here for assistance of various kinds in April according to the monthly report prepared by Miss Anne Helm, executive secretary. Services of various kinds also were rendered to a large number of others.

Hospitalization service was secured for two war veterans, the report shows. One new claim for compensation for disability suffered as a result of the war was filed. The Red Cross also was asked to assist in obtaining back pay for a soldier now deceased.

It was necessary to secure 35 affidavits from former soldiers and others to back up claims of service men.

The report shows that two infant layettes were sent to the homes of two service men in the county.

BUILD SHOULDERS ALONG NEW PAVING

Carver-st. to be 26 Feet Wide Part of Its Distance—Improve Adkins-st.

Cinder shoulders, four feet wide, are being built along the new concrete pavement on Carver-st. from the Ashland division railroad tracks to Bellings corners. The shoulders from Bellings corners to the city limits will be three feet wide.

The highway when it is completed, will be 26 feet wide from the railroad tracks to the corners and 24 feet wide the remainder of the distance. The cinder shoulders, which are being built by the city street department, are replacing the present clay filling.

The street department is grading Adkins-st., from Richmond to Locust-st., preparatory to cinderizing. The department is completing cinderizing of Rankin-st., south from Alton-st. half way down the hill to John-st. The hill has been closed to traffic. The street at the upper end has been raised about three feet and a retaining wall has been built to hold the filling.

"Y" NET MEN OPEN SUMMER SEASON
Tennis courts of the Y. M. C. A. were put in shape for the season Saturday and players now will begin their summer's activities. The fences have been repaired and rewired around the bottom and a new street light has been erected. The courts have been raked over and rolled down until the clay has become as smooth as a pavement.

Many players have signed up for this year's tennis club, but there still are a number of the "old standbys" who have not added their names to the list, according to R. J. Starkey, physical director. He expects there will be a flood of applications once the white-clad net men are seen in action.

PULPWOOD SHIPMENTS SLOWLY FALLING OFF

While there is a lull in the shipment of pulpwood railroads men expect the rush will be upon them again the latter part of the month when raft wood towed across Lake Superior will commence to arrive from Ashland. The wood now arriving comes from northern Wisconsin and Minnesota and has dropped off nearly 50 per cent.

All Who Are Thin and Pale Need Father John's Medicine

Strength and weight lost during the winter should be made up in the spring. Father John's Medicine is just the thing to bring about this desired change for it is pure nourishment and contains the elements to make flesh and strength. It contains no alcohol or dangerous drugs.

SERVICE Hair Trimming and Bobbing a Specialty

HOTEL APPLETON
BARBER SHOP
C. F. Plaash

SEED POTATOES

Rural New Yorkers and Russett Rurals
Grown from certified stock
Thoroughly ripe

B. F. WINCKLER
Medina, Wis.

PROGRESSIVES OF NINTH DISTRICT GET IMPATIENT

LaFollette is Neglecting to State Whether He Will Support Hall or Schneider

Progressive Republicans of the Ninth congressional district, heretofore strong adherents of Senator R. M. LaFollette and Governor J. J. Blaine, are showing increased signs of impatience at the disinclination of those two men to indicate a preference in the congressional race in this district. Both men have been asked point blank to state whether they will support Elmer S. Hall, who announced his candidacy some weeks ago, or George Schneider, who was endorsed for the Republican nomination at a conference of Progressive leaders of the district in Green Bay April 9.

Just prior to the Green Bay meeting Sen. LaFollette had written to F. E. Bachman, Appleton Progressive leader, indicating he was highly in favor of Hall's candidacy. The convention, however, endorsed Schneider and the following day letters were sent to the senator and the governor asking them to state which of two men they would endorse. Blaine replied after a few days saying that inasmuch as both men were in the race he would pursue a policy of noninterference but suggested that the Progressives line up behind the strongest candidate. He intimated that if both Hall and Schneider remain in the race both would be defeated. The governor refused to state in his letter whom he would support.

Senator LaFollette thus far has not sent any reply and his supporters in the district are becoming impatient. It is said that unless he indicates a preference and that preference is Schneider that his strength here will not be nearly as great as it has been in the past.

Long Earrings And Combs Restored To Popularity

A pair of earrings with long pendants, an elaborately carved comb set with stones to match the bangles, and milady is all dressed up and she probably will find some place to go, too. Mayhap, she will add a string of beads and a beaded sash to her costume, but these, although charming, are not so necessary.

For sometimes past the hair has been innocent of fancy combs, and the old fashioned back and side combs have long since ceased to serve their original purpose. There was a time, according to one jeweler when they bought these sets of three by the gross and every woman dressed her hair with their aid. Now, the fancy comb, or perhaps, it is only a hairpin, has no function except to ornament the coiffure.

And the earrings with their long jewels dangling an inch or more below the lobe of the ear are the last word in smartness. They demand the "vamp" type of wearer and clothes with long lines rather than the short fluffy things which the over talked about flapper type can wear. According to hair dressers, the earrings are the natural result of the reappearance of the ears from beneath the coiffure, for in the cities, the closer one wears her hair to her head, the more chic she is. The earring accentuates the close hair dress and the hair dress, the ear rings.

Both the hair and ear ornaments come in every conceivable shape and color. In the latter, black, jade and red are the most popular. Many of the styles have the long slender jewel hanging from the drop at the ear while others have a hoop, or perhaps two or three of them altogether. Still another style has a somewhat smaller jewel hanging at the end of a long silver or gold chain.

The hair ornaments are set with red, green, blue and amber jewels or combinations of these. They are also found in black jet. The combs themselves are in the usual dark and amber colors and a new dark gray which sets off the stones to splendid advantage. The larger ones are patented after the old fashioned carved combs of your grandmother's day and are nearly as large. These are mostly carved backs measuring as wide as eight inches or more across. Most of these large ones are not jeweled.

THE STAGE
"Love's Boomerang"
Scott and Woods, the singing duo who were one of the biggest hits ever recorded at the Appleton in a recent vaudeville bill, are announced by the management as a feature for the entire week starting today. The return engagement is the result of many requests by patrons for the reappearance of these boys who are harmony singers and funmakers of the front rank. They bring fine voices, pep, youth and new songs for the week here and promise to duplicate their previous success.

The feature picture for the three days is a story of circus life and romance, "Love's Boomerang." The atmosphere of the big top permeates the entire offering and it has a love story that pleases. David Powell, Ann Forest and others are prominent in the cast. "His Hidden Purpose," a Mack Sennett comedy and the International News complete the bill.

Starting Thursday and for the remainder of the week comes Mary Pickford in a screen version of Frances Hodgson Burnett's widely read story "Little Lord Fauntleroy." Miss Pickford enacts the dual role of Dearest and Cedric and it is said to be her greatest screen achievement.

Lay Water Mains
Water mains are now being laid by the water department on Elsie-st. About 1,000 feet of mains are being laid. The work will be completed in a week, after which work will commence on 1,300 feet of watermain on Lawrence-st. from Mason-st. to Douglas-st.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS MOVE OFFICES TO CITY

Officers of R. & W. Construction Co., Chicago, have been moved to Appleton and will be located at 842 College-ave., above Ryan & Long's plumbing shop. P. E. Widsten, head of the company, has moved his family here and is living at 485 Pacific-st. temporarily.

This firm does an electrical engineering business and specializes in power plant construction and transmission line building. Much of the power facilities around Appleton have been erected by the company, including the power plant and Neenah substation of Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company and the lighting plant at New London.

Enterline's INCORPORATED
850 COLLEGE AVE.

Buy Shoes where you Get Satisfaction Or An Other Pair Free

$4.90
Top Price

$4.90
Top Price

In SHOES as in garments color combinations are popular

$4.90

Patent and Grey Suede Combination

TRUE SHAPE HOSIERY in the wanted colors for Spring

$1.50 and $2.00

CHILDREN'S SANDALS 80c to $1.60

REQUEST STATE TO SPEED WORK ON MEDINA ROAD

Highway Commission is Asked to Secure Bids to Close
Gap on Route 18

In an effort to hasten start of the work on the unimproved stretch of road between Appleton and Medina on Route 18, A. G. Brusewitz, county highway commissioner, has written to the state highway commission urging it to take steps to secure bids for this work as soon as possible. It is believed the highway commission will take up the matter at once so construction work can be started in a few weeks.

About 4 1/2 miles of road between Appleton and Medina remains to be improved with an 18-foot concrete highway. The work will cost in the neighborhood of $100,000. The cost will be paid from state, federal and county funds.

When the work is finished there will be a continuous concrete highway, except for a few blocks in Appleton, from Green Bay to Dale and several miles beyond.

Taste is a matter of tobacco quality

We state it as our honest belief that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield are of finer quality and hence of better taste than in any other cigarette at the price.

"I like 'em!"

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

They Satisfy

ERECT MAUSOLEUM IN ST. JOSEPH CEMETERY

S. A. Konz of Konz Box and Lumber Co. is building a new Barry granite mausoleum at St. Joseph cemetery which is nearing completion. The construction work is being done by Appleton Marble & Granite Works. The mausoleum is located on the south side overlooking Fox river, and is the first to be erected in that cemetery.

Big Eaters Get Kidney Troubles

Don't neglect backache, sore joints, stiffness, puffy eyes, interrupted sleep or other signs of weak kidneys or bladder. Correct the trouble while it is a trouble with Dr. Carey's PRESCRIPTION No. 777. Standard for over two generations. Avoid dangers of serious complications. Druggists guarantee first bottle. Sure relief or money back. Get it at Schlitz Bros. Co. and reliable druggists everywhere.

DR. H. L. PLAYMAN
DENTIST
Telephone 254
812 College Ave.
Appleton, Wis.

DR. WILLIAM O'KEEFE
DENTIST
Olympia Bldg.

DR. H. K. PRATT
DENTIST
816 College Avenue
Appleton, Wisconsin

DR. OTTO DUMKE
DENTIST
Voigt's Building
Appleton, Wisconsin
Phone 2579
Office Hours—9 to 12 A. M.
2 to 5 P. M., 7 to 8 P. M.

Edward F. Mielke, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon
611 Morrison Street
Appleton, Wisconsin
Phone 644. Voigt Bldg.

EYE SIGHT SPECIALIST
William Keller, O. D.
EYE SPECIALIST
Second Floor
821 College Ave. Appleton, Wis.
Office Hours 8:30 a. m. to 12:00 m.
1:30 to 5:30 p. m.
Evenings—Wed. & Sat. 7:00-9:00
Office Phone 2415

LAUNDRIES
Appleton's Soft Water
Laundry
PHONE 33
The National Laundry

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

TEA ROOM & CONFECTIONERIES

SESSION'S ICE CREAM Is Sold By Ingraham & Simon
Phone 396
651 Appleton St.

ADDING MACHINES
BURROUGHS
Adding, Bookkeeping
Calculating Machines
207 First Nat'l Bldg. Phone 370

STEAMSHIP AGENCY
STEAMSHIP TICKETS
To and From EUROPE
Mediterranean, South America and Oriental service by the leading STEAMSHIP LINES.
Special European Tours including
PASSION PLAY at Oberammergau.
Affidavits of support executed for purchasers of Prepaid Tickets.
For rates and particulars apply to HENRY REUTER, Agent
548 Lawrence Court Phone 1337
APPLETON, WIS.

PRINTING
Chris. Roemer Estate
Commercial Printing
In All Its Branches
(Next to Post-Crescent)
Appleton, Wis.
Phone 1790

AUTOMOBILE PAINTING
ELLIS & PLUMMER
Expert Automobile Painting and Re-Varnishing
Corner Lawrence and Appleton-Sts.
APPLETON, WIS.
"Service" Our Motto
Colors a Specialty
TELEPHONE 781

Appleton
Phone 3134
Palmer Graduates
BALOGA & BALOGA
CHIROPRACTORS
Lady Chiropractor
Specializing on Women and Children
Weber Hotel 708 College-Ave.
Dale, Wis. Appleton, Wis.

FOR GOOD RESULTS
TRY
POST-CRESCENT WANT ADS

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

Try Post-Crescent Want Ads.

$539,875 BALANCE IN COUNTY TREASURY

Outagamie county, on March 31, 1922, had a balance of $740,093.66 in its treasury, according to an audit prepared by Riley, Penner and Everts of Milwaukee, filed a few days ago. The audit was for the months of February and March.

Linda Lee, Inc.

by LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE

© 1921 by Louis Joseph Vance

"Mrs. Bellamy Bruce? Rather a beautiful thing, isn't it? You make a fine over it."

"I don't expect me to wish it did you, Linda."

"I'm afraid I wasn't thinking of you at all when I took it."

"Nothing if you had been you might have thought twice before taking it."

"No fear! I was too much in love with Bel."

"Linda?"

"I didn't mean to be impertinent, I only—well, naturally I wanted to know whether or not your mission of inoculation had taken effect."

"I think it has safely, say it has, I've got a cold and a fever, and I feel like a new man."

"I was ever an innocent."

"It seemed a long time to me, Linda—five years since these eyes were last made glad by the sight of you."

"At least, I'm not impudently your knees, it's pretty speeches."

"Nor your power to inspire them."

"I'm not so sure to myself, I seem ever so much older."

"Duke turned full free to the man on the left, anxiety to know or feel upon the delicately penciled brows."

"I don't know it all, Dobbin the rubric march of advancing years."

"The man answered critically, his eyes and withheld his verdict as if in doubt, but a corner of his mouth was twitching."

"You are lovelier today than ever, lovelier even than the memories of you that have quickened my dreams."

"Truly, Dobbin, you've lost nothing of your ancient elegance. That last speech quite carried me back across the bridge of time to the days when more than once you all but took me off my feet and into your arms."

"Pity I ever stopped talking."

"How direct and persistent you are. It's only fair to tell you the traditions of our kind to the contrary, notwithstanding, I'm still in love with my husband."

"For a moment Richard Deubeney was silent, staring at his plate. Then he looked up with a light-hearted chuckle and smile."

"It's like you, Dobbin, to start making love to me all over again precisely as if my being married meant nothing in the first minutes of our first meeting in five years, without trying to tell me a single thing about yourself."

"Nothing much to tell. Everybody knows when you married yourself to marry Duke, I rode off to the wars."

"We heard you'd later taken up ranching in the Argentine and made a tidy fortune."

"I didn't do so badly, that's a fact, but that is a man's life, if he can't gain the whole world and lose his own soul."

"Is one to understand you're your soul in the Argentine? It sounds so amusingly immoral."

"I realized down there my soul was in a fair way to prove a total loss. So I sold out and shipped for home."

"Hoping to find me unhappy enough with Bel."

"That's unworthy of you, Linda. No simply to be in the same world with you."

"After a little Mrs. Bellamy Bruce said severely, Dobbin, if you keep on that tack you will make me cross with you. How does New York look to an exile of long standing? Much changed?"

"Oh, I don't know. Skirts and morals—a bit higher, say a little more so, but that is just what one expects of society even more loosely constituted—a vast influx of new people. I don't know half these people. Astonishing lot of pretty girls seem to have sprung up since my time. What the ravings about on Bill Sedley's light?"

"Amelia Severn, Amelia, I love that was before she married. Surely you remember her."

"Good heavens! she was in long dresses when I saw her last."

"Pretty creature, don't you think?"

"Rather. Can't blame the chap next her for his open infatuation."

"Laughter thrilled in Lucinda's reply. 'Why don't you recognize him?' That's Bel."

"As if the diminutive pronounced in the clear accents of his wife had carried through the murmur of talk."

"Bellamy Bruce looked up. Perceiving Lucinda's smile at the end of an aisle of shaded lights he smiled in turn, but with the muscles of his face alone. And looking from him to the flushed and charming countenance of the young woman on his left, bending low over her plate to hide confusion, Lucinda thought with a faint pang more of impatience than of jealousy. He's in love again."

"II"

"With a small sign of animal delight in the caress of fur and the chill draught from the open window upon her face, Lucinda Bruce settled back in the town car again, set unmindful of the fluid nocturne of Fifth Avenue."

"Bel had asked to be dropped at the Brook, alleging a rendezvous of one sort or another safely masculine of course. Beyond reflecting that Bel was in all likelihood lying, Lucinda had paid slight heed to his excuses."

"Then, too, she was not ill pleased with having herself all to herself in this thoughtful mood which had become hers since leaving the Sedley's."

"Besides, Bel had been making too free with the Sedley's cellar. Not that she was disposed to hold this a grievance, thoroughgoing mondaine that she was, she was with the spirit of a day that was learning to look tolerantly upon intemperance as a fashionable form of protest against prohibition."

"No, it wasn't that, it was the fact established by long observation that Bel seldom drank more than he could manage gracefully unless on the verge of some new gallantry. Bel assuredly didn't need anything to stimulate his enterprise. She fancied it must be because alcohol served as a sort of anesthetic for his conscience."

"She had a smile transiently bitter. The most feathery-headed irresponsible of philanthropists the most incorrigible between whiles the most contrite."

"His fits of penitence were terribly real when she caught him misbehaving. Or was that too merely part of the game with Bel? Was it just a conventional gambit to make believe repentance and promise faithfully never never to be naughty again?"

"She discovered that the car was already at a standstill. Immured in revenue she hadn't noticed the turn off from the avenue."

"As always, her home enfolded her in its comfortable atmosphere of security from every assault of adversity by virtue of the solid wealth upon which it was founded, that world of comfortable whole into which two great fortunes had been fused by her marriage with Bellamy."

"In the library she lingered a long minute purposely searching the prohibition. No, it wasn't that, it was the fact established by long observation that Bel seldom drank more than he could manage gracefully unless on the verge of some new gallantry. Bel assuredly didn't need anything to stimulate his enterprise. She fancied it must be because alcohol served as a sort of anesthetic for his conscience."

"She had a smile transiently bitter. The most feathery-headed irresponsible of philanthropists the most incorrigible between whiles the most contrite."

"His fits of penitence were terribly real when she caught him misbehaving. Or was that too merely part of the game with Bel? Was it just a conventional gambit to make believe repentance and promise faithfully never never to be naughty again?"

"She discovered that the car was already at a standstill. Immured in revenue she hadn't noticed the turn off from the avenue."

"As always, her home enfolded her in its comfortable atmosphere of security from every assault of adversity by virtue of the solid wealth upon which it was founded, that world of comfortable whole into which two great fortunes had been fused by her marriage with Bellamy."

"In the library she lingered a long minute purposely searching the prohibition. No, it wasn't that, it was the fact established by long observation that Bel seldom drank more than he could manage gracefully unless on the verge of some new gallantry. Bel assuredly didn't need anything to stimulate his enterprise. She fancied it must be because alcohol served as a sort of anesthetic for his conscience."

"She had a smile transiently bitter. The most feathery-headed irresponsible of philanthropists the most incorrigible between whiles the most contrite."

"His fits of penitence were terribly real when she caught him misbehaving. Or was that too merely part of the game with Bel? Was it just a conventional gambit to make believe repentance and promise faithfully never never to be naughty again?"

"She discovered that the car was already at a standstill. Immured in revenue she hadn't noticed the turn off from the avenue."

"As always, her home enfolded her in its comfortable atmosphere of security from every assault of adversity by virtue of the solid wealth upon which it was founded, that world of comfortable whole into which two great fortunes had been fused by her marriage with Bellamy."

"In the library she lingered a long minute purposely searching the prohibition. No, it wasn't that, it was the fact established by long observation that Bel seldom drank more than he could manage gracefully unless on the verge of some new gallantry. Bel assuredly didn't need anything to stimulate his enterprise. She fancied it must be because alcohol served as a sort of anesthetic for his conscience."

"She had a smile transiently bitter. The most feathery-headed irresponsible of philanthropists the most incorrigible between whiles the most contrite."

"His fits of penitence were terribly real when she caught him misbehaving. Or was that too merely part of the game with Bel? Was it just a conventional gambit to make believe repentance and promise faithfully never never to be naughty again?"

"She discovered that the car was already at a standstill. Immured in revenue she hadn't noticed the turn off from the avenue."

"As always, her home enfolded her in its comfortable atmosphere of security from every assault of adversity by virtue of the solid wealth upon which it was founded, that world of comfortable whole into which two great fortunes had been fused by her marriage with Bellamy."

"In the library she lingered a long minute purposely searching the prohibition. No, it wasn't that, it was the fact established by long observation that Bel seldom drank more than he could manage gracefully unless on the verge of some new gallantry. Bel assuredly didn't need anything to stimulate his enterprise. She fancied it must be because alcohol served as a sort of anesthetic for his conscience."

"She had a smile transiently bitter. The most feathery-headed irresponsible of philanthropists the most incorrigible between whiles the most contrite."

"His fits of penitence were terribly real when she caught him misbehaving. Or was that too merely part of the game with Bel? Was it just a conventional gambit to make believe repentance and promise faithfully never never to be naughty again?"

"She discovered that the car was already at a standstill. Immured in revenue she hadn't noticed the turn off from the avenue."

"As always, her home enfolded her in its comfortable atmosphere of security from every assault of adversity by virtue of the solid wealth upon which it was founded, that world of comfortable whole into which two great fortunes had been fused by her marriage with Bellamy."

"In the library she lingered a long minute purposely searching the prohibition. No, it wasn't that, it was the fact established by long observation that Bel seldom drank more than he could manage gracefully unless on the verge of some new gallantry. Bel assuredly didn't need anything to stimulate his enterprise. She fancied it must be because alcohol served as a sort of anesthetic for his conscience."

"She had a smile transiently bitter. The most feathery-headed irresponsible of philanthropists the most incorrigible between whiles the most contrite."

"His fits of penitence were terribly real when she caught him misbehaving. Or was that too merely part of the game with Bel? Was it just a conventional gambit to make believe repentance and promise faithfully never never to be naughty again?"

"She discovered that the car was already at a standstill. Immured in revenue she hadn't noticed the turn off from the avenue."

"As always, her home enfolded her in its comfortable atmosphere of security from every assault of adversity by virtue of the solid wealth upon which it was founded, that world of comfortable whole into which two great fortunes had been fused by her marriage with Bellamy."

"In the library she lingered a long minute purposely searching the prohibition. No, it wasn't that, it was the fact established by long observation that Bel seldom drank more than he could manage gracefully unless on the verge of some new gallantry. Bel assuredly didn't need anything to stimulate his enterprise. She fancied it must be because alcohol served as a sort of anesthetic for his conscience."

"She had a smile transiently bitter. The most feathery-headed irresponsible of philanthropists the most incorrigible between whiles the most contrite."

"His fits of penitence were terribly real when she caught him misbehaving. Or was that too merely part of the game with Bel? Was it just a conventional gambit to make believe repentance and promise faithfully never never to be naughty again?"

"She discovered that the car was already at a standstill. Immured in revenue she hadn't noticed the turn off from the avenue."

"As always, her home enfolded her in its comfortable atmosphere of security from every assault of adversity by virtue of the solid wealth upon which it was founded, that world of comfortable whole into which two great fortunes had been fused by her marriage with Bellamy."

"In the library she lingered a long minute purposely searching the prohibition. No, it wasn't that, it was the fact established by long observation that Bel seldom drank more than he could manage gracefully unless on the verge of some new gallantry. Bel assuredly didn't need anything to stimulate his enterprise. She fancied it must be because alcohol served as a sort of anesthetic for his conscience."

"She had a smile transiently bitter. The most feathery-headed irresponsible of philanthropists the most incorrigible between whiles the most contrite."

"His fits of penitence were terribly real when she caught him misbehaving. Or was that too merely part of the game with Bel? Was it just a conventional gambit to make believe repentance and promise faithfully never never to be naughty again?"

"She discovered that the car was already at a standstill. Immured in revenue she hadn't noticed the turn off from the avenue."

"As always, her home enfolded her in its comfortable atmosphere of security from every assault of adversity by virtue of the solid wealth upon which it was founded, that world of comfortable whole into which two great fortunes had been fused by her marriage with Bellamy."

"In the library she lingered a long minute purposely searching the prohibition. No, it wasn't that, it was the fact established by long observation that Bel seldom drank more than he could manage gracefully unless on the verge of some new gallantry. Bel assuredly didn't need anything to stimulate his enterprise. She fancied it must be because alcohol served as a sort of anesthetic for his conscience."

"She had a smile transiently bitter. The most feathery-headed irresponsible of philanthropists the most incorrigible between whiles the most contrite."

"His fits of penitence were terribly real when she caught him misbehaving. Or was that too merely part of the game with Bel? Was it just a conventional gambit to make believe repentance and promise faithfully never never to be naughty again?"

"She discovered that the car was already at a standstill. Immured in revenue she hadn't noticed the turn off from the avenue."

"As always, her home enfolded her in its comfortable atmosphere of security from every assault of adversity by virtue of the solid wealth upon which it was founded, that world of comfortable whole into which two great fortunes had been fused by her marriage with Bellamy."

"In the library she lingered a long minute purposely searching the prohibition. No, it wasn't that, it was the fact established by long observation that Bel seldom drank more than he could manage gracefully unless on the verge of some new gallantry. Bel assuredly didn't need anything to stimulate his enterprise. She fancied it must be because alcohol served as a sort of anesthetic for his conscience."

"She had a smile transiently bitter. The most feathery-headed irresponsible of philanthropists the most incorrigible between whiles the most contrite."

"His fits of penitence were terribly real when she caught him misbehaving. Or was that too merely part of the game with Bel? Was it just a conventional gambit to make believe repentance and promise faithfully never never to be naughty again?"

"She discovered that the car was already at a standstill. Immured in revenue she hadn't noticed the turn off from the avenue."

"As always, her home enfolded her in its comfortable atmosphere of security from every assault of adversity by virtue of the solid wealth upon which it was founded, that world of comfortable whole into which two great fortunes had been fused by her marriage with Bellamy."

"In the library she lingered a long minute purposely searching the prohibition. No, it wasn't that, it was the fact established by long observation that Bel seldom drank more than he could manage gracefully unless on the verge of some new gallantry. Bel assuredly didn't need anything to stimulate his enterprise. She fancied it must be because alcohol served as a sort of anesthetic for his conscience."

"She had a smile transiently bitter. The most feathery-headed irresponsible of philanthropists the most incorrigible between whiles the most contrite."

"His fits of penitence were terribly real when she caught him misbehaving. Or was that too merely part of the game with Bel? Was it just a conventional gambit to make believe repentance and promise faithfully never never to be naughty again?"

"She discovered that the car was already at a standstill. Immured in revenue she hadn't noticed the turn off from the avenue."

"As always, her home enfolded her in its comfortable atmosphere of security from every assault of adversity by virtue of the solid wealth upon which it was founded, that world of comfortable whole into which two great fortunes had been fused by her marriage with Bellamy."

"In the library she lingered a long minute purposely searching the prohibition. No, it wasn't that, it was the fact established by long observation that Bel seldom drank more than he could manage gracefully unless on the verge of some new gallantry. Bel assuredly didn't need anything to stimulate his enterprise. She fancied it must be because alcohol served as a sort of anesthetic for his conscience."

"She had a smile transiently bitter. The most feathery-headed irresponsible of philanthropists the most incorrigible between whiles the most contrite."

"His fits of penitence were terribly real when she caught him misbehaving. Or was that too merely part of the game with Bel? Was it just a conventional gambit to make believe repentance and promise faithfully never never to be naughty again?"

"She discovered that the car was already at a standstill. Immured in revenue she hadn't noticed the turn off from the avenue."

"As always, her home enfolded her in its comfortable atmosphere of security from every assault of adversity by virtue of the solid wealth upon which it was founded, that world of comfortable whole into which two great fortunes had been fused by her marriage with Bellamy."

"In the library she lingered a long minute purposely searching the prohibition. No, it wasn't that, it was the fact established by long observation that Bel seldom drank more than he could manage gracefully unless on the verge of some new gallantry. Bel assuredly didn't need anything to stimulate his enterprise. She fancied it must be because alcohol served as a sort of anesthetic for his conscience."

"She had a smile transiently bitter. The most feathery-headed irresponsible of philanthropists the most incorrigible between whiles the most contrite."

"His fits of penitence were terribly real when she caught him misbehaving. Or was that too merely part of the game with Bel? Was it just a conventional gambit to make believe repentance and promise faithfully never never to be naughty again?"

"She discovered that the car was already at a standstill. Immured in revenue she hadn't noticed the turn off from the avenue."

"As always, her home enfolded her in its comfortable atmosphere of security from every assault of adversity by virtue of the solid wealth upon which it was founded, that world of comfortable whole into which two great fortunes had been fused by her marriage with Bellamy."

"In the library she lingered a long minute purposely searching the prohibition. No, it wasn't that, it was the fact established by long observation that Bel seldom drank more than he could manage gracefully unless on the verge of some new gallantry. Bel assuredly didn't need anything to stimulate his enterprise. She fancied it must be because alcohol served as a sort of anesthetic for his conscience."

"She had a smile transiently bitter. The most feathery-headed irresponsible of philanthropists the most incorrigible between whiles the most contrite."

"His fits of penitence were terribly real when she caught him misbehaving. Or was that too merely part of the game with Bel? Was it just a conventional gambit to make believe repentance and promise faithfully never never to be naughty again?"

"She discovered that the car was already at a standstill. Immured in revenue she hadn't noticed the turn off from the avenue."

"As always, her home enfolded her in its comfortable atmosphere of security from every assault of adversity by virtue of the solid wealth upon which it was founded, that world of comfortable whole into which two great fortunes had been fused by her marriage with Bellamy."

"In the library she lingered a long minute purposely searching the prohibition. No, it wasn't that, it was the fact established by long observation that Bel seldom drank more than he could manage gracefully unless on the verge of some new gallantry. Bel assuredly didn't need anything to stimulate his enterprise. She fancied it must be because alcohol served as a sort of anesthetic for his conscience."

"She had a smile transiently bitter. The most feathery-headed irresponsible of philanthropists the most incorrigible between whiles the most contrite."

"His fits of penitence were terribly real when she caught him misbehaving. Or was that too merely part of the game with Bel? Was it just a conventional gambit to make believe repentance and promise faithfully never never to be naughty again?"

"She discovered that the car was already at a standstill. Immured in revenue she hadn't noticed the turn off from the avenue."

"As always, her home enfolded her in its comfortable atmosphere of security from every assault of adversity by virtue of the solid wealth upon which it was founded, that world of comfortable whole into which two great fortunes had been fused by her marriage with Bellamy."

"In the library she lingered a long minute purposely searching the prohibition. No, it wasn't that, it was the fact established by long observation that Bel seldom drank more than he could manage gracefully unless on the verge of some new gallantry. Bel assuredly didn't need anything to stimulate his enterprise. She fancied it must be because alcohol served as a sort of anesthetic for his conscience."

"She had a smile transiently bitter. The most feathery-headed irresponsible of philanthropists the most incorrigible between whiles the most contrite."

"His fits of penitence were terribly real when she caught him misbehaving. Or was that too merely part of the game with Bel? Was it just a conventional gambit to make believe repentance and promise faithfully never never to be naughty again?"

Starts With 20 Cattle; Has 22 When Trip Ends

Lester Riesenweber, Ellington, qualified as a bird-man put excel lence

Last week Mr. Riesenweber left Appleton with a carload of 20 grade Guernseys consigned to C. W. I. M. Jensen at Hereford, Cal. When he reached his destination he had 22 grade Guernseys.

Three calves were born on the trip and two of them survived.

The cattle were purchased in Ellington and surrounding towns by E. G. Reed of Denver. A large number of cattle are being shipped out of Outagamie Co. to western farms and ranches this year.

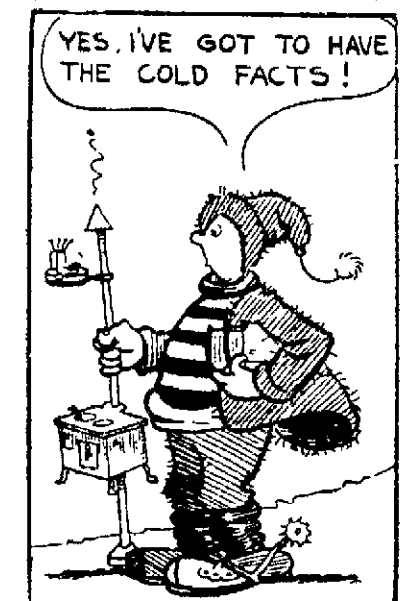

COTTAGES ARE PLANNED FOR BEACHES AT LAKE

Notwithstanding the high water in Lake Winnebago several Neenah and Menasha people are planning to build cottages at Brighton beach this spring and intend to get the material on the ground as soon as they can get to their lots. The water is receding daily and is now almost back to its usual shore line. The barriade of ice which at one time was nearly 30 feet high and which damaged some of the cottages has practically disappeared.

Moves to Appleton

Charles Rogers who has been living in Black Creek has rented his farm in that town and has moved on the property owned by his father, Mr. Rogers, on the Backus road. Mr. Rogers will build a new house and barn on the place this year.

THE NUT BROTHERS (Ches & Wal)

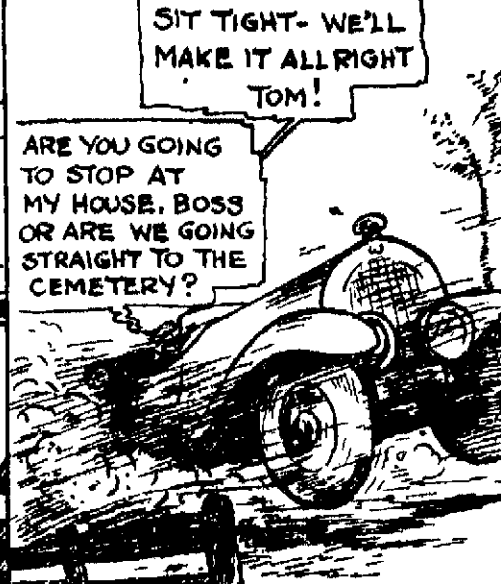

THE OLD HOME TOWN

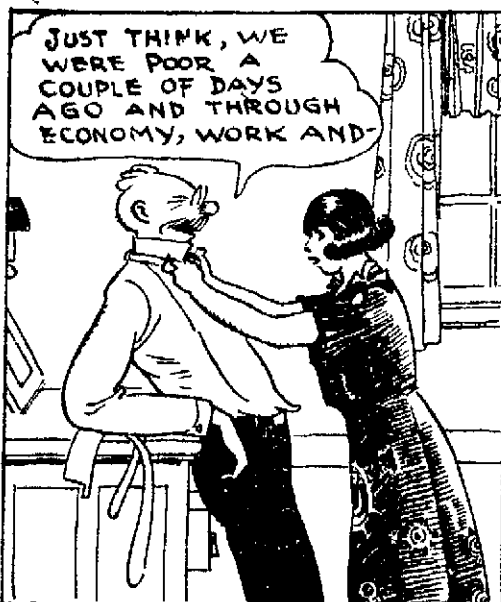

ANUMBER OF OUR CITIZENS VISITED THE FAMOUS PROF. TARAZZA, LOCATED IN THE OLD BENNER BLOCK ON MAIN ST

DOINGS OF THE DUFFS

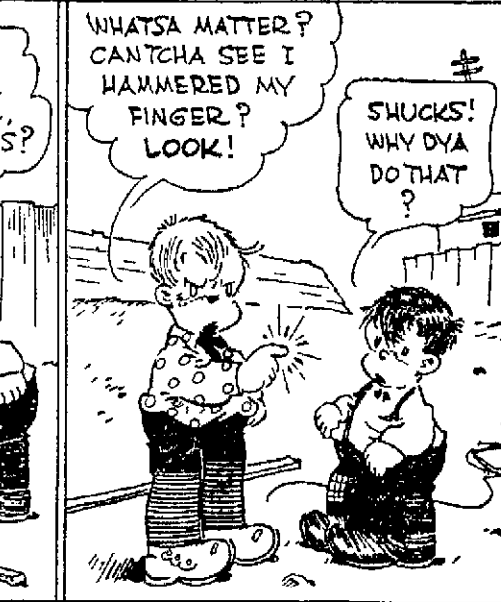

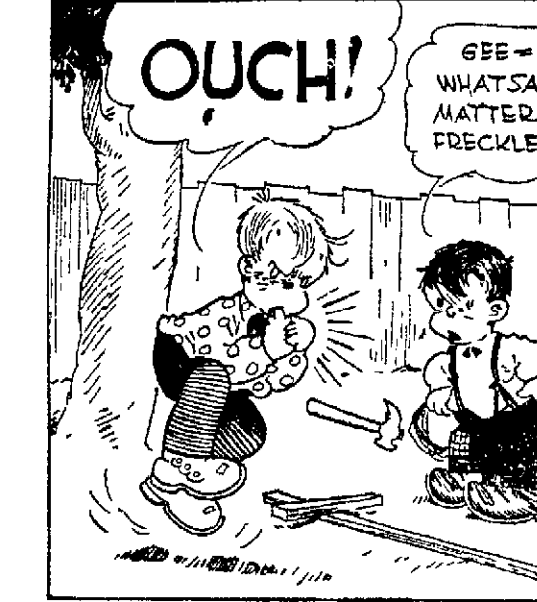

THE BICKER FAMILY

Bick Gets Aristocratic Quickly

By SATTERFIELD

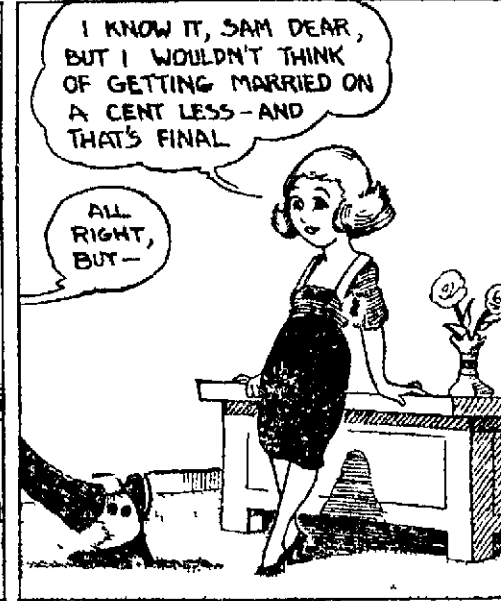

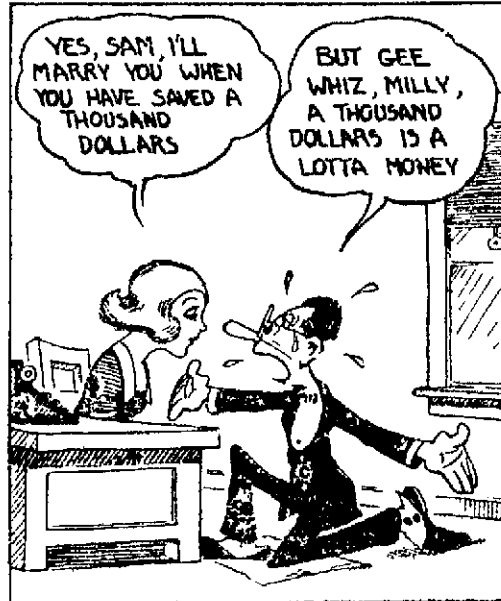

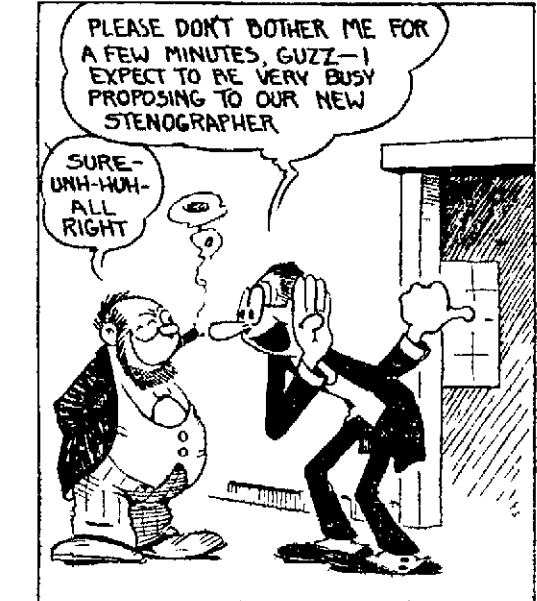

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Safety First

By BLOSSER

SALESMAN SAM

FICTION

A PAGE OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

RECIPES

WOMEN LIVE MORE INTENSELY THAN MEN, WRITER SAYS

Noted French Authoress of War Verse is Visiting in New York

Jean Parigot, France's war poet author of "Flowers of the Trenches," "The Poilu" and many other songs and verses has come to America. She is now in New York.

And this Jean is a vital, brown-eyed auburn-haired woman, instead of the man her name leads one to expect.

Her name really is Marie Louise Valmalette and she did not write or think of poetry or song until her son was killed in the war.

And then another son was killed. And then her husband. And last of all her daughter died from an illness growing out of war service.

"I have suffered," says Madame Parigot, "and when one suffers one is forced to self-expression else the weight of her burden must destroy its bearer."

"I took a masculine name when I began writing because I did not want to create an atmosphere of cheap sentimentalism about myself and my songs and verses for soldiers."

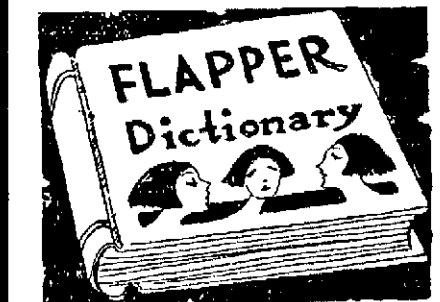

HER FACE TRAGIC
"But" and Madame smiled. Her smiles are rare. Her face is rather tragic much of the time an impression heightened by her unusual coloring.

But she repeated "I should rather be a woman for one little day than be a man a million years."

Ah, yes! Women suffer more because their sensibilities are finer more delicate.

"But as they suffer more they come to know life better they live more intensely. A woman lives more in one hour than a man lives in a day. That is why I should rather be a woman."

In spite of repeated requests to do so, Madame Parigot has rarely appeared in public until recently. Her refusal was due to the fact that she did not wish to reveal herself as a woman.

KLIPPY — Like the Frogs Eve browns—nut and nice

LALAPAZAZA — A good sport

LAMP POST — Any noticeable piece of jewelry

LENS OF SE — A person given to monopolizing the conversation

LOH — A dumb trick

LOLLY VOGUE — A Bell Polisher

LOVE LETTER — A flapper with unkempt bobbed hair

LOW LID — The opposite of a High Blow

MAD MONEY — Flapper's cure for home in case of a Flat Shoe

ORIGHT — With her Goo!

MONOG — A young person of either sex who is Goo! about only one person at a time

Tomorrow from "Mooch" to "Over dose"

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY

Today's word is CREDULOUS

It is pronounced—kred-you-lus, with accent on the last syllable.

It means—inclined to believe apt to believe on slight evidence, easily imposed upon, gullible.

It comes from Latin "credere," to believe.

Companion word—credulity.

It is used like this—Those who promote wild stock schemes prey on credulous persons.

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED

You will not use your knife to distribute salt on your food.

You will not smack your lips together when chewing.

You will not pick your teeth any where in public.

NOTICE

The week of May 8th to 13th, inclusive, is designated as "CLEAN UP WEEK."

All rubbish and ashes will be hauled by the Street Department, "provided," that same is placed on or near curb line in boxes, barrels or other containers, convenient for men to handle while loading.

Any rubbish not in containers will not be taken. May 13th is the last day for placing on curb and only one trip will be made along the street for this service.

Also, all parties now having ashes or rubbish on streets, not in containers and who do not care to avail themselves of this service, are hereby notified to remove same during the week of 8th to 13th.

OSCAR F. WEISSGERBER, Street Commissioner.

DUCHESS AND ROSE POINT FOR TRIMMING

(CENTER) LACE GREEN CRISP ROMAIN NEGLIGEE FROM MILLER PARIS ORNAMENTED WITH STEEL NAIL HEADS. THE TWO SHIPS (ON EITHER SIDE) WHICH COMBINE ARE COMBINATIONS OF FILLET AND DUCHESS AND FILLET AND ROSE POINT

BY MARIAN HALE

Brides and an array of bridal finery.

The approach of June would be quite as colorful without the flurry of wedding preparations as it would be without the promise of its roses.

The world of bridal appointments is abuzz and abuzz with new ideas, new fabrics, new designs. Loveliest this ever.

Designers with fertile brain and lavish hand have turned their art to America, agree that the bridal negligee shall be as light in tint as it is in weight. Leave the deep rich tones and black to the matrons.

COLORS

Lace green, rose of a pale ash tint, mauve and white are good.

With trimming the June bride may go as far as she likes, however some of the cleverest of gowns designed for hours of rest are quite plain.

For the slips worn directly under the wedding gown fashion, corsairs offer fillet combined with rose point or duchess lace.

With the demands which must be made upon it by the wearing of various types of gowns and suits the bride who cannot be lavish in her expenditures finds that part of her planning which deals with undergarments no simple thing.

The well-fitted bride who can spend only moderately must have groups of half dozens at least.

HER OUTFIT

Knickerbockers should not be considered for the summer wardrobe. Knowing this but realizing the value of the trimness of that type of undergarment, manufacturers have given us a garment of glove silk with a knicker top and loose knee.

These should be two pairs of these with the trim vests, which are worn with them for the bridal outfit. These of course are for wear with tailored clothing demanding the flat back which is to be even more pronounced this fall and winter than it is now.

Voile is an excellent fabric for the three combinations to be worn under fluffier frocks for afternoon and strictly summer wear. For the sixth suit a part of the wedding outfit proper the bride may let her fancy deal as it will with silks and ribbon.

There should be at least six or eight, preferably white. One white silk crepe and one dark silk petticoat is plenty in this perturbationless day.

Of stockings there should be a plentiful supply at least a dozen pairs. If economy is really a point of value then black is the better choice. There should be two pairs of black or white with open clothing to be worn with the dinner gown or dancing frock.

One pair to be worn on the wedding day must be white but the remainder must be black.

One pair of round elastic must be included in her outfit. These for the hours she spends in negligee. In spite of the beauty of the fine lous pinks and whites, as they appear in the show case she will find that black is much more effective at her choice of stockings.

One pair to be worn on the wedding day must be white but the remainder must be black.

One pair of round elastic must be included in her outfit. These for the hours she spends in negligee. In spite of the beauty of the fine lous pinks and whites, as they appear in the show case she will find that black is much more effective at her choice of stockings.

One pair to be worn on the wedding day must be white but the remainder must be black.

One pair of round elastic must be included in her outfit. These for the hours she spends in negligee. In spite of the beauty of the fine lous pinks and whites, as they appear in the show case she will find that black is much more effective at her choice of stockings.

One pair to be worn on the wedding day must be white but the remainder must be black.

One pair of round elastic must be included in her outfit. These for the hours she spends in negligee. In spite of the beauty of the fine lous pinks and whites, as they appear in the show case she will find that black is much more effective at her choice of stockings.

One pair to be worn on the wedding day must be white but the remainder must be black.

One pair of round elastic must be included in her outfit. These for the hours she spends in negligee. In spite of the beauty of the fine lous pinks and whites, as they appear in the show case she will find that black is much more effective at her choice of stockings.

One pair to be worn on the wedding day must be white but the remainder must be black.

One pair of round elastic must be included in her outfit. These for the hours she spends in negligee. In spite of the beauty of the fine lous pinks and whites, as they appear in the show case she will find that black is much more effective at her choice of stockings.

One pair to be worn on the wedding day must be white but the remainder must be black.

One pair of round elastic must be included in her outfit. These for the hours she spends in negligee. In spite of the beauty of the fine lous pinks and whites, as they appear in the show case she will find that black is much more effective at her choice of stockings.

One pair to be worn on the wedding day must be white but the remainder must be black.

One pair of round elastic must be included in her outfit. These for the hours she spends in negligee. In spite of the beauty of the fine lous pinks and whites, as they appear in the show case she will find that black is much more effective at her choice of stockings.

One pair to be worn on the wedding day must be white but the remainder must be black.

One pair of round elastic must be included in her outfit. These for the hours she spends in negligee. In spite of the beauty of the fine lous pinks and whites, as they appear in the show case she will find that black is much more effective at her choice of stockings.

One pair to be worn on the wedding day must be white but the remainder must be black.

One pair of round elastic must be included in her outfit. These for the hours she spends in negligee. In spite of the beauty of the fine lous pinks and whites, as they appear in the show case she will find that black is much more effective at her choice of stockings.

One pair to be worn on the wedding day must be white but the remainder must be black.

One pair of round elastic must be included in her outfit. These for the hours she spends in negligee. In spite of the beauty of the fine lous pinks and whites, as they appear in the show case she will find that black is much more effective at her choice of stockings.

One pair to be worn on the wedding day must be white but the remainder must be black.

One pair of round elastic must be included in her outfit. These for the hours she spends in negligee. In spite of the beauty of the fine lous pinks and whites, as they appear in the show case she will find that black is much more effective at her choice of stockings.

One pair to be worn on the wedding day must be white but the remainder must be black.

One pair of round elastic must be included in her outfit. These for the hours she spends in negligee. In spite of the beauty of the fine lous pinks and whites, as they appear in the show case she will find that black is much more effective at her choice of stockings.

One pair to be worn on the wedding day must be white but the remainder must be black.

One pair of round elastic must be included in her outfit. These for the hours she spends in negligee. In spite of the beauty of the fine lous pinks and whites, as they appear in the show case she will find that black is much more effective at her choice of stockings.

One pair to be worn on the wedding day must be white but the remainder must be black.

One pair of round elastic must be included in her outfit. These for the hours she spends in negligee. In spite of the beauty of the fine lous pinks and whites, as they appear in the show case she will find that black is much more effective at her choice of stockings.

One pair to be worn on the wedding day must be white but the remainder must be black.

OUR FIRST YEAR

Chapter 28 — My Popular Man

By a Bride

Jack is a popular man and I am awfully proud of him. He's handsome—he has manner—and more than that, he has charm. All the girls feel it. And he doesn't seem to know.

It's impossible to ignore the fact that being married doesn't keep people from flirting nowadays. But my Jack moves among women as smoothly as elegantly, as coldly as a king on a chess board. The married girls can spend hours with him without making their men jealous.

That has made us very popular for week-end motor trips. I've welcomed these trips because we can't possibly afford a vacation so soon after our honeymoon.

Jack has tried to show me that these week-end excursions cost as much as a vacation all by ourselves for he stands his share by taking the checks at restaurants and hotels.

After Jack had figured a little, I hadn't the courage to tell him how much my motor togs had cost. I thought the best thing was to have them charged. The suit case to fit a car was $50. We couldn't be seen at the smart places with smart people unless we had spiffy clothes and mine were just as good as Mrs. Smith's all though she spent twice as much as I.

My hat cost me only $15 and Mrs. Smith's cost $37.50. I always try to be economical. One has to on our salary of $2,500 a year.

We could get along very nicely on our budget if it were not for our bills. When the bill for my motor hat came I hated to show it to Jack. He looked woefully tired and so I added that bill to the pile in my waiting desk. I remember I put it on top of the milk bill. And life has moved so fast I all but forgot those envelopes, until they came in again the next month. It was annoying for then I had two milk bills which I ought to have paid out of my housekeeping money.

Business isn't going very well with Jack. Commissions simply don't exist. And so we are compelled to live on his salary somehow. That's why I haven't let him know what I've had charged. I intend to as soon as my adorable davenport is paid for. I know Jack will be perfectly love it as always, when I show him what has been necessary for me to buy.

Jack always understands never glooms nor grouches and so it's his feelings I worry most about. I think every bride should study her husband's feelings and not hurt them carelessly. Men are a lot more sensitive than some girls think and Jack is far more sensitive than most men.

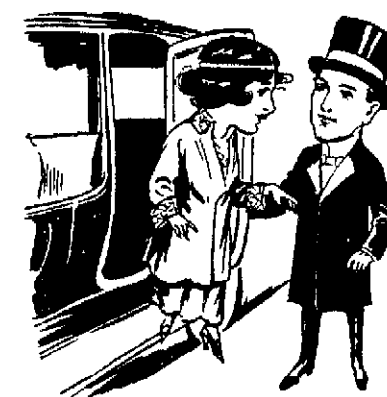

He likes to stick to his principles. Since he resolved not to break into his savings the $1000 he put away before we were married which he calls his wife's safety fund I know he will manage somehow to get all my accounts balanced without disturbing his savings.

(To be continued)

SPORT SUITS

The popular sport suits for the present season run strongly to chills and camel's hair cloth. They have received the stamp of approval by buyers.

PHONE 306

For New BUICK Limousines at Your Service

Weddings Funerals

WATCH US GROW!

A Good School
740
Col. Ave.

A Safe School
Phone
1610

NORTHERN TRANSPORTATION CO.

Daily Motor Express Between GREEN BAY AND FOND DU LAC

Agents

Fond du Lac Oshkosh
Neenah & Menasha
Appleton
Kaukauna
Green Bay

Stations

De France Freight Line
Webster Express Line
Wheeler Transfer Co.
W. C. Belling
No Agent, Call Kaukauna or Appleton
Paul Pagel
Main Office
100 W. Walnut

PHONE 105

FOR IMMEDIATE TAXI SERVICE
BUS AND BAGGAGE TRANSFER

Mohawk
Tires

"Always to Please"

Storage Warehouse

SMITH LIVERY

Have You A Goitre?

Then Chiropractic is What You Need

MARY. L. GRIFFIN

Chiropractor and Electro Therapist

ABOVE KAMPS JEWELRY STORE

Phone 796

Appetizers

HTL clever cook will often spend more time and thought on her first course than on the rest of the dinner. If the appetite is tempted and the desire for food awakened the meal is sure to taste good.

Appetizers may be simple or elaborate but they must be attractive.

STUFFED EGGS

Allow half an egg for each serving.

Two eggs, 1 scant teaspoon on chovy paste, 1 dessertspoon vinegar, 110 teaspoon mustard, 2 table-spoons melted butter, 1 dessertspoon chopped pimento, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, head lettuce, parsley.

Cover eggs with boiling water and let stand just below the bubbling point for half hour. Pour off hot water and let stand until cool in cold water. Remove shells and cut in half crosswise.

Turn off enough of the round end of the whites to make the halves stand evenly. Put the yolks in a bowl with the anchovy paste, vinegar, mustard, butter, pimento, salt and pepper and work with a silver fork till perfectly smooth and creamy.

Pile the mixture in the whites, garnish with a tiny sprig of parsley and serve on a small leaf of head lettuce.

Allow half an egg for each person to be served. Allow one yolk to each egg.

Hard-boiled eggs, sautéed mayonnaise, matchlike strips of pimento, head lettuce.

Cut eggs in halves lengthwise. Remove skin and bones from sautéed. Work yolks and sautéed together in a bowl with a silver fork till smooth. Add enough mayonnaise to make moist and creamy.

Fill whites with mixture and top with about one-half teaspoon of mayonnaise. Garnish with strips of pimento and serve on a small leaf of lettuce.

Sautéed can be covered with oil and kept in a covered bowl in a cool place for several days. The oil may be used in cold salads for greens, vegetables or plum lettuce. Do not try to use this oil for a fruit salad dressing.

Pimentos may be covered with weak vinegar and kept in a cool place for a week. So while these rules use a very little of certain canned delicacies there need be no waste.

scaly matter at the very surface and thus allows the soft lustrous surface to appear again. This preparation is very new and particularly helpful where professional care is not practical.

Any clearing process of this sort should be used at night and followed with an application of cream.

It is better then not to apply water in the morning. Use a cream in cleansing and give the face a light dusting of powder.

In the evening when one wishes a more brilliant makeup the face should once more be cleansed with cream followed by an emollient. A light application of an emollient cream should follow if the skin is quite dry and the then serves as a basis for the rouge and powder.

It is usually wiser to use the same rouge for the lips one uses on the face. However, a little experiment along this line is a good thing. If the paste rouge you use on your face does not take well on your lips then try a liquid for the latter.

Very often the liquid rouge achieves a more natural look on the lips, while paste is easiest and best for the ordinary skin surface.

Suffers For 20 Years Yet
Keeps Smile

Memphis — The most cheerful patient we've ever had.

This is how physicians and nurses at St. Joseph's hospital here describe Mrs. Anti Harbaugh.

Mrs. Harbaugh is slowly dying in the charity ward. She has been a hopeless cripple for 20 years.

In that time she never taken a drug to alleviate pain. She forgot her own pain by cheering others.

Twenty years ago Mrs. Harbaugh was the pretty, graceful, bespangled aerial queen of one of the world's greatest circuses.

One day, on a trapeze she lost her hold and crashed to the ground. She has been paralyzed ever since.

And still the rosiest floral decoration is popular. A single large flower with a trailing spray is used extensively.

FLLOWERS

And still the rosiest floral decoration is popular. A single large flower with a trailing spray is used extensively.

FLLOWERS

And still the rosiest floral decoration is popular. A single large flower with a trailing spray is used extensively.

FLLOWERS

And still the rosiest floral decoration is popular. A single large flower with a trailing spray is used extensively.

FLLOWERS

And still the rosiest floral decoration is popular. A single large flower with a trailing spray is used extensively.

FLLOWERS

And still the rosiest floral decoration is popular. A single large flower with a trailing spray is used extensively.

FLLOWERS

And still the rosiest floral decoration is popular. A single large flower with a trailing spray is used extensively.

FLLOWERS

And still the rosiest floral decoration is popular. A single large flower with a trailing spray is used extensively.

FLLOWERS

And still the rosiest floral decoration is popular. A single large flower with a trailing spray is used extensively.

LACE JABOTS
Lace jabots are returning to favor and the Medici collar holds its own in popularity.

BUTTONS
The most recent run of dress buttons run about half and half between fancy bone and cloth covered ones.

Good Evening!
GLOUDEMANS
-GAGE CO.

3 Cans Old
DUTCH

Everybody knows Old Dutch. Chases Dirt. Note this new low price—three cans for 25¢

10 lbs. Table
SALT

This salt comes in 10 pound bags. It will pay you to supply your needs at this price, 10 lbs for 25¢

1.65 Gallon
CATSUP

Made from whole ripe tomatoes packed in one gallon glass jars and is a real bargain at 1.24

Creamery
BUTTER

The famous Bonnie Gold Creamery Butter made from choice selected cream, at the pound

37¢

*A City is only as clean as its homes.
Clean up your yard and home this week.*

CLEAN UP!

Clean-Up and Paint-Up

We try at all times to carry a line of Pai. A good Paint can not be bought for less. Quality has always been our first thought. t more can be paid for paint that will not money than we are selling our Paint for, bu or wear longer. have as good covering or spreading capacitynts that can not be beaten in quality and PATEK Paint does not deep-crack or peel, it has real white lead and zinc in it and made to wear and last. It will cost as much to apply poor paint as good — Why not apply the good?

PATEK'S Highest Quality Wearproof House Paints goes further to the gallon; lasts longer. 20 shades.

1 gallon	$3.00
1/2 gallon	$1.60
Quart	85c

PATEK'S Kitchencote, the new high gloss Inside Paint. Covers well and has lasting qualities. In ten shades.

1 gallon cans	$2.75
1/2 gallon cans	$1.45
1 quart	75c

Chi-Namel Varnishes and Stains. There is no need of us speaking of the quality of this line — once used, always used. All we have to say is that the price has been reduced.

Dutch Boy or Red Seal White Lead. This is recognized by all Appleton as the best in Lead.

100 lb. kegs	$13.25
50 lb. pails	$6.90
25 lb. pails	$3.50
12 1/2 lb. pails	$1.85

Strictly Pure Linseed Oil, in bulk.

1 gallon	$1.25
1/2 gallon	65c
Quarts	35c

PATEK'S Matteote, the flat wall finish that is used so much this spring. We have it in 24 beautiful shades.

1 gallon cans	$2.75
1/2 gallon cans	$1.45
1 quart	75c

PATEK'S Floor Paint. Made to walk—and can be washed; not the kind that washes off.

gallon cans	$2.75
1/2 gallon cans	$1.45
Quarts	75c

Kalsomine—Schroeder - Whitticks. This is not known by any fancy names but is a Wall Coating that is made by an old established concern—goes further the pound and does not come off easily.

Each	15c
5 lb. packages	65c

Dutch Boy Linseed Oil. Comes in sealed cans and is put up for those that want a clean, pure Linseed Oil.

5 gallon cans	$6.50
1 gallon cans	$1.35

Pure Gum spirits of Turpentine in bulk. We carry only the pure and no substitutes.

1 gallon	$1.35
1/2 gallon	70c
Quarts	35c

HAUERT HARDWARE CO.

"WHERE QUALITY IS GIVEN FIRST THOUGHT"

Telephone 185

877 College Avenue

Clean-Up and Paint-Up

This is the week set aside for all good citizens to Clean-Up and Paint-Up all their houses and buildings. Don't you be laggard — Make your property a better looking place.

Paint-Up Your Car
with "Effecto"

Just one coat of this Enamel will make your car like new.

61 Floor Varnish

A good Varnish for floors or furniture. We carry a complete stock in 8 colors

House Paint

Overland House Paint will put a new and better finish on your house.

A large variety of colors

DECORATE YOUR INTERIOR

Our large stock of Gloss and Interior Flat and Velvet Finish Paint will give you anything you want in interior colors

WE CARRY A FULL LINE OF BRUSHES

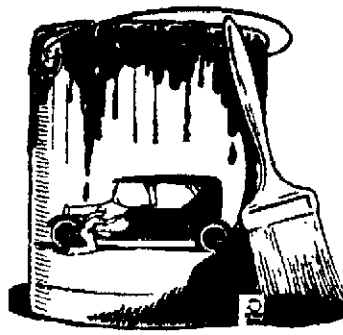

Appleton Roofing & Hdw. Co.

PHONE 1897

947 COLLEGE AVE.

Your Spring Cleaning Needs FOR LESS MONEY

A Guaranteed House Paint, per gallon	$2.15	Lawn Rakes	63c
Armstrong's Floor and Utility Varnish, per gallon	$2.15	Garden Hoe	93c
Black Screen Paint, special per quart	65c	Lawn Mowers from	$7.50 to $18.00
Johnson's Floor Wax, per lb.	80c	Double Curtain Rods, each	19c
Liquid Veneer and O'Cedar		Single Rods	9c
Furniture Polish, 60c size for	48c	Paint Brushes, all sizes and prices, from	25c to $4.00
Garden Rakes	98c	12 quart Galvanized Scrub Pails	19c
Spading Forks	89c	Alabastine, 5 lb. package	65c
		Hand Trowel	40c

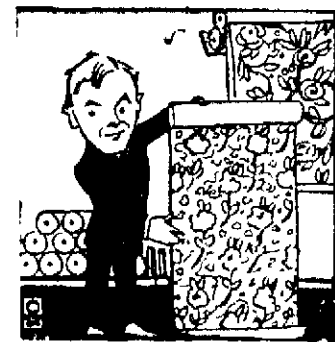

WM. TESCH, HARDWARE

636 Appleton Street

"Make The Home Walls Smile"

Spring is here, and with it the usual "Clean Up," which includes beautifying the home. Decorative hangings with inexpensive, pretty, yet serviceable Wall Paper will contribute largely toward making this home attractive, clean and beautiful.

Our stock of Wall Paper this season is composed of the choicest and most up-to-date patterns obtainable, at unusually lower prices. Let us show you these papers while our stock is complete.

WILLIAM NEHLS

PHONE 452

366 WASHINGTON ST.

"Housecleaning Time— Is Here

Your ROYAL Electric Cleaner takes the lace of carpet-beater, broom and mop and more—It thoroughly cleans your

Upholstered Furniture

No beating—No brushing—Just go over the surface with the ROYAL Extension Tube and you have removed every bit of dust, grit, lint or threads.

Cleans by Air-Alone!

Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat & Power Co.

SOME OF

YOU'LL NEED

Jewell Mixed Paint, a gal.	$3
Domestic Mixed Paint, a gal.	$2
Jewell Wall Paint, a gal.	$2
Adamantine Floor Paint, a gal.	$2
Renuit Varnish Stain, a qt.	2
Wall Paper Cleaner, a can	1
Lawn Mowers from	$8.50
Lawn Rakes	6
Grass Seed, a pkg.	2
Ferry's Seeds, a pkg.	2
Garden Trowels	10c
Garden Cultivators	25c

A-Gal Hardware Co.

P A I N T U P !

Make Appleton a better place to live in, by making your home neat and clean.

"The Fox River Valley, Wiscon... Gift to the World"

Helps For Housecleaning

Lace Curtains that Look Like New

We wash your lace curtains in fleecy suds, and pure soft water. Our modern laundry methods enable us to return your curtains exactly their original size, with scallops even, and all beautifully finished.

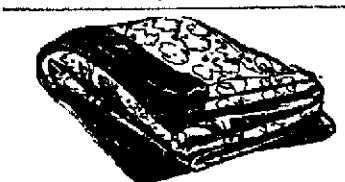

How About those heavy Rag and Woolen Rugs ?

Are you going to struggle with the washing of those heavy rag and woolen rugs this spring? We can launder them for you. Save yourself, and send them to us.

Have your Blankets Washed before Storing

Of course, you will want to have your blankets washed. Why not let us do this laborious work for you? Our way of laundering them saves the nap, and keeps them soft and fleecy.

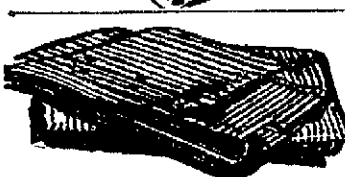

Eiderdown Quilts Laundered Expertly

Our modern washing methods are ideal for your eiderdown quilts, which you will naturally want cleaned before storing. Here is another bit of heavy work that you will find it economical to have us do for you.

And those Motor Rugs?

You can send your motor rugs to us also, to be washed free of the past season's grime and grease. We have special equipment for handling these extra weighty things.

Dress Up Your Car in Fresh Covers

This is the time for clean automobile covers. Before you place them on your car again for the season, send these cumbersome pieces to us to be freshly laundered.

The National Laundry

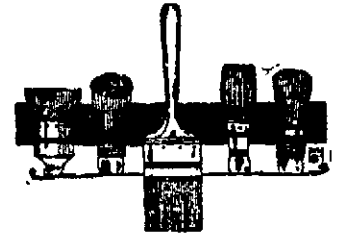

Phone 38

Appleton's Soft Water Laundry

B. P. S.
Paint
Look Into It

GET IN LINE WITH SPRING

Clean Up and Paint Up

Equals Pride---Profit and Health

You profit most by painting with B. P. S. Paint because it is finely ground by special process which means greater durability and costs you less for it covers more surface per gallon and gives you more years of genuine service.

Look Into B. P. S. Paints
$3.25 per gallon

Lawn Mowers to trim up your lawn $9.00 and up
Garden Tools that help make better gardens

Schlafer Hdw. Co.

Special All Week
Good Quality
PAINTS
$2.50 per Gallon

Vacuum Sweeper Special
$45.00

Good Quality
PAINTS
Special for Clean Up Week
$2.50 per Gallon

THE THINGS

THIS SPRING

- Pruning Shears 50c up
- Grass Shears 50c up
- Hedge Shears $2.50 up
- Lawn Edge Trimmers $1.50 and $1.60
- Garden Rakes 50c to $1.10
- Best Moulded Lawn Hose, a foot 15c
- Screen Paint, a qt. 45c
- Adjustable Screens, 10x23 and 24x33 each 60c and 75c
- Steel Tray Wheelbarrows $5.25
- Galvanized Sprinklers 85c up
- Spades, Seeding Forks, Hoes, Etc.

his Sons tail Since 1864

CLEAN UP WITH

New Wall Paper

THAT IS DIFFERENT

Save the Surface of Your Home With Paint

Our Paint is mixed right in our own shop and can be made in any color, that you desire.

WAX AND WAXING BRUSHES
PAINT AND PAINT SUPPLIES

Herrick's Paint & Wall Paper Store

(Next to Fair Store)

745 COLLEGE AVE.

PHONE 3000

YOUR SPRING CLEANING

OF—

COMFORTERS
LACE CURTAINS
RAG RUGS

FEATHER PILLOWS
BLANKETS
SILKS AND LACES

Goes to Appleton's Modern Laundry, of Course

THE PEERLESS

WHERE SOFT WATER IS USED

How Are Your Rugs?

When you are cleaning house this week, let us take all your rugs, curtains and draperies and clean them for you. Only years of experience, and the most modern equipment can clean these articles in the proper way without harming them.

RUGS—CURTAINS—DRAPERIES

Phone 911

BADGER PANTORIUM

CLEANERS AND DYERS

650 APPLETON STREET

APPLETON, WIS.

OSHKOSH DEFEATS APPLETON IN FAST CONTEST

Sawdust City Outfit Downs Brandtmen 1-0 In Practice Battle

Breaks of Game Give Old Rivals Victory; Schultz and Crutcher Hook Up In Great Hurling Duel.

By W. H. Penhallegon.

Oshkosh—"Hank" Schultz and Dick Crutcher hooked up in a great hurling duel here Sunday afternoon but the breaks of the game were with Crutcher and Oshkosh defeated Appleton 1 to 0. A missed judged fly ball to the outfield that went for two bases and an infield error sent the one run of the contest across the pan and gave the Sawdust City team the victory.

Both Schultz and Crutcher were in great form and pitched brilliant baseball. Each yielded five hits, Schultz fanned seven men and walked two while Crutcher sent 10 of August Brandtmen's hired hands back to the bench via the strikeout route and allowed one free pass to first base.

The Oshkosh diamond was a sea of mud at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon but rather than disappoint the fans the Oshkosh management spread sawdust over the infield and the game got underway on a scheduled time.

In spite of the condition of the grounds the players put up a high class exhibition of the national pastime and only seven errors were made. However, the infielders were unable to cover much territory and the base running was slow.

FIRST INNING

Appleton—Luedtke fanned. Beyer fanned. Gaffke tied out to center field. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Oshkosh—Steen was safe at first on Klawitter's error. Wittig was out Schott to Klawitter and Steen went to second on the play. Boettge singled to center and Steen advanced to third. Pochman fanned Steen at third but was safe at first on the fielder's choice. Bodus fanned. No runs, one hit, one error.

SECOND INNING

Appleton—Schott walked. Klawitter laid down a sacrifice hit and was out at first base while Schott went to second. Steen was out at first on Crutcher's error. Boettge advanced to third on the play. Durain fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Oshkosh—Lambrecht singled infield. Runke was safe at first and Lambrecht went to second on Schultz's error. Crutcher dumped the ball in front of the plate but Schott made a bad peg to first and the bases were loaded. Taylor forced Lambrecht at home. Steen fanned. Wittig popped out to Beyer. No runs, one hit, two errors.

THIRD INNING

Appleton—Rommel fanned. Schultz fanned. Luedtke was out at first base Boettge unassisted. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Oshkosh—Boettge was out Schultz to Klawitter. Pochman singled to left. Bodus popped out to Beyer and Pochman was doubled at first. No runs, no hits, no errors.

FOURTH INNING

Appleton—Beyer was out Pochman to Boettge. Gaffke singled to center and went to second on a wild pitch. Schott singled infield and Gaffke went to third. Klawitter fanned. Steen was out Boettge to Crutcher. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Oshkosh—Lambrecht was out Steen to Klawitter. Runke walked. Crutcher singled to center and Runke went to third. Taylor fanned. No runs, one hit, no errors.

FIFTH INNING

Appleton—Durain singled to center. Rommel laid down a sacrifice hit and was out at first while Durain went to second. Schultz was out Pochman to Boettge. Luedtke fanned out to Bodus. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Oshkosh—Steen fanned. Wittig sent a high fly to right but Rommel misjudged the ball and the hit went for two bases. Boettge was out Gaffke to Klawitter and Wittig went to third. Pochman hit a sharp grounder toward third but Steen lost the ball in the sawdust and Wittig scored while Pochman was safe at first. Bodus walked. Lambrecht was out Beyer to Klawitter. One run, one hit, one error.

SIXTH INNING

Appleton—Beyer fanned out to Boettge. Gaffke fanned. Schott fanned out to Bodus. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Oshkosh—Runke fanned out to Luedtke. Crutcher was out Steen to Klawitter. Taylor was out Schott to Klawitter. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING

Appleton—Klawitter fanned out to Bodus. Steen was safe at first on Pochman's error. Durain fanned out to Wittig. Rommel doubled to left and Steen pulled up a third base. Schultz was out Crutcher to Boettge. No runs, one hit, one error.

Oshkosh—Steen fanned. Wittig was out Schott to Klawitter. Boettge was out Steen to Klawitter. No runs, no hits, no errors.

EIGHTH INNING

Appleton—Luedtke was safe at first on Pochman's error. Beyer singled to right but Luedtke went to second Gaffke laid one down in front of the plate but Luedtke was thrown out at third while Beyer went to second on the play. Klawitter fanned. No runs, one hit, one error.

Oshkosh—Lambrecht fanned. Bodus fanned. Lambrecht was out Steen to Klawitter. No runs, no hits, no errors.

NINTH INNING

Appleton—Steen fanned out to Bodus. Durain fanned. Rommel fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Philip Reuter of Milwaukee, is in Appleton visiting his uncle, Mayor Henry Reuter.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Liebel of Menasha, visited Appleton friends Friday.

ORGANIZATION OF PREP CONFERENCE TO BE COMPLETED

Representatives of Eight High Schools Meet at Appleton Monday

Representatives of the eight high schools—Appleton, Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, West Green Bay, East Green Bay, Marinette, Manitowish and Sheboygan—who met in Appleton a month ago and formed an athletic conference, will meet at the Sherman house Monday night to complete organization of the conference. A committee appointed at the last meeting to draft bylaws for the organization will report. It is expected bylaws will be adopted and officers elected at Monday's meeting.

Several schools in the Fox River valley that want berths in the conference will be represented at the meeting and apply for membership. Basketball schedules for next winter will be arranged and football and basketball officials chosen.

Standings

TEAM STANDINGS
AMERICAN ASSOCIATION
	W.	L.	Pct.
Indianapolis	13	7	.650
Minneapolis	12	7	.632
Columbus	13	8	.619
Kansas City	12	10	.545
Milwaukee	11	10	.524
St. Paul	9	10	.474
Louisville	8	12	.400
Toledo	3	17	.150
AMERICAN LEAGUE
	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	15	7	.682
St. Louis	14	8	.636
Cleveland	11	10	.524
Boston	9	9	.500
Chicago	10	10	.500
Philadelphia	9	11	.450
Washington	8	14	.364
Detroit	7	14	.333
NATIONAL LEAGUE
	W.	L.	Pct.
New York	16	4	.800
Chicago	12	7	.632
St. Louis	12	8	.600
Brooklyn	10	9	.526
Pittsburg	10	10	.500
Philadelphia	6	11	.353
Cincinnati	7	16	.304
Boston	5	13	.278

GREEN BAY HURLER INJURED IN GAME

Throws Arm Out of Place and May Be Out for Season — Bays Lose

Green Bay — Kinney, Green Bay's pitching ace and former big leaguer, may be out of the game for the season. He threw his arm out of place in the eighth inning of the game against the Wisconsin News team of Milwaukee here Sunday and it is feared he will be unable to pitch again this season.

Wisconsin News defeated Green Bay 7 to 4. The Bays had the Milwaukee lead 4 to 3 until Kinney injured his arm when Williams went in the box and his offerings were batted to all corners of the lot. Score: Milwaukee .3 0 0 0 0 0 4 0—7 9 3 Green Bay .3 0 0 0 0 1 0 0—4 12 4 Batteries: Kettner, Williams and Ansell; Kenney, Williams and Thornton.

FONDY BEATS WAUSAU

Wausau — The Fond du Lac team of the Fox River valley league defeated the Wausau Lumberjacks here Sunday, 3 to 2. Schneider pitched for Fond du Lac and Smith caught. Clark and Klingbeil worked for Wausau.

KAUKAUNA WINS

Kaukauna — Kaukauna smashed the ball to all corners of the lot here Sunday and defeated Menominee, 20 to 9. Score: Menominee 3 0 1 2 1 0 0 0—7 9 4 Kaukauna 3 0 3 0 5 5 4 0—20 20 5 Batteries: Krennsky, Evans, DeLorme and O'Connor; Murphy and Davey, Stegeman.

MENASHA WINS

Menasha — Menasha, star hurler, was knocked out of the box in two innings here Sunday in the game with the Malleable Iron Works club of Milwaukee but Menasha won, 7 to 5. Smith went on the mound in the second frame and held the Milwaukee team safe for the remainder of the game.

IF THIS PLAY COMES UP

Here's Your Decision

When a pitcher is announced to start a game, or is sent into the game to relieve some other pitcher, he must pitch until the first batsman is either retired or reaches first base. Then, if the manager of the team in the field desires to remove him from the game, he has such a right.

BOYS AT "Y" TO OBSERVE "BRING A FRIEND" DAY

"Bring a friend day" will be observed in the boys' division of the Y. M. C. A. next Saturday as more Appleton youths may acquaint themselves with the association building and its activities.

Each member of the junior and grade school groups will be instructed to bring to the gymnasium class one of his boy friends who is not a member of the "Y." The visitor will be permitted to take part in the exercises and games and will be treated to a swim in the pool.

LIONS ARE WINNERS IN BOYS' CONTEST AT "Y"

Lions group of the younger grade school boys of the Y. M. C. A. can't be touched with a 10-foot pole now. They won first place in a contest conducted since February among four groups, with a score of 106 points.

The Tigers came second with 68 points. Cubs third with 65 points and Devil Dogs fourth with 52 points. The ratings were made on a basis of attendance, appearance, basketball and relay proficiency.

LEWIS DEFEATS BIG AUSTRIAN

Champion Downs Grandovich With Headlock After 58 Minutes of Grappling

Oshkosh—Ed (Strangler) Lewis, world's heavyweight champion wrestler, defeated John Grandovich of Austria here Saturday night in a finish match. Lewis downed the fighter with a headlock after 58 minutes of wrestling. The grip-wrestler Grandovich unconscious and the big Austrian was unable to come back for the second fall.

Grandovich gave Lewis a terrific battle. He had the champion in a clinch after 20 minutes of wrestling with a tie hold and again after 35 minutes of grappling with a wrist lock but the title holder was able to break away after hard struggles.

BARNES PITCHES NO-HIT CONTEST AGAINST PHILS

Veteran Twirler Hurls Giants to Victory Over Philadelphia

New York—Jesse Barnes, veteran pitcher of the New York Nationals, almost duplicated the perfect game pitched by Charles Robertson of the Chicago Americans just a week ago, when he pitched a hitless game on Sunday against the Philadelphia team, the Giants winning, 6 to 0.

Only one base on balls marred Barnes' great performance. Williams being the recipient of the pass at the start of the fifth inning. Only twenty-seven men faced Barnes as in Robertson's game. Only four balls were hit to the outfield.

The Giants won the game in the early innings on the wildness and ineffectiveness of Meadows. Kelly led the New York attack with two doubles and a single. Score: Philadelphia .0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 0 0 New York .2 3 0 0 1 0 0 0—6 9 0 Batteries: Meadows, Smith and Henline; Barnes and Smith.

BRVES BEAT DODGERS

Brooklyn—Powell's home run in the ninth inning after two men were out gave Boston a 4 to 3 victory over Brooklyn Sunday. Score: Pittsburgh .4 4 0 3 0 0 0 0—11 12 2 Boston .1 2 1 0 0 0 0 0—4 10 1 Brooklyn .0 0 0 0 0 2 0 1—3 9 0 Batteries: Watson and O'Neill; Vance and Hurling.

PIRATES DOWN CUBS

Chicago—Pittsburg hit Alexander, Jones and Cheever hard here Sunday and easily defeated Chicago, 11 to 5. Score: Pittsburg .4 4 0 3 0 0 0 0—11 12 2 Chicago .1 0 3 0 0 0 0 1—5 8 0 Batteries: Carlson and Gorb; Alexander, Jones, Cheever, Osborne and O'Farrell.

WHITE SOX WIN FROM TIGER CLUB

Detroit—Bib Falk's home in the ninth inning with Hooper on base gave Chicago victory over Detroit here Sunday, 3 to 7. Alfred Kenning, a 65 year old Detroit fan, dropped dead while cheering Cobb in the seventh inning when the Tiger leader hit a home run. Score: Chicago .1 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—9 12 1 Detroit .0 0 1 0 0 3 0 0—7 13 3 Batteries: Faber and Schalk; Daus, Cole, Oldham and Bassler.

BROWNS TRIM INDIANS

Cleveland—St. Louis defeated Cleveland here Sunday, 10 to 7, in a free hitting game. Score: St. Louis .0 5 0 2 0 0 3 0—10 14 0 Cleveland .0 0 2 0 0 2 0 1—7 16 2 Batteries: Kolp, VanGilder and Severeid; Mails, Morton, Bagby, Keefe and O'Neil.

YANKS STOP SENATORS

Washington—James Gage, Washington only two hits here Sunday and the Yankees defeated the Senators, 8 to 1. Score: New York .0 4 2 0 1 0 0 1—8 14 1 Washington .0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—2 2 1 Batteries: Jones and Devomer; Phillips, Brillhart and Ghartry.

Finds Fl-hing Good

Frank S. Andrews of Kaukauna, returned Thursday from a five day trout fishing trip on Nine Mile creek, near Hollister, Wis., and showed several of his friends in Appleton that he was able to catch the "limit" in spite of the swift and swollen stream. He was successful in getting some fine specimens of speckled trout, several weighing up to one and half and one a three quarters pounds. The roads he traveled are in fairly good condition, he said.

PREPARE YOUR FLOORS FOR SUMMER

This is the time of year when floor coverings should be taken up. Nothing will give your rooms a cooler and more inviting appearance than having the floors bare during the hot weather.

Perhaps your floors need refinishing. Do you realize that you can do this work yourself by following a few simple instructions? Experts of the Federal Government have made a thorough study of the subject of suitable floors and floor finishes. The results of their investigations are embodied in a 36-page booklet of great value to home builders and homeowners.

This is a free Government publication. Our Washington Information Bureau will secure a copy for any of our readers who fills out and mails the coupon below, enclosing two cents in stamps for return postage. Be sure to write your name and address clearly on the lines of the coupon.

Frederic J. Haskin Director, The National Post-Consumer Information Bureau, Washington, D. C.

I enclose herewith two cents in stamps for return postage on a free copy of the booklet "Floors and Floor Coverings."

Name

Street

City

State

5 ARRESTS MADE BY POLICEWOMAN

Mrs. Mildred H. Gardner's First Month is Busy One Among Women and Girls

Fourteen arrests were made by the entire department in April, Chief Prine's report shows, for ten varieties of offenses. One arrest was made each for larceny, jumping board bills, driving an automobile while intoxicated, reckless driving, having moonshine in possession and obtaining money under false pretenses. There were two arrests each for statutory offenses, speeding and failure to support. Three cases of drunkenness went to trial.

One-hundred twenty calls were answered by the "Black Maria" with a month's mileage of 665. The ambulance was out four times.

Puritan MALT EXTRACT

AT ANY STORE

The Richest Malt Extract Made

Distributed by Joannes Bros. Co. Green Bay, Wis.

Record Breaker 10c

Perfectos 2 for 25c

Light a Harvester

We ask no man to try Harvester on our say-so. Harvester speaks for itself. It's a cigar, men—a real one.

The Harvester Cigar is made by Consolidated Cigar Corporation New York

Distributed by Lewis-Leidersdorf Co. Milwaukee, Wis.

Just Think A Smoke That's Guaranteed

MI-WAUKI CIGARS

When you buy a smoke, and lay your dime on the counter, it sure is gratifying to know that your cigar is guaranteed to have all those smooth, smoking qualities that every smoker demands.

Just blow in and ask your dealer for a MI-WAUKI. You'll enjoy that smoke at home, on the street, at the office, in fact anywhere.

Ask your dealer for them. If he hasn't any in stock, ask him to order some for you.

PARIS has become the "buy" word for garters the world over, because a pair of PARIS Garters assures the purchaser at least 3000 Hours of Solid Comfort for 35c.

Single Grips 35c and up. Double Grips 50c and up. More than ever are wearing PARIS Garters in silk at 50c and up. Have you tried them?

A. STEIN & COMPANY

Children's HICKORY Cane Chicago

PARIS GARTERS

NO METAL CAN TOUCH YOU

Paris Garters work for you 16 hours a day 35c and up

SCHAEFER BROS.

